H. A. STUART,

Secretary to the Government of India

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 hrs. on Thursday, the 5th August 1909, based on the Indian Daily Weather Reports of the period.

A depression formed at the head of the Bay on the 28th July. It crossed the coast near Balasore on the 31st and advancing in a westnorthwesterly direction was shown lying over Rajputana on the 3rd. It then apparently moved in a northerly direction and disappeared. As the depression was in existence almost throughout the week it was the chief factor in the distribution of the week's rainfall. More rain than usual was received in a broad track of country extending from Orissa to Rajputana and comprising Orissa, the Central Provinces, the west of Central India, Gujarat and Rajputana, while to the north and south of this region rainfall was generally either normal or in defect.

Burma.—Rain fell in all parts of the province. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded and temperature was normal.

Northeast India, including Orissa.—At the beginning of the week rainfall occurred chiefly in the province of Bengal, and during the remaining days in Eastern Bengal and Assam. Skies were moderately clouded. From the 30th July to the 1st August the maximum temperatures reported from Eastern Bengal were somewhat higher than usual.

The United Provinces, Central India and the Central Provinces.—At the beginning and end of the week rain fell in the United Provinces, but during the rest of the week it occurred chiefly in the Central Provinces and Central India. In the last two areas cloud was moderate to heavy; in the United Provinces skies were on most days clear or only lightly clouded. Temperature was normal.

Northwest India.—Local falls of rain occurred in all parts of northwest India, except Baluchistan, and heavy rain was reported from the Aravalli hills on the 30th July and 3rd and 4th August. Skies were on the whole moderately to heavily clouded in the eastern and southern districts of the division and clear or lightly clouded elsewhere. The maximum temperatures reported were in defect on the 30th and 31st July in the Punjab and Rajputana, and on the 4th and 5th August in Rajputana.

The Peninsula.—Rainfall was of daily occurrence on the west coast, but was comparatively light in amount. A few scattered falls occurred in other parts of the peninsula, chiefly in the Bombay Deccan and Hyderabad. Cloud was moderate to heavy on the first three days of the week, but decreased on the 2nd August and on the remaining days skies were only lightly to moderately clouded. Temperature was approximately normal.

The following summarises the chief rainfall amounts of the week, as reported at 8 hrs. each day:—

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 31st July 1909.

Burma.—The rainfall during the week was general and fairly well distributed; it was heavy in Tenasserim and mostly moderate to good elsewhere. Ploughing for the main rice crop has been completed in a few places and sowing and transplanting are in progress. Cultivation of autumn crops continues in Upper Burma. Agricultural operations have been retarded in parts of Prome owing to insufficiency of rain but prospects in Shwebo have been improved by the recent rain. More rain is needed in Minbu, Bhamo, Katha and Sagaing. The condition of crops generally is good except in portions of Katha and Bhamo where they are poor. The price of unhusked rice has risen considerably in one district and slightly in five others; it has fallen considerably in two districts and slightly in another.

Eastern Bengal and Assam.—The weather was generally seasonable in the Chittagong and Dacca divisions but the heat continues in Rajshahi, Cachar and Sylhet. More rain is wanted for transplanting winter rice in Dinajpur, Malda, Sylhet, Cachar, Kamrup, Upper Assam and Manipur. Rain is also wanted in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and the Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Prospects of jute are generally good except jute on low lands which has suffered from floods, specially in Rampur. Cutting and steeping are in progress. Prospects of rice are also generally good but in Barpeta in the Kamrup district the damage done to autumn crops was so great that scarcity is apprehended. Tea is suffering from want of rain. The number on gratuitous relief in Rangpur has fallen to 12. All real scarcity is completely over. The average price of common rice shows no appreciable change. Cattle disease prevails in several districts.

Bengal.—The rainfall during the week was heavy in Cuttack and Sambalpur, moderate in parts of the Presidency division as well as in parts of Birbhum, Midnapore, Shahabad Darjeeling, Balasore, Angul, Ranchi and Palamau, and light elsewhere. Transplantation of winter rice continues but its progress is being retarded in parts of Midnapore and in Burdwan and Hazaribagh for want of sufficient moisture. More rain is wanted in Lower Bengal and also in Champaran, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas and Angul. Sugar-cane, jute and other autumn crops are doing well. Harvesting of jute has commenced in parts of Burdwan, Nadia and Purnea. Insects are still doing injury to jute and autumn paddy in Nadia. The price of common rice has risen in Birbhum, Bankura, Howrah, Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Singhbhum and has fallen in Jessore, Gaya, Shahabad Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Bhagalpur, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas, Angul, Puri, Sambalpur, Palamau and Manbhum. The supply of fodder and water is sufficient all over the Province. Cattle disease is reported from several districts. The number of persons on gratuitous relief in Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga was 22,091. It is reported however from Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga that all relief operations were closed finally with effect from the 30th and 31st July respectively. Relief operations are also being closed in pargana Japla in the district of Palamau.

The weekly report on the famine and scarcity is as follows:—District Darbhanga—Workers exclusive of dependants nil; on gratuitous relief (a) dependants of workers nil; (b) poorhouses or kitchens 615 and (c) village doles or other relief 19,690; total gratuitously relieved 20,305. Grand total on relief 20,305. All relief operations were closed on the 31st July. Valedictory doles are being given. Crop prospects are excellent at present. Prices 12 to 13 seers per rupee.

United Provinces.—The rainfall was general but less heavy than in the previous week. Late sowings continue. Weeding of autumn crops, transplanting of late rice and preparation of land for spring sowings are in progress. Early crops are ripening and are being harvested in a few districts. Standing crops are good almost everywhere but a break in the rains would be beneficial, especially in Bundelkhand. Some local injury from floods is reported. The condition of agricultural stocks is good but twenty districts report cattle disease. Markets are well supplied. Prices are generally stationary.

The weekly report on the famine and scarcity is as follows:—The general health is good. Gratuitous relief continues in Kheri and Bahraich. Final payments for a period of a fortnight will be made in Kheri on the 8th and in Bahraich on the 28th August. The numbers reported include those in receipt of valedictory doles in Mirzapur, Basti and Garhwal and workers who have received a final dole in Bahraich. The numbers on Government relief are:—on gratuitous relief 18,634; on poorhouse relief in Bahraich 20; total 18,654. Prices:—Kheri 14; and Bahraich 14½ seers per rupee.

Punjab.—Good to heavy rain was received in parts of Hissar, Gurgaon, Delhi, Ambala, Jullundur, Ludhiana, Lahore, Amritsar, Sialkot, Shahpur, Lyallpur and Jhang and moderate to light rain elsewhere. Sowings of autumn crops continue satisfactorily. Standing crops are generally in good condition except unirrigated crops in Sialkot which are withering. Autumn crops have been damaged by insects in parts of Sialkot and Shahpur and by rats in parts of Ferozepore. Damage to melons by excessive moisture is reported from Mianwali. Prices of food grains have risen slightly in some districts. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient. The canal water-supply is short in the south-western parts of Lyallpur.

North-West Frontier Province.—The rainfall was general in all districts, ranging from 3 cents in Tank to 124 cents in Swabi. It was beneficial to standing crops and for cultivation of autumn crops. The condition of crops on the whole is fairly good in Peshawar and average elsewhere. Harvesting of extra spring crops continues in Bannu and the outturn is average both in Bannu and Peshawar. The public health is good. The condition of cattle is fair but disease prevails in two districts. Canal irrigation is satisfactory in Peshawar where the water in rivers is rising. Irrigation from the Paharpur canal in Dera Ismail Khan has been stopped owing to damage by floods. Prices are improving slightly. Prices:—Wheat $10\frac{7}{16}$ to $11\frac{1}{4}$; maize $14\frac{5}{16}$ to $16\frac{1}{2}$; gram $12\frac{1}{2}$ to $13\frac{3}{4}$; bajra $12\frac{3}{8}$ to 13; and barley $18\frac{9}{16}$ seers per rupee.

Jammu.—Good rain fell during the week. Prices are stationary. Wheat sells from 10 to 18 and maize from 12 to 20 seers per rupee. The condition of standing crops is fair. Cattle disease of a mild type prevails in two districts. Fodder is sufficient. Insects have damaged crops in Jasmergarh tahsil. Sowing of crops for the autumn harvest is in progress in some parts.

Kashmir.—The weather was bright with slight rain which was beneficial for autumn crops. Water has decreased in nallahs. The present condition of crops is good, particularly tilgugloo, maize and shali. Fodder is sufficient. There is no disease among cattle. Prices are unchanged.

Rajputana.—The rainfall during the week was good and general throughout. The maximum fall was 952 cents in Ajmer and the minimum 45 cents in Bikaner. Agricultural operations are satisfactory. Standing crops are doing well. Prospects are favourable. Some damage was done to crops in Jaipur by worms. The condition of cattle is good. Pasture and fodder are ample. Prices are generally becoming easier.

Central India.—The rainfall during the week was general and sufficient. Weeding of autumn crops is in progress. Land is being prepared for spring crops in Gwalior and Bhopawar. Agricultural stock are satisfactory except for some cattle disease in parts of Gwalior, Indore, Baghelkhand, Bundelkhand and Bhopawar. Prices have fallen slightly in Malwa and Bhopawar and are stationary but high elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—The rainfall during the week was plentiful and well distributed. The heaviest falls registered were:—Hoshangabad $9\frac{1}{2}$; Saugor 8; and Raipur $7\frac{1}{2}$ inches. Chanda, Seoni, Balaghat, Jubbulpore, Wardha, Akola, Damoh, Chhindwara and Bhandara received from 4 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ inches and the remaining districts from $1\frac{1}{2}$ in Amraoti to $3\frac{3}{4}$ inches in Narsinghpur. A break is required in Wardha, Nagpur and Chanda but more rain is wanted for light soils in Nimar. In a few villages in Bhandara transplanted rice was washed away and small tanks were breached owing to heavy rain. Sowing of til, juar and kodon still continues in Mandla, Seoni, Narsinghpur, Chhindwara, Chanda, Buldana, Yeotmal and the Vindhyan districts but operations have been retarded to some extent by continuous rain in Damoh, Narsinghpur and Chanda. Germination is good except in parts of Buldana where the growth has been stunted by excessive moisture. Transplanting, thinning and weeding are in rapid progress. Preparation of land for sowing of spring crops continues in Damoh, Hoshangabad and the districts of Berar. The supply of fodder and water is adequate. Agricultural stock are in good condition. Prices:—gram became cheaper in Hoshangabad and Amraoti by 1 seer and dearer by $1\frac{1}{2}$ seers in Chanda. The price of juar fell by 1 seer in Buldana. Elsewhere prices were fluctuated slightly with a tendency to fall.

Feudatory States.—The rainfall during the week ranged from $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches in Chhuikhadan to $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches in Raigarh and was good and well [illegible]. A break is needed in S[illegible] and is required in Kawardha for thinning operations. Transplantation, thinning and weeding of autumn crops are in full swing. Germination is satisfactory but the growth of cotton in Raj-Nandgaon has been retarded by continuous rain. Insects continue to do some damage in Sakti. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices:—Kodon in Khairagarh and rice in Sakti fell by 2 seers per rupee and rice in Kanker by 1 seer. Prices were steady elsewhere.

Sind Frontier, Ahmednagar, Sholapur and Bijapur. The rainfall was general and beneficial but more is needed for cultivation of autumn crops in parts of Ahmednagar, Poona, Satara, Bijapur and Dharwar. Sowing of autumn crops is nearly completed in parts of Thar and Parkar, Nasik, Poona, Satara, Dharwar, Kathiawar and Rewa Kantha; continues in parts of Sind, Ahmedabad, the Panch Mahals, Kanara, Khandesh, Cutch, Baroda, Mahi Kantha and Savantvadi; and has been retarded owing to excessive rain in parts of Surat. Transplanting has nearly been completed in parts of Poona, Satara and Rewa Kantha and continues in parts of Karachi, Sukkur, Larkana, Ahmedabad, the Panch Mahals, Kaira, Surat and the Konkan. Weeding is in progress in parts of the Panch Mahals, Kaira, Broach, the Konkan, the Deccan, Cutch, Baroda and Savantvadi. Standing crops have been slightly damaged by insects in parts of Bijapur. Crops are suffering in parts of Nasik, Poona and Bijapur owing to insufficient moisture but are generally in good condition elsewhere. Sowing of cotton continues in parts of Ahmedabad, Broach, Baroda and Cutch and has commenced in Kolhapur. The fodder supply is generally adequate. Agricultural stock are sufficient except in parts of Ahmednagar, Poona, Sholapur, Satara and Cutch and are generally in good condition. The supply of drinking water and of water for irrigation are generally adequate. Inundation in Sind is fairly satisfactory but water in canals is insufficient in parts of Larkana, the Upper Sind Frontier and Thar and Parkar. Prices of food grains have fallen slightly in Kanara, Sholapur, Satara and Dharwar; and are generally stationary elsewhere. The quantity purchasable per rupee is in Sind 32 to 41 per cent; in Gujarat 17 to 42 per cent; in the Konkan 7 to 35 per cent; in the Deccan 17 to 31 per cent; and in the Karnatak 35 to 38 per cent less than the normal. DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY.

CUSTOMS.

RESOLUTION.

Simla, the 4th August 1909.

His Majesty's Government and the Government of India have recently had under their consideration the question of facilitating the clearance through the Customs Department of samples brought by Commercial Travellers from the United Kingdom into British India, for use as models and patterns for the purpose of obtaining orders, and not for sale, and vice versa, and it has been decided that articles liable to duty serving as patterns or samples imported into the one country by Commercial Travellers from the other will be admitted free of duty, subject to the observance of the following regulations.

2. Regulations governing the admission into British India of samples and patterns brought by Commercial Travellers from the United Kingdom.

(1) On the production by a Commercial Traveller of a list or declaration containing a full description of every sample brought by him, officially attested by the Customs authorities in the United Kingdom, examination of the samples may be limited to ascertaining that they are fully enumerated on the list produced

(2) The list referred to in the preceding sub-paragraph is to be utilised in assessing the duty chargeable on the samples. A deposit of the duty is required before delivery of the samples, or alternatively a bond (with sufficient security) for the amount thereof may be accepted instead of a cash deposit.

(3) If the Commercial Traveller is unprovided with the list referred to in sub-paragraph 1, he may be required to produce before the Collector of Customs a certificate or letter of identity from his principals, or otherwise satisfy the Collector of his eligibility for the concession. If the Collector is satisfied on this point, a list will be compiled by the Commercial Traveller giving a full description of every sample sufficient for identification and assessment of the duty chargeable thereon. The duty will be deposited or security given as set out in the preceding sub-paragraph.

(4) Should the samples bear the marks, stamps or seals of the country of exportation, no additional marks or seals for purposes of identification need, as a rule, be affixed by officers of the Customs Department. Contrariwise, if the samples on importation bear no seals, they are to be marked or sealed for future identification, should such a course be deemed necessary by the Customs officers at the port of arrival.

(5) The list of the samples, whether that produced by the Commercial Traveller or that compiled at the port of arrival, will be signed and dated by the officers at the port or place of importation, who will affix to the list a statement bearing the official seal or stamp and showing :—

(a) The name of the port at which the samples are imported and the amount of duty chargeable on the patterns or samples ; also, whether it was deposited in money, or whether security was given.

(b) The marks, if any, that have been applied to the patterns or samples.

(c) The date upon which the amount of duty deposited will be carried to the public account or the amount recovered under the security given, unless it is proved that the patterns or samples have been previously re-exported or placed in bond. This date is to be not later than twelve months from that upon which the samples were brought into the country.

No charge is to be made for the document issued or certified by the Customs officers or for marking for identification.

(6) The production of the list referred to in sub-paragraph 1 will not be required in the case of patterns or samples not liable to duty, and the examination of packages containing such patterns or samples will be restricted to ascertaining that no dutiable articles are contained therein and that the goods produced are bona fide samples.

All samples of no commercial value are entitled to free entry.

Exportation of imported samples.

(7) Patterns and samples of dutiable articles may be produced to the Customs officers at any port in British India for examination prior to exportation. (Non-dutiable samples are not required to be produced on shipment.)

(8) To obtain the return of the deposit made on entry of the patterns or samples, or the cancellation of the bond entered into, the Commercial Traveller is required to produce with his samples the list thereof, signed by the officers at the port of arrival. Provided that the time allowed for production (see sub-paragraph 5 (c)) has not been exceeded, and the Customs officers are satisfied that the goods as produced are identical with those enumerated on the list, the amount of duty originally deposited will be refunded. The list is to be noted as to the exportation of the samples, the statement referred to in sub-paragraph 5 being retained.

(9) The statement is to be transmitted, with a certificate of exportation of the samples, to the Collector at the port of importation with the object of having an adjustment of accounts effected, where a deposit has been made, or the bond cancelled, as the case may be.

3. Regulations governing the exportation of samples and patterns, dutiable or non-dutiable, by Commercial Travellers proceeding from India to the United Kingdom.

(1) Commercial Travellers proceeding to the United Kingdom on business may have their samples sealed and the list thereof officially certified by officers of the Customs Department under the following regulations.

(2) The firm or firms concerned will produce at the Custom House the samples with a list in duplicate containing a full description thereof including quantity and value, and apply to the Collector of Customs for examination of the goods.

In cases where examination and sealing of samples is desired at private premises an application to that effect must be made to the Collector of Customs concerned. The expenses of the Customs officer's attendance for such examination are to be borne by the applicants.

(3) The Collector of Customs, after verifying the list by a comparison with the samples, will have the latter officially sealed or marked, as may be most convenient, and will sign the duplicate list and stamp it with the Custom House seal. This will be returned to the owners of the goods and the original list will be retained for future reference. In regard to the values stated on the list a formal declaration by the Commercial Traveller or by one of the firms concerned may be required if such is considered necessary.

(4) The sealed or marked samples and the certified list must be produced again at the time of shipment to the Customs authorities, who will note on the list that the goods specified therein have actually been shipped.

4. Regulations prescribed by His Majesty's Commissioners of Customs and Excise for the admission into the United Kingdom of samples and patterns taken by Commercial Travellers from India and certain other countries.

DUTIABLE ARTICLES.

(1) Articles liable to duty serving as patterns or samples introduced into the United Kingdom by Commercial Travellers of the several countries enumerated below are to be admitted free of duty, subject to observance of the following regulations.

(2) On the production by the Commercial Traveller of a list or declaration containing a description of the samples brought by him, officially attested by the proper authority in the country of exportation, examination of the samples may be limited to ascertaining that they are fully enumerated on the list produced.

(3) The list referred to in the preceding sub-paragraph is to be utilised in assessing the duty chargeable on the samples. A deposit of the duty is to be required before delivery of the samples, or alternatively a bond for the amount thereof may be accepted instead of a cash deposit.

(4) If the Commercial Traveller is unprovided with the list referred to in sub-paragraph 2, a list is to be compiled giving a description of the samples sufficient for identification and assessment of the duty chargeable thereon. The duty may be deposited or security given as set out in the preceding sub-paragraph.

(5) Should the samples bear the marks, stamps or seals of the country of exportation, no additional marks or seals for purposes of identification need, as a rule, be affixed by Officers of this Department. Contrariwise, if the samples on importation bear no seals, they are to be marked or sealed for future identification, should such a course be deemed necessary by the Officers at the port of arrival.

(6) The list of the samples, whether that produced by the Commercial Traveller or that compiled at the port of arrival, will be signed and dated by the Officers at the port or place of importation, who will affix to the list a statement bearing an official seal or stamp and showing :—

(a) The name of the port at which the samples are imported and the amount of duty chargeable on the patterns or samples; also, whether it was deposited in money, or whether security was given.

(b) The marks, if any, that have been applied to the patterns or samples.

(c) The date upon which the amount of duty deposited will be carried to the public account, or the amount recovered under the security given unless it is proved that the patterns or samples have been previously re-exported or placed in bond. This date is to be not later than twelve months from that upon which the samples were brought into the country.

No charge is to be made for the document issued or certified by the Officers or for marking for identification.

NON-DUTIABLE ARTICLES.

(a) Gold and Silver Plate liable to Assay.

(7) The foregoing regulations will also apply to all patterns or samples of Plate :—The deposit to be made or security given is to be approximately equal to the amount of duty formerly chargeable on such articles, viz. :—Gold 17*s.*, and Silver 1*s.* 6*d.* the oz. troy.

(b) Other Articles.

(8) The production of the list referred to in sub-paragraph 2 will not be required in the case of patterns or samples not liable to duty, and the examination of packages containing such patterns or samples will be restricted to ascertaining that no dutiable articles are therein contained and that the goods produced are bonâ fide samples.

EXPORTATION OF IMPORTED SAMPLES.

(9) Patterns and samples of dutiable articles and of Plate may be produced to the Customs Officers at any port in the United Kingdom for examination prior to exportation. (Non-dutiable samples are not required to be produced on shipment.)

(10) To obtain the return of the deposit made on entry of the patterns or samples, or the cancellation of the bond entered into, the Commercial Traveller is required to produce with his samples the list thereof, signed by the Officers at the port of arrival. Provided that the time allowed for production (see sub-paragraph 6 (c)) has not been exceeded, and the Officers are satisfied that the goods as produced are identical with those enumerated on the list, the amount of duty originally deposited may be refunded forthwith. The list is to be noted as to the exportation of the samples, the statement referred to in sub-paragraph 6 being retained.

(11) The statement is to be transmitted, with a certificate of exportation of the samples, to the Collector at the port of importation with the object of having an adjustment of accounts effected, where a deposit has been made, or the bond cancelled, as the case may be.

(12) In the case of Plate which it may be desired to retain in this country, the samples with relative list and statement are, within the time allowed, to be produced at some Custom House in the United Kingdom with a view to the Plate being assayed as required by law. The usual procedure is to be followed as if the goods were then being imported for the first time, and on completion of the assaying the deposit is to be returned or the bond cancelled.

(13) The facilities set out in the preceding sub-paragraphs are to be granted to Commercial Travellers from the following countries :—

Belgium, Switzerland, France, United States of America, Germany, Italy, British South Africa, New Zealand, India.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.

ADMINISTRATION OF TREASURIES.

No. 4037-A.

The 9th August 1909.

Letter from the Comptroller and Auditor General No. 1160, dated the 7th July 1909, submitting a report on the Cash Balances and Resource Operations of Treasuries for the twelve months from April 1908 to March 1909.

Ordered that the letter and its annexures be published in the Gazette of India.

No. 1160, dated Calcutta, the 7th July 1909.

From—The Comptroller and Auditor General,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Finance Department.

I have the honour to submit my report on the Cash Balances and Resource Operations of our Treasuries for the twelve months from April 1908 to March 1909.

Minimum Balances.

2. The following table gives the estimated Minimum Balances for all India for each month, from April 1909 to March 1910, and their distribution among the District Treasuries of the several Provinces and the Reserve Treasuries and Presidency Banks. The usual statements, marked A and B, showing the comparison of the estimated minimum balances for 1909-10 with the estimates of previous years, are appended. In the table the total balances at the Presidency towns have been shown as usual in a lump sum in a separate column :—

3. The figures shown under District Treasuries represent the minimum balances estimated by the local Account Officers on the usual plan. The minimum for the 1st December 1909 is less by 4 lakhs than what was estimated for 1st December 1908, an increase of 5 lakhs in Bombay due to the guarantee of minimum balances at the branches of the Bank of Bombay opened at Sholapur and Jalgaon being more than covered by a decrease in Bengal due to smaller requirements. The estimated balances of the larger Provinces, viz., the United Provinces, Punjab, Madras and Bombay, have been specially re-examined by the Accountants General at my instance this year. A small reduction in the figures for several months originally proposed has been found possible in Bombay, but the Accountants General, Punjab and Madras report that their Estimates do not admit of reduction and that considerable difficulty is already experienced in working down to these figures. In the United Provinces, the Accountant General has not proposed any reduction in the balances though past experience indicates that it is possible to reduce the actual balances on the 1st of any month much below the estimated minimum. The Accountant General's figures have been retained for the present, but he will be requested to revise the figures carefully when estimating the balances for the next year. The balances for all India have been estimated on the basis of the distributed Budget, the minimum on 1st December being taken at 12,00 lakhs.

4. The following table shows the actual cash balances at the Treasuries on the first day of each month during the past year and their distribution between the Reserve and

District Treasuries and the Presidency Banks, together with the corresponding figures of the preceding year :—

5. The year opened with a balance more than that of the previous year by 3,79 lakhs, but closed with 3,92 lakhs less. This worseness of 7,71 lakhs may generally be attributed to agricultural and trade depressions in the year 1908-09. As a result mainly of these depressions the net Treasury receipts from Railways showed a heavy decline of 3,14 lakhs. High prices of food stuffs involving the grant of compensation to low paid Government servants, the progress of police reorganisation, heavy grants-in-aid to educational institutions in some Provinces, larger expenditure under Courts of Law and on agricultural development, the grant of a bonus of one week's pay to all permanent employes on Rs. 50 a month or under in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the assumption of the Government of India by the Crown and larger drawings of his subsidy by His Majesty the Amir of Afghanistan—all these increased the cost of Civil Administration by the large amount of about 3,04 lakhs. The transactions of District Funds further resulted in a smaller net receipts into treasuries of 1,44 lakhs, the net receipts from Post Office and Telegraph Departments were less by 99 lakhs in consequence mainly of heavier net withdrawals of Savings Bank deposits, the issues to the Military Department were higher by 70 lakhs and the receipts from the rupee loan of the year were less by 50 lakhs. In addition to these causes which adversely affected the Government balances, the discontinuance of the purchase and coinage of silver in 1908-09 resulted in a net reduction of 8,15 lakhs in the treasury receipts of new coin, as compared with the year 1907-08. But there were gains to counterbalance these losses. In the first place, Council Bill payments were smaller by 4,96 lakhs. Secondly, Civil Revenue was better by 2,88 lakhs, chiefly in consequence of larger land revenue collections in the United Provinces and larger net opium revenue. Thirdly, Loans and Advances showed a net smaller charge of 95 lakhs under takavi loans issued in the United Provinces and recoveries of loans granted in the previous year. And lastly, the net Public Works issues under Ordinary were less by 1,15 lakhs, chiefly owing to the absence of the issues in the previous year for outlay on Famine relief in the United Provinces.

6. The demand for Council Bills during the first five months of the year was very weak and the Home Treasury was replenished by transfers of £2 million or 3 crores from the Currency chest in London against equivalent payments to the Reserve in India. The proceeds of Bills during the next three months September to November were also insufficient for the requirements of the Home Treasury, and the Secretary of State withdrew a further sum of 31 lakhs (£205,000) from the Currency Reserve and 1,40 lakhs (£933,749) from the Gold Standard Reserve against corresponding credits to these Reserves in India, besides utilising the proceeds of a consignment of £240,240 worth of light weight gold coin and bullion remitted from India. The allotments of Council Bills in the closing months of the year were, however, heavy and admitted of the re-transfer to England of the amount thus utilised from the Gold Standard Reserve in aid of the Secretary of State's balances.

7. The chief feature of the year was the heavy worseness in the treasury transactions with Railways which involved a considerable strain on the treasury balances. The large cash balance with which the year opened, smaller payments of Council Bills and the retention in the treasury balances of the proceeds of sterling bills on London between their realisation and their payment to the Gold Standard Reserve on receipt of advice of payment of the bills from London resulted in the maintenance of easy balances during the months April to August. By the time the demand for Council Bills revived, the effect of the worseness in net Railway receipts had begun to be felt on the Treasury balances and October closed with a balance 1 crore less than the amount (viz., 12 crores) considered as a safe minimum to be held on the 1st December, the period of our lowest balances. It was necessary to obtain a temporary advance of 4½ crores of rupees from the Gold Standard Reserve in aid of the balances during the months of November to February, which was repaid before the close of the year. Even after the advances thus taken, the months of November and December closed with balances which have not been reached in any year since 1900. The pressure on the balances was not allowed to appreciably affect those kept with Presidency Banks.

9. Owing to abnormal trade conditions, rupees and half rupees were returned from circulation during the year to the extent of 14,88 lakhs against 18,00 and 3,92 lakhs issued respectively during the years 1906-07 and 1907-08. There was no coinage from purchased silver during the year and the coinage of these denominations shown in the above table represented entirely the re-coinage of withdrawn coin. The stock of rupees in the Treasuries on the 31st March 1909 was one crore less than on 31st March 1908 and the stock in the Currency Reserve was six crores more. The balance of ten crores that returned from circulation passed to the credit of the Gold Standard Reserve in India against the value of demand drafts on London paid by the Secretary of State out of investments on account of the Reserve.

11. The stock of gold at the beginning of the year in Treasuries and Currency offices amounted to about £2,922,300 inclusive of £25,200 worth of bullion, while that at its end stood at £86,000 consisting entirely of sovereigns and half sovereigns. The amount of imported sovereigns received at the Currency offices during the period was only about £75,000 against over 5 millions received last year, while a sum of £240,240 in light weight gold coins and bullion was remitted to the Home Treasury. The net issues of gold to the public from Currency offices and Treasuries in the twelve months, therefore, amounted to about £2,671,100 of which about one half was issued from Treasuries and the other from Currency. Owing to the absence of imports of gold for trade purposes, the stock of gold held in Currency and Treasuries fell to less than £1 million in September and the issue of gold to the public practically ceased during the latter half of the year.

12. The total net treasury issue of £ 1,359,900 was less than that of the previous year by about £ 1,445,000 and was distributed among the Provinces as shown below:—

Province.	Net receipt.	Net issue.
India	......	43,400
Central Provinces and Berar	......	36,300
Burma	......	203,100
Eastern Bengal and Assam	......	21,300

Punjab and N.-W. F. P.	......	415,800
Madras	......	76,300
Bombay	......	81,100
TOTAL	......	1,359,900

The demand for gold continued to be high during the year especially in the United Provinces, Punjab, Burma and Madras, and the low issue was due to the insufficiency of the stock in the Currency Reserve.

14. The figures in the last column of the above table give the variations in the local receipts or disbursements as compared with the preceding year. Column 8 gives the differences in the actual receipts from, or supplies to, other Provinces and the differences between the figures in columns 8 and 11 for each Province are accounted for by the variations in balances entered in columns 9 and 10.

15. As regards the local receipts or disbursements, the net excess receipts (+) or disbursements (—) in each Province as compared with the previous year and the heads under which they occur are exhibited in detail in the table below :—

16. It will be seen from the above table that, in the net result of treasury transactions, the most important variations occurred in India and Bombay. Neglecting the transactions on account of purchase of silver and rupee coinage, India showed an increase of 7,21 lakhs in the net treasury receipts, due chiefly to smaller payments of Council bills (1,71 lakhs), receipts from the sale of sterling bills on London in excess of payments to the Gold Standard Reserve (1,65 lakhs) and larger receipts from the rupee loan of the year (66 lakhs). In Bombay, on the other hand, the local transactions resulted in a deficit of 5,45 lakhs; the issues to Railways were larger by 2,40 lakhs, the receipts from the rupee loan were less by 1,39 lakhs, the Post Office and Telegraph Departments brought in a smaller net receipt of 1,02 lakhs, and there were payments to the Gold Standard Reserve to the extent of

1,88 lakhs on account of sterling bills on London issued at Calcutta and Madras. Against these worseneses, there was an improvement of 1,18 lakhs in opium revenue owing to the advance payment of duty on Malwa opium intended for export in the years 1909 and 1910. There was a deterioration of 1,96 in Bengal the bulk of which occurred in loan transactions and was due to the grant of larger takavi advances owing to unfavourable agricultural conditions, to a special loan of 50 lakhs granted in Bengal and to the absence of a credit included in 1907-08 on account of repayment of a loan by the Calcutta Port Trust. Larger issues to the Military Department and to Railways, and an increase in Civil expenditure made the treasury transactions in the Punjab worse by over a crore; while, in the United Provinces, better land revenue collections and smaller net issues of takavi loans, due to the recovery of the Province from the famine of the previous year, mainly contributed to the improvement of 2½ crores. The variations in the other provinces were not important.

17. Details of the Interprovincial Remittances shewn in the Table under paragraph 13 are given in Statement C annexed to this report. As compared with the previous year, there was a decrease in the total amount of each kind of remittance except transfers through the Currency Department. The decrease in the movement of specie is attributable partly to the cessation of the demand in connection with famine in the United Provinces in the previous year and partly to the general falling off in the demand for coin owing to adverse trade conditions, the greater part of the remittance of coin that returned from circulation having been dealt with as on behalf of the Currency Department. The bulk of the decrease in the remittance of notes occurred in Eastern Bengal and Assam and Madras and was due in the former province to the transfer of home circle notes to local currency chests on account of the pressure for funds at head-quarters during the latter part of the year instead of their being remitted to the Reserve Treasury, and in the latter to the discontinuance of the practice of remitting Foreign Circle Notes as treasury remittances to the circles concerned. The fall under bills was the result of smaller demands at Calcutta for telegraphic transfers on treasuries in Eastern Bengal and Assam owing to the dullness in trade. The same cause accounts for the smaller transfers through Banks, while the increase under transfers through Currency was due to the pressure for funds during the latter part of the year to meet the drawings of the Secretary of State and local disbursements which necessitated the speedy concentration of district surpluses through the Currency Department. The amounts transferred from Bengal to India through the Bank of Bengal were less than in the previous year in consequence partly of the decrease in Opium revenue, partly of heavy payments of supply bills drawn by mofussil treasuries on the Bank and partly of short receipts on account of telegraphic transfers. The transfers from India to Bengal through the Bank of Bengal amounted to 65 lakhs and related mainly to a special loan transaction in the Bengal Accounts for meeting which aid was given from the India portion of the Government account at the Bank.

18. The following are the principal variations in the remittances by means of supply bills in the two years :—

(1) The Central Provinces issued bills for 5 lakhs on Calcutta and 27 lakhs on Bombay against a total of 5 lakhs in the previous year, chiefly to replenish the balances of treasuries in want of funds on account of scarcity. No bills were issued at Calcutta during the year on treasuries in the Central Provinces.

(2) The Foreign bill receipts in Eastern Bengal and Assam were nearly the same as in the previous year, but the payments were higher owing to larger drawings by the Accountant General, Bengal.

(3) The large falling-off in the receipts in the Punjab is due to smaller issues of bills on Bombay, and Karachi. The receipts of last year were abnormally high owing to heavy demands for bills for remitting funds for which there was no local demand owing to the dullness in trade.

(4) The smaller payments in Bombay are explained by the falling off in the drawings by the Punjab.

19. The following statement gives in lakhs of rupees the particulars of the more important Local and Foreign Remittances including Supply Bills:—

21. The following points in the Resource operations of each province may be specially noticed:—

22. In India, there was a net transfer of 2,88 lakhs from the Bank of Bengal to the Reserve Treasury during the year against one of 6,60 lakhs from the Reserve Treasury to the Bank during the previous year. This variation is due partly to the sale of demand drafts on London, the proceeds of which were paid into the Bank of Bengal and subsequently transferred to the Reserve Treasuries pending eventual payment to the Gold Standard Reserve, and partly to smaller payments of Council Bills. The surplus accumulations at Ajmer and Sambhar amounted to 1,60 lakhs, of which 1,55 lakhs were withdrawn to Calcutta through the Currency Department and 5 lakhs in coin, chiefly whole rupees, were supplied to Indore. No specie remittances were required to be sent to Sambhar during the year, but, on account of a fall in the receipt of Currency Notes in Railway collections, notes had to be supplied to Ajmer, 4 lakhs worth from Calcutta and a smaller quantity from Bombay. The Indore Treasury which is in charge of the Bank of Bombay was supplied with Currency Notes to the value of 36 lakhs from Bombay, 1 lakh from the Punjab and 3 lakhs from the United Provinces in addition to 7 lakhs of coin from Bombay. 64 lakhs were transferred in aid of the Treasury balances from the Currency chests at Quetta and its sub-treasuries against opposite payments at Calcutta, the remittances to the chests amounting to 17 lakhs worth of notes and 23 lakhs in coin from Karachi. The Political treasury at Hyderabad was supplied with help to the extent of 21 lakhs in coin and notes from Bombay, and 13 lakhs were transferred from Calcutta by Bank transfers. Coorg was supplied with 14 lakhs and Nowgong with 6 lakhs from Madras and the United Provinces respectively.

The Resident in Nepal now keeps himself in funds, by advances obtained from the Nepal Durbar, against equivalent payments at par to the Nepal Representative in Calcutta; he obtained about half a lakh during the year under this arrangement.

23. In the Central Provinces and Berar, the amount transferred from Akola and Amraoti to Bombay was 91 lakhs against 140 lakhs in the previous year. Of the former, 25 lakhs represented the surplus of Buldana and Yeotmal treasuries drawn off to Akola and Amraoti by actual remittance amounting to 19 lakhs and by supply bills amounting to 6 lakhs. In addition to these remittances to Akola and Amraoti, 22 lakhs were remitted from these two treasuries to Nagpur and 4 lakhs were transferred to local Currency chests. The local remittances to Jubbulpore to meet treasury requirements amounted to 10 lakhs, and 14 lakhs were in addition drawn by bills on Bombay and Calcutta. Nagpur received remittances of 34 lakhs in specie from non-central treasuries in the Central Provinces.

24. In Burma, the amount of treasury surplus withdrawn to Rangoon showed a net increase of 21 lakhs. There was an increase of 7 lakhs in the remittances from District Treasuries through the Bank of Bengal, Rangoon, the Bank having taken up larger amounts at its branches at Akyab and Moulmein, and the remittances to District Treasuries were less by 14 lakhs owing to the discontinuance of the supply of sovereigns. The aggregate amount of supply bills and telegraphic transfers sold on Bassein at a premium of 2 as per cent was 1,29 lakhs, which was more than that sold in 1907-08 by 5 lakhs. It is stated that, although the increase is small, it represents a large increase of business, as prices ruled over 25 per cent lower than last year. Telegraphic transfers and bills for 9 lakhs only were sold on Henzada at a premium of 1½ as. per cent. against 21 lakhs in the previous year. The decrease is attributed to the general drop in prices and to the rice season having started late during the year under report. On the other hand, transfers on Myingyan showed an increase from 15 to 24 lakhs owing to good rains and a bumper cotton crop. The sale of supply bills and transfers on Rangoon at Mandalay and other treasuries was larger than that of 1907-08 by 52 lakhs.

25. In Eastern Bengal and Assam, there was a decrease in the amount of local specie remittances through treasury owing to larger transfers of surpluses to deficit treasuries through the medium of Currency chests. During the latter part of the year, it was found necessary on account of the pressure for funds at head quarters to transfer surplus Currency Notes to Currency chests, and local demand for notes is now met from the accumulations in the chests instead of by indents on Calcutta as formerly. 85 lakhs in coin were sent from several Currency chests to Dacca to meet the demands of the Bank of Bengal and for other requirements. The Bank took 58 lakhs only against 73 in the preceding year

26. In Bengal, the specie remittances to the opium paying treasuries of the Behar Agency amounted to 66 lakhs against 52 in the previous year, of which 58 lakhs was given through Currency and the balance of 8 lakhs by an actual remittance. The increase in the supply to the opium treasuries was not however due to larger demands, but to the fact that, owing to heavy pressure for funds at head quarters, all available surpluses were transferred to the Currency chests, thus necessitating re-transfers when funds were required for expenditure. Local remittances to deficit treasuries showed an increase of 14 lakhs on account of larger demand for funds at Cuttack and Nadia owing to the prevalent scarcity. Remittances from Calcutta to District Treasuries also showed a net increase of 42 lakhs; there was an increase in the payments of supply bills at Calcutta and notes were sent to Treasuries in larger quantities to make up for decreased receipts in payment of Government dues.

27. In the United Provinces, the treasury remittances of rupees were specially low in 1907-08 on account of smaller revenue collections, while larger movements of coin in connection with the grant of takavi advances on a large scale caused an increase in the total amount of local currency remittances. These causes having ceased to operate in the year under report, treasury remittances exceeded those of the preceding year by 10 lakhs, while Currency remittances fell from 6,08 to 5,64 lakhs. There was an increase of 55 lakhs in the treasury remittances of Foreign Circle notes owing to a change of practice in dealing with these notes by which they were sent to the Remittance Treasury, Cawnpore without being transferred to Currency chests, as formerly. A practice was recently started in this Province to supply notes to bankers and firms through the medium of temporary Currency chests on a certificate that they were required for local circulation. It was, however, objectionable as these chests are opened only for resource purposes and are not intended to be used as the medium for such transactions, and has now been discontinued.

28. In the Punjab, the net amount of aid granted from Calcutta and Bombay amounted to 4,03 lakhs against 2,95 in the previous year. This increase was due to short collections of revenue and larger net departmental issues: the aid required from Calcutta and Bombay would have been greater but for large sales of supply bills on these places as well as on Karachi. There was a decrease of 37 lakhs in the local remittances of Currency Notes owing to smaller transfers between the Bank of Bengal, Lahore and the local Remittance Treasury.

29. In Madras, the net outgoings from the head office of the Bank of Madras rose by 10 lakhs, chiefly in consequence of larger issues to the Postal Department and to Railways. There was a net transfer of 3,20 lakhs during the year to Calcutta and Bombay through Currency against one of 55 lakhs in the opposite direction in the preceding year. The withdrawals of District surpluses to Madras by Bank and Currency transfers rose by 73 and 58 lakhs respectively, while those by means of supply bills decreased by 29. The increase in Bank transfers and the decrease in supply bills were chiefly due to the transfer of the Government Treasury business at Guntur, Masulipatam and Coimbatore to the newly opened branches of the Bank of Madras; the surpluses are now taken by the Bank locally instead of their being withdrawn by bills. The increase in Currency transfers was the result of the pressure for funds at head-quarters during the latter part of the year.

30. In Bombay, the transfers between the Reserve Treasury and the Presidency Bank resulted in a net receipt of 4,00 lakhs by the Reserve Treasury against 1,41 lakhs in 1907-08; the increase was due to receipts on account of demand drafts on London and smaller payments of Council bills, partly counter-balanced by smaller receipts from the rupee loan of the year and a decrease in the net Railway receipts. The supplies from Bombay to District Treasuries were more by 1,02 lakhs, owing partly to a falling off in the net earnings of the North-Western Railway which necessitated larger remittances to Sind Treasuries and partly to larger issues to the Postal Department in treasuries in Bombay proper. The district surpluses withdrawn to head-quarters were likewise less than in the preceding year by 1,60 lakhs on account of the fall in the receipts of the North-Western Railway and the transfer of the Southern Mahratta Railway head-quarters from Dharwar to Madras.

31. The table below gives the details of the more important movements of specie in the Currency Department during the year:

32. The gold remittances were sent to supply local demands, and, as observed in paragraph 11 above, they ceased by the middle of the year owing to the almost complete exhaustion of the stock of gold in the Currency Reserve. No large remittances of silver coin were necessary during the year to meet any trade demand and the remittances shown in the above table, with the exception of 24 lakhs sent from Ajmer to Delhi during the latter part of the year to meet the demands of the Bank of Bengal, and 1 crore from Bombay to Rangoon in view of the demands in the rice season, were undertaken solely on account of difficulties experienced in accommodating locally the surplus accumulations due to the large return of coin from circulation.

Small silver, nickel, copper and bronze.

33. Statement D, annexed to this report shows the absorption of these coins in the different provinces during the twelve months under review and in the two preceding years. Leaving out of consideration the smaller denominations of bronze coins, viz., half pice and pie pieces, the demand for which is fairly constant from year to year, it will be seen that every denomination of small coin with the exception of the anna nickel piece has shown a return from circulation during the year 1908-09. This is due partly to the abnormal depression of trade that prevailed throughout the country and partly to the return by the public of part of the heavy issues of small coin in the United Provinces during the year 1907-08 and the earlier months of 1908-09 in connection with outlay on Famine Relief. Quarter and eighth rupees, anna pieces and single pice taken together show a net receipt of 8¼ lakhs worth into Government Treasuries in India as a whole; Calcutta and the India treasuries show the largest net receipt, viz, 19½ lakhs, while the treasuries in the United Provinces received no less than 14 lakhs more than they issued to the public. Burma, Eastern Bengal and Assam and Bengal are the only Provinces in which any appreciable issue of small coin occurred, chiefly in connection with the rice, tea and jute industries and famine expenditure in Bengal.

34. Nickel coins to the value of 11 lakhs were issued during the year against 15 lakhs worth issued during the eight months August 1907 to March 1908. The coin continues to be popular, specially in Bombay and Bengal. The United Provinces and Burma are the only two Provinces in which there were net receipts into the treasuries; in the former, they were due to the return of famine issues while, in the latter, the coin is reported not to be favourably looked upon by the Burmese. In the earlier part of the year, the circulation of nickels in Burma appears to have suffered in consequence of a false rumour that they would be withdrawn from circulation and of the appearance of counterfeits. The rumour was immediately contradicted by Government, but with no appreciable effect on the circulation. The desirability of taking special measures in connection with the appearance of counterfeits is under consideration.

35. If the year under report had been normal, it would have been possible to estimate roughly the effect of the introduction of nickel coins on the demand for eighth rupees and single pice. No such estimate can be made at present owing to the impossibility of determining the precise causes of the net receipt of the latter denominations from the public. In view, however, of the general demand that existed for the nickel coin when there was none for every other denomination and of the fact that the total return of one-eighth rupees and single pice in the United Provinces is in excess of the issues for famine disbursements, it seems very likely that the nickel is gradually displacing single pice and probably also two anna pieces.

36. The copper double pice has never been popular owing partly to its inconvenient size, and there were indications that even the small demand that existed for it in Western and Southern India was falling off after the introduction of the anna-piece. It was accordingly decided, during the year under report, to gradually withdraw from circulation accumulations in Treasuries for which no demand was anticipated. Coin to the value of 2¼ lakhs were thus remitted to the Mints during the year. The transactions with the public resulted in a net receipt of 1 lakh worth as in the previous year.

38. The withdrawal of 1840 rupees was practically the same as in the previous year. The total withdrawal of these coins to end of March 1909 amounted to about 25,73 lakhs and that of 1835 coins to about 3,22 lakhs. The receipts of shroff-marked coins continue to be insignificant ; but there was an increase of 19 lakhs in the amount of defective and light-weight coins withdrawn from circulation. This increase and the absence of a reduction in the amount of 1840 coins withdrawn are mainly attributable to the greater quantity of rupees that were handled by our Treasuries and Currency Offices during the year.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 hrs. on Thursday, the 12th August 1909, based on the Indian Daily Weather Reports of the period.

At the beginning of the week rain was falling in Burma, northeast India, the United Provinces, the submontane districts of the Punjab, the central parts of the country, on the east and west coasts of the peninsula and in south India. Rainfall continued throughout the week in the first two areas and in Madras, but the Arabian Sea monsoon current became inactive and, as the position of the trough of low pressure prevented a westward extension of the Bay current, rainfall in consequence gradually disappeared from the rest of the country.

The rainfall of the week was heavier than usual in Eastern Bengal and Assam, the province of Bengal (excluding Orissa), the United Provinces, Mysore, the southeast of Madras and on the north Madras coast.

Burma.—Rainfall was general on the coast and in the extreme north and local elsewhere. Cloud was moderate to heavy and temperature was normal.

Northeast India, including Orissa.—Rainfall occurred in all parts of the division, but was only light and local in Orissa. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded. Temperature was normal or in defect.

The United Provinces, Central India and the Central Provinces.—Widespread rain was reported on the first three days of the week from the United Provinces, but for the rest of the week rainfall was confined to the Himalayas and the submontane districts. In the Central Provinces and Central India the week was almost rainless. On most days skies were lightly to moderately clouded. Temperature in the daytime was in defect in the United Provinces.

Northwest India.—The rainfall of the week consisted chiefly of local showers in the Punjab and Kashmir. Cloud was moderate to heavy in the south and east of the division and clear or lightly clouded elsewhere. Temperature was lower than usual in Rajputana.

The Peninsula.—Rainfall was local and generally light in the western districts, but it was heavier than usual in Mysore, the southeast of Madras and on the north Madras coast. Skies were moderately clouded. Temperature was approximately normal.

The following summarises the chief rainfall amounts as reported at 8 hrs. each day:—

August 6th. Chittagong 3·00", Bogra 3·22", Patna 2·83" and Meerut 5·18".

„ 7th. Akyab 5·00", Dibrugarh 2·78", Jessore 2·12" and Burdwan 2·90".

„ 8th. Akyab 3·96" and Myitkyina 2·76".

August 9th.	Sibsagar 2·94", Chittagong 8·02", Mymensingh 5·36" and Dehra Dun 7·30".
" 10th.	Jalpaiguri 2·90", Bahraich 4·08" and Dehra Dun 6·65".
" 11th.	Chittagong 4·91" and Barisal 3·14".
" 12th.	Moulmein 7·70".

The rainfall of the period from the 30th April to the 12th August is 20 per cent or more in defect in Chota Nagpur, the southwest of the Punjab, Baluchistan, Berar and the Madras Deccan; and is 20 per cent or more in excess in Bihar, the east of the United Provinces, the North-West Frontier Province, Rajputana and the south of the peninsula.

GEORGE C. SIMPSON,

for Director-General of Observatories.

R. W. CARLYLE,

SIMLA;

WEATHER IN INDIA DURING JUNE AND JULY.

1. (a) The monsoon appeared about a week before its normal date over the Bay and advancing inland with the usual rapidity was established over the whole of northeast India and the United Provinces between the 6th and the 8th of June.

The Bombay current arrived about the normal date, but did not penetrate inland in full strength until nearly the end of the month. The rainfall of June was in marked excess of the average in the field of the Bay current, and about normal in the region served by the Arabian Sea current.

In July the Bay current was fairly strong but was on the whole determined more largely than usual on the one hand to Burma and on the other to the Gangetic plain and the Punjab, with the result that the intervening region of northeast India obtained less than its average supply of rainfall. The Bombay monsoon was unusually active and gave abundant rainfall over a large part of its field.

(b) The aggregate precipitation of June and July in the plains of India, was 13 per cent. in excess of the normal, as compared with 2 per cent. in the corresponding period of last year. The local distribution also was on the whole more favourable, the rainfall being above the normal in all the larger provinces with the exception of Central India, the Central Provinces and Mysore.

2. The following tables give for June, July, and the total period the actual rainfall, the departure from normal and the percentage departure from normal for the chief political divisions and sub-divisions:—

ANTICIPATIONS FOR AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER 1909.

3. The data of the past thirty-four years show that the meteorological conditions in certain areas tend to vary with the abundance and distribution of the monsoon rainfall of India. Data referring to the period previous to June 1909 were published in the memorandum of the 8th June; and the information obtained since that time is as follows:—

(a) THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC AND CHILI.

4. The monthly departures of pressure at Buenos Ayres were +·6 m.m. in June and +2·5 m.m. in July. At Santiago the corresponding departures were +1·0 m.m. and +·9 m.m.

(b) AUSTRALIA.

5. The average pressure of a number of representative stations was normal in June and in defect in July by ·01".

(c) THE INDIAN OCEAN.

6. Mauritius.—Pressure was below the average by ·04" in June and ·03" in July. The air movement was of the normal character in June, but was somewhat more easterly and feebler than usual in July. Rainfall was in decided excess in both months.

Zanzibar.—Pressure was approximately normal, being only ·01" in defect in both June and July. Winds were on the whole stronger and more westerly than usual. Rainfall was unusually scanty in June (87 per cent. in defect) and about the average in July.

Seychelles.—Pressure was identical with the average in both months. Winds varied considerably in strength from week to week, particularly in July, but were on the whole below the normal in intensity. The feebleness was most marked in the week ending on July 3rd when the direction also was very variable. The direction was unusually southerly in June and about normal in July. Rainfall was barely half of the normal quantity.

Logs of vessels.—The marine information available at present relating to the Indian Seas and the equatorial belt is very scanty. It however indicates that the only striking abnormalities in the character of the air movement were (a) the prevalence of light unsteady winds over the central portion of the equatorial belt during the second and third weeks of June and (b) of unusual east to northeast winds to the northeast of the Seychelles on the 2nd and 3rd of July. The decrease in the intensity of the winds over the Arabian Sea reported by the mail steamer in the fourth week of June and the diminution in the rainfall in India due to this monsoon current between the 15th and 26th were almost certainly related to the condition (a).

(d) NORTHEAST AFRICA.

7. The first rise of the Nile took place very early, but the river rose very slowly during June and the first half of July owing to deficiency of monsoon rainfall in Abyssinia and consequent lowness in the Blue Nile. The latest telegram shows however that the Blue Nile is now high.

(e) INDIA.

8. Pressure.—The charts of average pressure for June and July show no very unusual features.

(f) SNOWFALL IN THE MOUNTAIN REGIONS TO THE NORTH AND WEST OF INDIA DURING JUNE AND JULY.

9. (a) According to the limited information available hardly any snow fell during June and July on the mountain ranges of the North-West Frontier Province. Weather was of the usual character in south Waziristan.

(b) Occasional light falls occurred in Kashmir, but none of these extended down to the level of the observing stations. The ranges near Leh are said to be covered with recent snow.

(c) There were four falls in July on the Droti peak in Chamba down to about 13,000 feet. The total amount received measured about 2 feet in depth.

In the Simla hills a snowstorm occurred on the 13th July giving 9 inches of snow on the Shatul pass and a few inches on the Rupin pass.

(d) In Garhwal there were some falls on the higher peaks: the total amount was however below the normal. In Almora about 7 feet of snow fell during the first three weeks of July on the Nuwe pass and amounts varying from 2 to 6 inches in other parts.

INFERENCES.

10. As previously pointed out there is a relation of an inverse character between pressure in South America and in the Indian Ocean, the barometer being usually higher than the average in the one region when lower in the other: and abundant monsoon rainfall is as a rule preceded by high pressure in South America and low pressure in the Indian Ocean. The pressure data of the past four months have been collected together in the following table:—

Pressure departures from normal in inches.

	South America.	Mauritius.	Seychelles.	Zanzibar.	Australia.
April	+·03	—·01	—·01	+·01	—·03
May	+·05	—·01	·00	+·01	—·03
June	+·03	—·04	·00	—·01	·00
July	+·07	—·03	·00	—·01	—·01

It will be seen that the conditions during April and May, upon which the favourable anticipations of June were based, have been fully maintained during June and July.

Monsoon rainfall is also largely influenced by the average pressure over India during the year ending with the previous December. In the present case, however, this pressure was normal and no effect can be anticipated.

Another factor which may produce important results is that of excessive snowfall. But the information available indicates that during the past two months little or no snow fell in the mountain zone bordering upper India on the west, and also that the falls in the western Himalayas were not on the whole abnormal in character. Further, as the previous snowfall was by no means excessive, it is clear that there are at present no abnormal accumulations such as existed in 1907.

The data regarding winds in the Indian Ocean show that there were two short periods of unfavourable conditions; but it appears that their influence did not persist and may probably be neglected at the present time. Almost the only disturbing symptom is the manner in which pressure has been oscillating at Mauritius, which suggests that the bigger air movements may be less steady than usual.

SUMMARY.

(a) The general conditions remain decidedly favourable and it may be expected that the total amount of rainfall in August and September will exceed the average.

(b) There are no marked indications of abnormality in the geographical distribution of rainfall.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 7th August 1909.

Burma.—The rainfall during the week was general in Lower Burma; heavy in the Arakan division and the Sittang valley; and normal elsewhere. In Upper Burma no rain fell in several dry zone districts, and in other parts of the dry zone and in Katha showers were light. Elsewhere the rainfall was good but in the wet districts on the northern border the rainfall to date is considerably below the normal. Ploughing for the main rice crop in Lower Burma is approaching completion and transplanting is making good progress. In Upper Burma cultivation of autumn crops is progressing satisfactorily. Prospects of standing crops are generally good but heavy floods in the Sittang valley have damaged the main crops on a large area in the Pegu district and some damage from floods on a small scale in the Irrawaddy valley is also reported from Tharrawaddy. Prices of unhusked rice are stationary and normal at the principal seaports. In the interior, prices have risen in two districts and have fallen in three districts and are ordinarily normal.

Eastern Bengal and Assam.—The weather was rainy and seasonable in the Dacca and Chittagong divisions, with very heavy rain in Chittagong. In the rest of the Province the weather was showery and seasonable but the rainfall was generally lighter. Malda, Nowgong and Manipur require more rain for transplanting winter rice. Prospects of jute are generally good and cutting and steeping are in progress. Prospects of autumn rice are generally good. The recent rain has facilitated transplantation of winter rice. The condition of tea shows some improvement. The number on gratuitous relief in Rangpur was 5. The average price of common rice is stationary. Cattle disease is prevalent in some districts.

Bengal.—The rainfall during the week was heavy in most parts of Lower Bengal and Bihar and in Darjeeling and Cooch Behar and moderate in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. The rain has done good to standing crops and has also facilitated transplantation of winter paddy. More rain is however still reported to be wanting in Hazaribagh and in parts of Burdwan, Bankura, Hooghly, Murshidabad, Purnea and Angul. All standing crops are said to be good but some damage has been done by the recent heavy rain to paddy in Jessore and Khulna and to makai in Patna, Monghyr and Palamau. Insects are doing injury to jute in parts of Nadia. The price of common rice has risen slightly in Howrah, Jessore, Purnea and Manbhum and has fallen in Nadia, Murshidabad, Patna, Gaya, Shahabad, Saran, Cuttack, Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Palamau. Cattle disease is reported from several districts. The supply of fodder and water is sufficient throughout the Province.

United Provinces.—Rain fell throughout the Provinces, being heaviest in the eastern sub-montane districts. Late sowings continue. Transplantation of late rice and weeding are in progress. Early autumn crops are being harvested in many places. Standing crops are in good condition almost everywhere but a break in the rains is needed. The condition of agricultural stock is good. Cattle disease is reported from twenty-eight districts. Markets are well supplied. Prices are generally stationary.

The weekly report on the famine and scarcity is as follows:—The labouring and cultivating classes are in good condition. Distribution of gratuitous relief is in progress in Kheri and Bahraich. The numbers reported include those in receipt of valedictory doles in Mirzapur and Garhwal and workers who received a final dole in Bahraich. The numbers on Government relief are:—on gratuitous relief 18,001; on poorhouse relief in Bahraich 18; total on relief 18,019. Prices:—Kheri 14 and Bahraich 14½ seers per rupee.

Punjab.—Heavy rain fell in the sub-montane tracts and good to moderate rain in the other districts of the Province except Ferozepore and Jhang, the poorest falls having been recorded in the south-western districts. Sowings of autumn crops continue satisfactorily. Standing crops are generally in good condition but more rain is wanted in Delhi owing to westerly winds. Crops have been damaged by grasshoppers in parts of Ambala and Sialkot and by insects in parts of Shahpur. Maize has been damaged by excessive rain in Ambala and rats are damaging the crops in parts of Ferozepore. Considerable damage to extra spring crops by floods has been reported in the Kacha tract of Mianwali. Prices are generally unsettled but there is a slight downward tendency noticeable in parts of the Delhi and Lahore divisions. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient. There is a general complaint of a short canal supply in tahsils Toba Tek Singh and Samandri of the Lyallpur district. The canal was closed in Delhi.

North-West Frontier Province.—The rainfall during the week ranged from 25 cents in Swabi to 1 inch 83 cents in Mardan and was beneficial to standing crops and for sowings of autumn crops. The condition of crops is average except on unirrigated lands in the Charsadda tahsil of Peshawar where it is poor. Harvesting of extra spring crops continues in Bannu and the outturn is average both in Bannu and Peshawar. The public health is good but slight fever is reported in the Charsadda tahsil. Cattle disease is prevalent in some villages of the Bannu tahsil. Some deaths occurred amongst cattle in the Dera Ismail Khan tahsil. Fodder is sufficient. Canal irrigation is satisfactory in Peshawar where rivers are rising. Prices are fluctuating. Prices :—wheat 10¾ to 11½; maize 13¾ to 16½; gram 12¾ to 15; bajra 12¾ to 13; and barley 18¼ seers per rupee.

Jammu.—Good rain fell during the week. Prices are stationary. Wheat sells from 10 to 18 and maize from 14 to 20 seers per rupee. The condition of standing crops is fair. Cattle disease of mild type is reported from two districts. Fodder is sufficient. Sowing of crops for the autumn harvest is still in progress in some parts.

Kashmir.—The weather was bright and hot except for slight rain. Water is decreasing in nallahs. Crops are in good condition. The condition of fodder is average. There is no disease among cattle. Prices are unchanged.

Rajputana.—Rain fell throughout the Agency. The maximum fall was 901 cents in Partabgarh and the minimum 19 cents in Jodhpur. Standing crops and prospects are, on the whole, good. Crops have been damaged in Mewar and Ajmer by excessive rain and in parts of Jaipur and Tonk by worms. The condition of cattle is good. Pasturage and fodder are ample. Prices generally continue becoming easier.

Central India.—The rainfall during the week was general but more is needed in parts of Indore. Sowing and weeding of autumn crops continue. Land is being prepared for spring crops in Gwalior, Baghelkhand and Bhopawar. Crops have been damaged by heavy rain in parts of Malwa. Agricultural stock are satisfactory except for some cattle disease in parts of Gwalior, Indore, Baghelkhand, Bundelkhand and Bhopawar. Prices have fallen slightly in Indore and Malwa and are stationary but high elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—During the week 2¾ inches of rain fell in Balaghat and 1 inch in Mandla. Elsewhere the quantity registered measured from 9 cents in Seoni to 60 cents in Buldana. The outlying tahsils of Jubbulpore, Seoni and Yeotmal had some heavy showers. The break and the sunshine which accompanied it were welcome and facilitated weeding and the later autumn sowings. More rain is wanted in Amraoti and in parts of Chhattisgarh. Thinning and transplantation are in rapid progress and in some places they are nearing completion. The condition of standing crops is good. Preparation of land for sowing of spring crops is in progress in Saugor, Jubbulpore, Seoni, Narsinghpur, Chhindwara and the districts of Berar. Fodder and water are sufficient. Cattle are doing well. The price of wheat remained stationary in thirteen districts; juar and gram in sixteen; and rice in twenty districts. Juar fell in Chhindwara and Chanda by 1 and 1¾ seers per rupee respectively. Prices of staple food grains elsewhere fluctuated slightly with a tendency to fall.

Feudatory States.—During the week light to moderate rain fell in ten States ranging from 27 cents in Chhuikhadan to 6½ inches in Jashpur. More rain is needed in Kawardha and Raj-Nandgaon to facilitate thinning operations. Sowing of kutki, til, rice and pulses are still in progress in Chhuikhadan, Raj-Nandgaon, Kanker, Sirguja and Jashpur. Transplantation, thinning and weeding of autumn crops continue. Germination is good. Insects are still doing injury to crops in Sakti. Preparation of land for sowing of spring crops is in progress in Kawardha, Chhuikhadan, Raj-Nandgaon, Sarangarh and Jashpur. The supply of fodder and water are adequate. Prices :—rice became dearer by one seer per rupee in Raigarh and Sakti. Prices were steady elsewhere.

Bombay.—The rainfall during the week was heavy in parts of Ahmedabad, the Panch Mahals, the Konkan, Nasik, Palanpur, Mahi Kantha, Rewa Kantha, Savantvadi and Kolhapur; good in parts of Thar and Parkar, Surat, Kathiawar and Baroda; moderate in parts of Hyderabad, Khandesh, Poona, Satara, Belgaum and Cutch; and slight in parts of Karachi, the Upper Sind Frontier, Broach, Ahmednagar, Sholapur, Bijapur and Dharwar. The rainfall was general and beneficial but more is needed for autumn crops in parts of the Deccan and the Karnatak. Sowing of autumn crops has been completed in Thar and Parkar, Satara and Dharwar; it is nearly over in East Khandesh, Nasik, Poona, Bijapur, Belgaum and Kathiawar and continues elsewhere. Transplantation has been completed in Colaba and Satara; it is nearly over in Larkana, Thana, Ratnagiri and Poona and continues in parts of Karachi, Sukkur, Ahmedabad, the Panch Mahals, Kanara, Belgaum and Rewa Kantha. Weeding is in progress generally. Standing crops are suffering in parts of Poona, Ahmednagar and Bijapur owing to insufficient rain. They have been slightly damaged by rats or insects in parts of Karachi, Hyderabad, the Upper Sind Frontier, Poona and Belgaum and by flood in parts of Ahmedabad and are generally in good condition elsewhere, especially in Gujarat and the Konkan where a break in the rains would be beneficial. Sowing of cotton continues in parts of Ahmedabad, Broach, Surat, Baroda and Cutch. The fodder supply is generally adequate. Agricultural stock are sufficient except in parts of Ahmednagar, Poona, Sholapur, Satara and Cutch and are generally in good condition. The supply of drinking water and of water for irrigation are generally adequate. Water is insufficient in some canals in Sind. Prices of food grains have fallen slightly in Ahmedabad, the Panch Mahals, Surat, Kanara, East Khandesh and Poona; have risen slightly in Satara; and are generally stationary elsewhere. The quantity purchasable per rupee is in Sind 31 to 41 per cent; in Gujarat 14 to 40 per cent; in the Konkan 5 to 35 per cent; in the Deccan 13 to 28 per cent; and in the Karnatak 27 to 38 per cent less than the normal. Stocks of grain are adequate. Labourers get sufficient employment. The cultivating and labouring classes are generally in fair condition. There are 93 persons on gratuitous relief in Bijapur.

Hyderabad.—The rainfall during the week was 1 inch 35 cents. Rain fell during the week throughout the Dominions. It was good in the Aurangabad, Adilabad, Nizamabad, Nander and Parbhani districts; fair to poor elsewhere; and very poor in the Raichur district where the average is 16 cents. The highest falls were 3 inches 89 cents and 3 inches 92 cents respectively in the Aurangabad and Bhokardan talukas of the Aurangabad district and 3 inches 76 cents and 3 inches 71 cents in the Nirmal and Adilabad talukas respectively of the Adilabad district. Kuppal in the Salar Jang Estate received only 44 cents which has proved beneficial but more rain is urgently required. Sowings of autumn crops are still in progress in parts. The crop is reported to be withering in the Raichur district and seedlings are badly in need of rain. The crop is fair to good elsewhere except in parts of Aurangabad where it has been damaged by excessive rain and in parts of the Nalgonda and Mahbubnagar districts where it has been damaged by insects. Lands are being prepared for spring crops in most districts and early rice is also being sown. The crop is fair to good generally. Cattle disease and fodder scarcity are reported in five and two talukas respectively. Prices:—wheat 6¾; coarse rice 7½; and juar 14½ seers per rupee. White juar is selling in Hyderabad City at 12½ seers per rupee. Yellow juar is not available. The highest price in districts is 9 seers in the Kushtagi taluka of the Raichur district and the Adilabad taluka of the Adilabad district and the lowest 25 seers in the Udgir taluka of the Bidar district.

Mysore.—The rainfall during the week was good in Bangalore, Kolar, Kadur and Shimoga; fair in Tumkur, Mysore and Hassan; and slight in Chittaldroog. Prices of food grains are generally steady and markets are well supplied. Standing crops are in good condition. Prospects of the season are fair. Cattle are generally healthy. Water and fodder are available.

Coorg.—The rainfall during the week was 2 inches 57 cents. Progress in transplanting rice is satisfactory. Prices of food grains are high. The public health is fair. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient. Cattle disease prevails in parts.

Madras.—The rainfall during the week was very heavy in South Canara and Malabar; heavy in the Nilgiris; good in North Arcot, Salem, Cuddapah, Nellore, Godavari, Kurnool, Trichinopoly and South Arcot; and light to fair elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are insufficient in parts of districts except Vizagapatam, Godavari, Kistna, Chingleput, Coimbatore, Trichinopoly, Malabar, South Canara and the Nilgiris. Ploughing, sowing, weeding and transplanting are in progress in parts. Standing crops are generally fair, but some in parts of Kurnool, Bellary, Anantapur, North Arcot, Coimbatore and Tinnevelly require more rain and some in parts of Madura are withering. Harvests continue in parts with outturn poor to normal and bumper. Pasture is insufficient in parts of Guntur, Bellary, Cuddapah, Nellore, Coimbatore and Tinnevelly. RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Home Department.

The Rules issued under the Indian Arms Act, 1878, were originally published with the Home Department Notification no. 518, dated the 6th March 1879. As the result of successive amendments and additions during the past thirty years, these rules have become most intricate and confusing, and it is believed that in their present form they cause inconvenience to the officers who have to administer them as well as to the public, especially to those who are connected with the trade in arms and ammunition. The Governor General in Council has therefore caused them to be codified in a clearer form. The revised rules have been circulated to local Governments and Administrations for their opinions; and a large number of minor amendments suggested by them have been adopted. The rules as finally approved by the Governor General in Council are now published for general information, in supersession of those hitherto in force. The changes which have been made in the rules are, for the most part, only such as are necessary in order to make them clear or in consequence of administrative changes, such as the formation of the North-West Frontier Province, the creation of new districts in the Punjab and the formation of the province of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above Resolution and the rules be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

Ordered further that copies of the Resolution and the rules be forwarded to all local Governments and Administrations, and to the Political Officers noted on the margin, for information; and also to all Departments of the Government of India, all Heads of Departments subordinate to the Home Department.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 hrs. on Thursday, the 19th August 1909, based on the Indian Daily Weather Reports of the period.

Both branches of the monsoon current were inactive on most days of the week and rainfall was in consequence below the average over Burma, nearly the whole of northern India and the greater part of the peninsula. The only divisions which received the normal quantity of rain were the Stations in the Bay, Assam, Bengal proper, Chota Nagpur, south Hyderabad, Mysore, the Madras Deccan and the north Madras coast. Practically no rain fell in northwest India (excluding the east and north Punjab), Central India and the west of the Central Provinces.

Burma.—The central districts received very little rain, but over the rest of the province rainfall was widespread though not heavy. Skies were moderately clouded. Normal temperature conditions prevailed.

Northeast India, including Orissa.—During the first part of the week rainfall occurred chiefly in Eastern Bengal and Assam and during the second part in the province of Bengal. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded over the greater part of the division. Temperature was approximately normal.

The United Provinces, Central India and the Central Provinces.—At the end of the week light rain was fairly widespread in the east of the Central Provinces, but the rainfall on most days consisted of only a few scattered falls which occurred principally along the central Himalayas. Skies were clear or lightly to moderately clouded over the greater part of the division. Temperature was normal or in excess.

Northwest India.—Rain fell locally along the Himalayas and in the vicinity of Mount Abu. Skies were clear or only lightly clouded, except in parts of Rajputana and of Gujarat and along the Punjab Himalayas, where cloud was moderate to heavy. Temperature was in defect in Rajputana.

The Peninsula.—Very little rain was received on the west coast, in the north of the Deccan and in southeast Madras, but rain fell in all other parts of the peninsula. Skies were lightly to heavily clouded. Temperature was nearly normal.

The following summarises the chief rainfall amounts as reported at 8 hrs. each day:—

August 13th. Port Blair 3·93", Tavoy 3·27", Moulmein 6·83", Akyab 3·85", Silchar 2·21" and Murree 2·81".

" 19th. Sibsagar 2·70", Sambalpur 2·78", Chaibassa 2·52" and Hazaribagh 2·21".

The rainfall of the whole period from the 30th April to the 19th August is within 20 per cent of the normal over the greater part of the country. It is 20 per cent or more in excess in Stations in the Bay, Bihar, Rajputana, Mysore, Malabar and southeast Madras; and 20 per cent or more in defect in the southwest Punjab, Kashmir, Baluchistan, Berar and the west of the Central Provinces.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 14th August 1909.

Burma.—Heavy rain fell during the week in the Arakan and Tenasserim divisions and in the northern border districts and moderate rain elsewhere except in Myingyan where there was no rain. Ploughing for the main rice crop in Lower Burma is nearly completed and transplanting is in progress. Cultivation of autumn crops in Upper Burma is progressing. Crop prospects are unchanged. The local estimate of the damage done by the Sittang floods now reduces the area of complete destruction from 80 to 10 thousand acres. Floods are subsiding and Government offers are being directed towards recultivation. Prospects are regarded as not quite hopeless. The price of unhusked rice has risen slightly in Rangoon, Mandalay and two other districts and has fallen considerably in Bhamo.

Eastern Bengal and Assam.—The weather during the week was hot but was attended with light showers in Rajshahi and Dinajpur; it was rainy and seasonable in the rest of the Province. The rainfall was heavy in the Dacca and Chittagong divisions. Slight damage was done to autumn rice by floods in the Dacca and Mymensingh districts. Jute and autumn rice are being harvested; the former promises a good, and latter a fair, outturn. The condition of tea is good. Transplantation of winter rice continues. Only 7 persons are on gratuitous relief in Rangpur. The average price of common rice is practically stationary. Cattle disease is reported from several districts.

Bengal.—Rain was general all over the Province. The fall was heavy in Darjeeling, Cooch Behar and in parts of Nadia and Khulna; moderate in Howrah, Jessore, Champaran and Muzaffarpur; and light elsewhere. More rain is wanted in parts of the 24-Parganas, Murshidabad, Purnea, Angul, Hazaribagh and Singbhum. Transplantation of winter rice continues. Harvesting of winter rice continues. Harvesting of autumn paddy and jute has commenced. The condition of standing crops is generally fair but they have been damaged to some extent by heavy rain in Jessore, Khulna and Darjeeling and by floods in Champaran. The price of common rice has risen in Nadia, Angul and Ranchi and has fallen in Burdwan, Birbhum, Jessore, Patna, Gaya, Champaran, Darbhanga, Cuttack, Balasore, Sambalpur and Manbhum and in the Bhagalpur Division excepting Darjeeling. Cattle disease is reported from several districts. The fodder and water supply is sufficient.

United Provinces.—Heavy rain fell in the hills and sub-montane districts and little or no rain in the western districts and Bundelkhand. A break would be beneficial. But rain is now required in several districts. The condition of standing crops is good except in some flooded areas. Weeding and preparation of fields for spring crops are in progress. Early autumn crops are being harvested. The condition of cattle is generally good but twenty-nine districts report cattle disease. Markets are well supplied. Prices are generally stationary.

The weekly report on the famine and scarcity is as follows:—The condition of people is good but fever is prevalent in parts of Kheri and Bahraich. Gratuitous relief continues in Bahraich. The numbers reported include those in receipt of valedictory doles in Mirzapur, Garhwal and Kheri and workers who received a final dole in Bahraich. The numbers on Government relief are:—on gratuitous relief 18,009; on poorhouse relief in Bahraich 15; total 18,024. Prices:—Bahraich 14½ seers per rupee.

Punjab.—The weakness of the monsoon was more pronounced during the week. The rainfall was chiefly confined to the sub-himalayan districts and was light to moderate in quantity. Sowings of autumn crops continue satisfactorily. Standing crops are generally in good condition but more rain is needed in several districts. Crops have been injured to some extent in Rohtak and Delhi owing to westerly winds and want of rain.

Crops have been damaged by insects in parts of Rohtak; by grass-hoppers in parts of Ambala, Shahpur and Sialkot; and by rats in parts of Ferozepore. Prices of food grains have risen slightly in Hissar and Rohtak but are generally in an unsettled condition throughout the Province. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient. The canal was closed in Delhi and complaints of a short water supply are still being received in tahsils Toba Tek Singh and Samandri of the Lyallpur district.

North-West Frontier Province.—Rain fell in all districts except Bannu, ranging from 21 cents in Charsadda to 8 inches 63 cents in Swabi. The rain was beneficial to standing crops and for cultivation of autumn crops. The condition of crops is average in Dera Ismail Khan and fairly good in Peshawar except in the Charsadda tahsil where it is poor on unirrigated lands. The outturn is average both in the Bannu and Peshawar tahsils. Slight fever is reported in the Charsadda tahsil of Peshawar. Otherwise, the health of people is good. Cattle disease is reported from six villages of the Nowshera tahsil of Peshawar. Fodder is sufficient. Canal irrigation is satisfactory in Peshawar where rivers are rising. Irrigation from the Paharpur canal has been stopped. Prices are stationary in Peshawar and fluctuating in Bannu and Dera Ismail Khan. Prices:—wheat 10 9/16 to 11½; maize 13¼ to 16½; gram 13 to 15; bajra 11 to 13¾; and barley 18½ seers per rupee.

Jammu.—Good rain fell during the week. Prices are stationary. Wheat sells from 10 to 18 and maize from 12 to 20 seers per rupee. The condition of standing crops is fair. Cattle disease of mild type is prevalent in two districts. Fodder is sufficient. Sowing of crops for the autumn harvest is still in progress in some parts.

Kashmir.—The weather was bright except for very slight rain which did good to crops. The condition of crops is good and that of fodder average. There is no disease among cattle. Prices are almost unchanged.

Rajputana.—Showers of rain fell during the week at places. Rain is wanted in Alwar and Dholpur. Standing crops and prospects are good. Damage to crops by insects is reported from Mewar, Tonk and Kishengarh and to maize in Partabgarh by excessive rain. The condition of cattle is good except in parts of Mewar. Pasturage and fodder are ample. Prices are rising in Kishengarh, Marwar and Jhalawar and are steady or falling elsewhere.

Central India.—The rainfall during the week was nil in Bundelkhand; partial in Bhopal; and general elsewhere. Sowing and weeding of autumn crops continue. Land is being prepared for spring crops in Gwalior, Indore, Bhopal, Baghelkhand and Bhopawar. Crops have been slightly damaged in parts of Malwa. Agricultural stock are satisfactory except for some cattle disease in parts of Gwalior, Indore, Bhopal, Baghelkhand, Bundelkhand and Bhopawar. Prices have fallen slightly in parts of Malwa and Bhopawar and are high but stationary elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—No rain fell during the week in the Vindhyan, Nerbadda Valley and Satpura districts and in Buldana. Drug, Raipur and the outlying tracts of Narsinghpur received fairly good rain not exceeding 2½ inches. Elsewhere the quantity registered ranged from 4 cents in Akola to 76 cents in Bilaspur. The break in the rains has considerably benefited crops and facilitated agricultural operations but rain is now needed especially for the rice crop. Weeding, thinning, transplanting and preparation of land for sowing of spring crops continue. Transplantation was retarded to some extent for want of rain in Bhandara and Balaghat. Standing crops are at present in good condition. Grasshoppers did slight damage to rice in parts of Baloda bazar in Raipur. The supply of fodder and water is adequate everywhere. Agricultural stock are in good condition. Prices remained almost stationary during the week. Rice became cheaper in Bilaspur by ½ seer and juar became dearer in Nimar, Chhindwara and Wardha by 1¾ seers. Gram fell in Mandla and Hoshangabad by 1½ and 2½ seers and rose in Amraoti and Chanda by 1 and 1½ seers per rupee.

Feudatory States.—Rain is reported from nine States, ranging from 6 cents in Raj-Nandgaon to 3¾ inches in Jashpur. More rain is required for thinning operations in Kawardha, Chhuikhadan, Khairagarh and Raj-Nandgaon and for rice and kodon on light soils in Kawardha and Raj-Nandgaon. So far the condition of crops is good. Transplantation, thinning and weeding are in progress. Preparation of land for sowing of spring crops continues in Kawardha, Chhuikhadan, Raj-Nandgaon, Sarangarh and Jashpur. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of rice in Raj-Nandgaon rose by 1¼ seers and fell in Kanker by 1 seer per rupee. Elsewhere prices were stationary or varied slightly.

Bombay.—The rainfall during the week was good in parts of Kanara, Kathiawar, Savantvadi and Kolhapur; moderate in parts of Ratnagiri; and slight in other districts. The rainfall was general and beneficial but more is needed for autumn crops in parts of Colaba, Kanara, the Deccan, the Karnatak, Savantvadi and Kolhapur. Sowing of autumn crops is completed in East Khandesh, Satara and Bijapur; it is nearly over in the Panch Mahals and Nasik and continues in Sind, Ahmedabad, Kaira, Surat, Kanara, West Khandesh and the Gujarat Native States. Transplantation has been completed in Ratnagiri; it is nearly over in Larkana and Kaira and continues in parts of Karachi, Sukkur, Ahmedabad, Thana and Kanara. Weeding is in progress generally. Standing crops are suffering in parts of the Deccan and Kolhapur owing to insufficient moisture; they have been slightly damaged by rats and insects in parts of Karachi, Hyderabad, and West Khandesh and by insects in parts of the Upper Sind Frontier, Poona, Bijapur and Dharwar and are generally in good condition elsewhere. Sowing of cotton continues in parts of Ahmedabad, Broach, Surat, Baroda and Cutch. The fodder supply is adequate. Agricultural stock are sufficient except in parts of Ahmednagar, Poona, Sholapur, Satara and Cutch and are generally in good condition. The supply of drinking water and of water for irrigation are generally adequate. Water is insufficient in canals in Sind. Prices of food grains have risen slightly in Ahmedabad, Kanara and Sholapur and are generally stationary elsewhere. The quantity purchasable per rupee is in Sind 32 to 41 per cent; in Gujarat 17 to 40 per cent; in the Konkan 9 to 35 per cent; in the Deccan 13 to 28 per cent; and in the Karnatak 35 to 38 per cent less than the normal. Stocks of grain are adequate. Labourers get sufficient employment. The cultivating and labouring classes are generally in fair condition. 93 persons were gratuitously relieved in Bijapur.

Hyderabad.—The rainfall during the week was 43 cents. The rain during the week was very scanty. Only four talukas received above 2 inches while 37 talukas received no rain. The Telingana districts were more fortunate than Maharawada. There was rain throughout the Raichur district, except in the Lingsugur taluka, which has improved prospects somewhat Kuppal in the Salar Jang Estate received 1 inch 15 cents but this being insufficient prospects continue as before. The highest fall was 2 inches 64 cents in the Bodhan taluka of the Nizamabad district. Sowings of autumn crops are in progress in isolated tracts. Standing crops are fair to good generally except in the Raichur district and some other parts. Some damage was done to crops by insects in parts of the Nalgonda, Bir and Mahbubnagar districts. Lands are still under preparation for spring crops in most parts. Early rice sowings still continue in parts and where sowings have been completed weeding is in progress and seedlings are fair. Water scarcity is felt at the headquarters of the Yellareddi taluka. Cattle disease and fodder scarcity are reported in five and two talukas respectively. Prices:—wheat 7; coarse rice 7½; and juar 14⅝ seers per rupee. White juar is selling in Hyderabad City at 12½ seers per rupee. Yellow juar is not available. The highest price is 9 seers in the Kushtagi taluka of the Raichur district, the Paloncha taluka of the Warangal district and in the Adilabad district and the lowest 25 seers in the Udgir taluka of the Bidar district.

Mysore.—The rainfall during the week was good in Bangalore and Mysore; and slight elsewhere. Prices of food grains are generally steady and markets are well supplied. Standing crops are in good condition. Prospects of the season are fair. Cattle are generally healthy. Water and fodder are available.

Coorg.—The rainfall during the week was 47 cents. Progress in transplanting rice is satisfactory. Prices of food grains are high. The public health is fair. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient. Cattle disease prevails in parts.

Madras.—The rainfall during the week was heavy in South Arcot, Kistna and Trichinopoly; good in South Canara, Godavari, Guntur, Salem, Tanjore, North Arcot, the Nilgiris, Ganjam, Chingleput, Madura, Vizagapatam, the littoral and Cuddapah; and light to fair elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are insufficient in parts of districts except Vizagapatam, Godavari, Kistna, Chingleput, Trichinopoly, Tanjore, Malabar, South Canara and the Nilgiris. Ploughing, sowing, weeding and transplanting are in progress in parts. Standing crops are generally fair and have been benefited by the recent rains in North Arcot and Salem; but some in parts of the Deccan require more rain and some in parts of Coimbatore and Madura are withering. Harvests continue in parts with outturn poor to normal and bumper. Pasture is insufficient in parts of Guntur, the Deccan, Nellore, Coimbatore and Tinnevelly. Fodder is scanty in parts of Godavari, Guntur, the Deccan and North Arcot. The condition of cattle is generally good. The price of rice is stationary in seventeen districts; has fallen in two; and has risen in four. The prices of millets have fluctuated as follows:—Ragi is stationary in twelve districts; has fallen in six; and has risen in three. Cholam is stationary in three districts; has fallen in five; and has risen in six. Cumbu is stationary in six districts; has fallen in eight; and has risen in one. The public health is generally good. Prospects are generally fair. The condition of the labouring classes is good and employment is available. Grain stocks are generally sufficient.

shall be punishable with fine which may amount in the case of a first conviction to fifty rupees or in the case of a second or subsequent conviction to one hundred rupees.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of the Bill is to prevent the spread of dourine, a contagious disease of horses which is spread by coition. The existence in India of this obscure disease was first brought to the notice of Government in 1903. As it was reported to constitute a serious menace to the horse-breeding industry in this country, precautionary measures were at once taken executively to check the spread of the disease, especially in the horse-breeding districts of Northern India. In the following year attention was again drawn to the importance of the subject, and as the result of a report by the present Inspector General of the Civil Veterinary Department, further executive action was taken. After consulting Local Governments it was eventually decided that, in order effectually to combat the disease, legislation was necessary.

2. The Bill, which is self-explanatory, has been drawn up on the model of the Glanders and Farcy Act, XIII of 1899. It is permissive in character and has been drafted so as to allow the widest discretion to Local Governments as regards the registration of stallions maintained for breeding purposes.

3. Dourine cannot be diagnosed except by bacteriological examination, and sub-clause 8 (b) accordingly makes proof of the disease by microscopical examination a necessary preliminary to further action under that clause. It is considered advisable to enlist the co-operation of horse-owners as much as possible in dealing with this obscure and dangerous disease, and liberal provision has been made in clause 9 for the payment of compensation when necessary.

THE SCHEDULE.

ENACTMENTS REPEALED.

(See section 30.)

Year.	No.	Short title.	Extent of repeal.
1905	III	The Indian Paper Currency Act, 1905.	So much as has not been repealed.
1909	II	The Indian Paper Currency (Amendment) Act, 1909.	The whole.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is the amendment of the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1905, in two directions as described below:—

Firstly,

(a) by declaring currency notes of the denominational values of rupees ten and fifty to be "universal" (as currency notes of the value of five rupees already are), that is to say, to be legal tender in any part of British India and payable at any currency office; and

(b) by taking general power to make a similar declaration regarding currency notes of other denominations, as may from time to time be found expedient.

Secondly,

(a) by abolishing the existing sub-circle arrangements, under which currency notes other than universal notes are at present payable not only at the office of issue, but also at the Presidency-town in which the office is situate; and

(b) by establishing independent circles of issue at Cawnpore, Lahore and Karachi and abolishing the Calicut sub-circle office.

As the attainment of this object involves considerable amendment of the existing Act, it has been thought advisable to take the opportunity of consolidating the law on the subject. The present Bill is, therefore, introduced as a consolidating Bill repealing and replacing Act III of 1905.

The annexed notes on the various clauses of the Bill explain the amendments proposed, other than petty verbal changes such as the reference to the present Indian Coinage Act instead of to that of 1870 in clauses 11 and 13.

GUY FLEETWOOD WILSON.

The 26th August 1909.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 2 contains a definition of the term "universal currency note."

Sub-clause (a) provides for the immediate universalisation of the ten and fifty rupee notes, and sub-clause (b) is designed to obviate further amendment of the law if experience should show that other notes can beneficially be universalised.

Clause 4.—The latter part of section 3 of the existing Act is rendered unnecessary by the changes proposed in clauses 5 and 6, and has accordingly been omitted.

Clause 5.—Section 4, clause (a), of the existing Act has been altered to provide for the new circles of issue; and the retention of clause (e) is rendered unnecessary by the abolition of sub-circles.

Clause 6.—In view of the abolition of sub-circles, it is considered unnecessary to retain the distinction between Deputy Commissioners and Commissioners of Paper Currency. Henceforward all will be Commissioners.

Clauses 7, 9 and 10.—The changes made in sections 6, 8 and 9 of the Act are rendered necessary by the proposed abolition of the post of Deputy Commissioners of Paper Currency.

Clauses 15 and 16.—The sections concerned with "legal tender" and the encashment of notes have been modified to provide for the universal notes.

Provisos (i) and (ii) in clause 16 continue the privilege of double encashment (at the local office and at the head office of the circle) to sub-circle notes of what will hereafter be separate circles issued prior to the passing of the Bill.

Clause 18.—This is a new clause, designed to provide, particularly, for the future treatment of notes issued from Calicut and now current, and, generally, for any future case in which it may be found necessary to close an office of issue.

Clause 29 (d).—Power has been taken to make rules, such as are already in force under executive instructions, for dealing with the encashment of lost or mutilated notes.

ANAND MARRIAGE BILL.

The Hon'ble SARDAR SUNDAR SINGH SAID: "My Lord, in begging leave to move that the Bill to give legal sanction to a marriage ceremony common among the Sikhs called 'Anand' be referred to a Select Committee, I would with Your Excellency's permission make a few short cursory remarks about it.

"I deem it incumbent upon me to mention that the credit for this useful measure is mainly due to the Hon'ble Tikka Sahib of Nabha, who has laboured unremittingly to work it up and to invest it with such interest as to command almost universal approval from the Sikh community both high and low.

"The ceremony was initiated by the third Guru of the Sikhs, Guru Amar Das Sahib, and the marriages of Bhai Kamlia and Matho Murari were performed in accordance therewith in the time of the third and fourth Gurus, the last of whom composed the four Lanwans in the Suhi Rag of the Guru Granth Sahib, the sacred book of the Sikhs. A complaint was made to Emperor Akbar and the third Guru sent his son-in-law, Guru Ram Das, to the Emperor's court. After due enquiry the ceremony was held to be legally valid, and it remained in force ever since. The sixth Guru's daughter, Bibi Viro, was married in accordance with this rite, and up to this time in the village of Chabbal (District Amritsar) every year a fair is held to commemorate this event, and on this occasion Lanwans are recited. Only during the reign of Maharaja Ranjit Singh this ceremony fell into partial disuse, but all the same, while it received a check from the indirect Brahmnical influence of the time, it survived, though fortunately for us, in the form of widow remarriages, merely because such marriages were not recognised by the Hindu law. It however remained in vogue amongst the four sects of the Sikhs-Bihangams (Nihan Singhs), Bandaies (followers of Baba Banda), Narankaris (the sect named after Guru Nanak Niran Kari), and last of all in the Nam Dharias (the followers of Baba Ram Singh). A revival has again set in and since the last thirty years or so several marriages have taken place in accordance with this ceremony. Among those who have performed their marriages in accordance with this rite may be counted Rajas, Sirdars, Jagirdars, Sants, Pujaris, Guru Ans (decendants of the Gurus), military officers, agriculturists and professional gentlemen. These marriages have been duly notified in the Sikh papers from time to time.

"My Lord, this form of marriage is one of the most popular forms of marriage among the Sikhs, and being simple and inexpensive is, from the point of view of economy, likely to become general among the Sikhs. Why it has not become so up to this time is due to the doubts that have been thrown upon it by interested parties as to its validity in case the marriage custom were ever to be questioned in a Law Court.

"My Lord, the Sikhs being monotheistic in belief, it is difficult for them, nay it is even against their religious belief, to follow idolatrous forms. A perusal of the opinions and petitions received in the Legislative Department of the Government of India show that the measure has had almost universal support. I observe that only a very small number of persons have sounded a dissenting note. I will, if need be, deal with their objections in the later stage of this Bill and would not, at present, take up Your Excellency's and my Hon'ble colleagues' valuable time.

"My Lord, it is necessary to save the poor and most backward Sikh community, the loyal subjects of His Majesty the King-Emperor, from the ruinous effects of litigation and also from the rather provoking insinuations of some interested parties who do not hesitate to question the legitimacy of the offspring of such marriages.

"Finally I beg leave to say that the provisions of the Bill in their present form are only permissive and I am unable to guess the reasons of those who have dissented from the provisions of a legislative measure which has the support of high Government officials, and in the words of the Punjab Government letter is 'harmless' and likely to 'prevent very costly and widespread litigation'.

"My Lord, the resolutions submitted speak eloquently of the gratitude of the whole Sikh community from the Ruling Chiefs down to the lowest rank of society to Your Excellency's sympathetic and kind Government, and I need not say that the Sikhs look fervently to the day when this Bill will become law.

"With these brief remarks I beg leave of Your Excellency to move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Sinha, the Hon'ble Sir Herbert Risley, the Hon'ble Mr. Merk and myself."

The motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN VOLUNTEERS (AMENDMENT) BILL.

His Excellency THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF moved that the Bill further to amend the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869, be taken into consideration.

The motion was put and agreed to.

His Excellency THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF moved that the Bill be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

DOURINE BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. MILLER said : "My Lord, I move for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the prevention of the spread of Dourine, a disease which affects equine stock used for breeding purposes. In Europe and America it has been necessary to introduce stringent restrictions to check this disease; but it is only in recent years that its existence in India has been definitely established. In 1903 the question of adopting measures to prevent its spreading was brought before the Government, and it was proposed to schedule the disease under the Glanders and Farcy Act. This could not however be done, as dourine, though dangerous, is a contagious and not an epidemic disease within the meaning of section 2 of that Act. It was also considered advisable that further enquiries should be made before any legislation was attempted, and an investigation was accordingly conducted in 1905 in the Punjab and the western districts of the United Provinces by Colonel Pease, who was then Principal of the Lahore Veterinary College, and whose authority is well known. The investigation showed conclusively that the disease existed in various parts of these Provinces, that it had been the cause of much loss of valuable animals and that it threatened seriously to affect the success of horse-breeding. Enquiries have since been made in other parts of the country, and these have fortunately shown that the existence of the disease has not as yet been detected in most Provinces. It is however of so serious a character as to make it necessary to have power to deal with it in any local areas where it may be found to exist; and a draft Bill was accordingly prepared and circulated to Local Governments for their opinion. This Bill, with the modifications thought necessary to meet the criticisms received from Local Governments, is the measure which I now ask leave to introduce. It is a purely permissive measure, and does not come into force except in areas in which a Local Government may think it necessary to direct that it should be applied. When brought into force it gives the Local Government certain powers for the registration of horses used for breeding purposes as well as for the appointment of veterinary Inspectors with powers of search and examination, and of veterinary practitioners with powers extending in certain cases, and with the approval of higher authority, to ordering the destruction of animals affected. At the same time, in order to prevent any hardship to private owners and to secure, as far as possible, their co-operation in the measures for detecting the disease and preventing its spread, provisions are included for the grant of pecuniary compensation, where loss may have been caused by the action taken under the powers given by the Bill."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. MILLER introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. MILLER moved that the Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, be published in the Gazette of India in English, and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN PAPER CURRENCY BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR GUY FLEETWOOD WILSON moved for leave to introduce a Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Government Paper Currency.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble SIR GUY FLEETWOOD WILSON said: "My Lord, I beg to introduce a Bill for the amending of our Paper Currency law. This Bill is necessitated by the new policy in regard to the universalization of currency notes which I indicated in my Budget speech. With one important exception, our currency notes have hitherto been issued from separate circles, and are, generally, current only within these. We have four main circles of issue, whose head-quarters are, respectively, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Rangoon. But there are also sub-circles of issue, with headquarters at Lahore, Cawnpore, Karachi and Calicut, and notes issued there are cashable not merely at the sub-circle offices in question, but at the head office to which each sub-circle is attached, Cawnpore and Lahore being, for this purpose, ancillary to the head office at Calcutta, Karachi to that of Bombay, and Calicut to that at Madras.

"The exception I noticed just now is in respect to the five-rupee note. In 1903 we made this universal outside Burma, i.e., a five-rupee note could be encashed at any Currency office in India proper, and in 1909 we extended this privilege to the Burma notes also, so that a five-rupee currency note is now universal, as regards circulation and encashment, throughout British India. We now, as I indicated in my Budget speech, propose to take a large further departure in this direction. We desire to make the ten-rupee and the fifty-rupee currency notes similarly universal, and we take power in the Bill now put before the Council to adopt a like method in regard to notes of even higher value, should circumstances render such action desirable. We do not propose to universalize the twenty-rupee note ; its circulation is small, and it makes no progress ; it is frequently confused with the ten-rupee note ; and it enters into undesirable competition with the sovereign, the circulation of which in India we desire to see increased. We do not propose to call in any of these outstanding twenty-rupee notes, but we shall issue no more of them, and as those now in circulation come back to us, they will not be reissued.

"The important concession to the public involved in the universalization of the ten-rupee and fifty-rupee notes will involve additional strain on our Currency balances, and we think it legitimate and desirable to counter this to some extent by doing away with the former privilege of encashing non-universal notes issued from sub-circles at the head circles to which these belong. Hereafter, the sub-circles at Lahore, Cawnpore and Karachi will become independent circles, and non-universal notes issued from these will in future only be cashable within them. We propose, however, that notes issued within these sub-circles before the passing of the new Bill should be encashable as formerly at their respective head offices.

"The transactions of the Calicut sub-circle are now on so small a scale, that we have decided to close it. Any notes issued from Calicut prior to such closure will, however, be encashable in Madras. Concomitantly with these arrangements, we propose, as I indicated in my budget speech, to withdraw the special concessions by which notes of other circles are received in payment of Government dues, and at railways and post offices. The universalization of the ten-rupee and fifty-rupee notes will obviate inconvenience arising from these arrangements. At the same time we intend, to prevent any possible inconvenience to inland trade by the new conditions, to lower our rates for Treasury and Currency transfers as soon as the present Bill becomes law. The arrangements I have just mentioned are, however, matters for executive action, and have not, therefore, been dealt with in the Bill.

"The policy which I have thus sketched out has been decided upon after consultation with the Presidency Banks, the Exchange Banks (through their associations in Calcutta and Bombay) and important Chambers of Commerce, and has evoked general approval from all these. But in order to obtain further elicitation of public opinion, I propose merely to introduce the Bill in Simla. It will then be published for general information, and no further steps towards its passing into law will be taken until the next Calcutta session. The amendments which the Bill introduces in the existing law have been, I think, sufficiently explained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, and I need not, therefore, take up the time of the Council in alluding to them now. I will only say that we are not altering our general Currency policy, and that the legislation now proposed merely provides the necessary instrument for giving effect to the larger universalization of currency notes which I have now explained; a policy which has already been so well received by the public."

The Hon'ble SIR GUY FLEETWOOD WILSON moved that the Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, be published in the Gazette of India in English, and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 hrs. on Thursday, the 26th August 1909, based on the Indian Daily Weather Reports of the period.

Pressure was low over the Bay at the beginning of the week; and this, though unfavourable for rainfall in northeast India, served a useful purpose in causing the Arabian Sea current to give good rainfall in the south of the peninsula, which gradually extended into the central parts of the country. On the 23rd the distribution of pressure changed; the deficiency of pressure in the Bay disappeared and the trough of low pressure moved away from the Himalayas. The Bay monsoon was thus enabled to flow more freely into northeast India and to extend westwards along the Himalayas, with the result that by the close of the week both branches of the monsoon were active, and rain was falling over nearly the whole country with the exception of the western desert.

Burma.—At the beginning of the week there was hardly any rain in Upper Burma, but as the week advanced the distribution of rainfall changed and from the 23rd to the 25th there was more rain in Upper Burma than in the coast districts. Skies were moderately clouded, and temperature was approximately normal.

Northeast India, including Orissa.—On most days there was no strong inflow of monsoon winds from the Bay and rainfall, though well distributed, was on the whole light and local. The amount of cloud varied from light to heavy in various parts of the division. Normal temperature conditions prevailed.

The United Provinces, Central India and the Central Provinces.—In the United Provinces rainfall was restricted chiefly to the northwestern districts and in the Central Provinces to the eastern: there were light scattered falls in the remainder of the division up to the 25th, when rainfall became nearly general. Moderate cloud was present. Temperature was either normal or in slight excess.

Northwest India.—Falls of rain were reported from the Punjab, Kashmir, the east of Rajputana and Gujarat. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded in the east and north of the Punjab, Rajputana and Gujarat and clear or only lightly clouded elsewhere. Temperature was normal or in defect in Rajputana, and normal or in excess in upper Sind and the southwest of the Punjab.

The Peninsula.—Rain fell in all parts of the division. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded. Temperature was generally normal.

The following summarises the chief rainfall amounts of the week, as reported at 8 hrs. each day:—

August 20th. Cuddapah 3·14″ and Salem 3·45″.

" 21st. Port Blair 3·72″, Bhamo 3·21″, Sibsagar 2·14″ and Cuttack 3·80″.

" 22nd. Seoni 2·47″ and Salem 4·48″.

August 23rd. Monywa 3·66", Burdwan 2·78" and Gulbarga 3·25".

" 24th. Kyaukpyu 4·56", Sirsa 2·00", Ahmedabad 2·52" and Madura 2·78".

" 25th. Gulbarga 2·06" and Cuddapah 2·97".

" 26th. Jaipur 3·90", Udaipur 3·33" and Bangalore 2·24".

The week's rainfall was heavier than usual over the greater part of the peninsula, which caused a marked increase in the excess in seasonal rainfall shown a week ago in southeast Madras. The only divisions in which the season's rainfall is as much as 20 per cent in defect are Berar, the Central Provinces (west), Central India (west), the Punjab (southwest), Kashmir and Baluchistan.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 21st August 1909.

Burma.—Heavy rain fell during the week in the Arakan and Tenasserim divisions, the northern border districts, the Shan States and the Chin Hills; also in Pegu and Myaungmya. Elsewhere the rainfall was moderate except in Kyaukse and Myingyan where no rain fell. Ploughing for the main rice crop in Lower Burma has been practically completed. Transplanting is in progress. Cultivation of autumn crops in Upper Burma is progressing. Crop prospects are favourable except in Thayetmyo and Prome where more rain is wanted. The inundated area in Pegu is reported as 98,000 acres of which 77,000 are completely destroyed. Floods have not yet subsided sufficiently for re-cultivation. Floods in the Kawlin township of Katha are retarding transplantation. The price of unhusked rice has fallen slightly in Mandalay and is stationary elsewhere.

Eastern Bengal and Assam.—The weather during the week was seasonable but the rainfall was less. Harvesting of jute continues and a good outturn is expected. Autumn crops are being reaped and promise a fair outturn. The growth of tea has been affected on low lands in Cachar which were flooded. Elsewhere prospects are good. Transplantation of winter rice still continues. There are no people on gratuitous relief. The average price of common rice has fallen by 1 per cent. Cattle disease prevails in several districts.

Bengal.—The rainfall was general throughout the Province; it was heavy in Burdwan, Birbhum, Bankura, Murshidabad, the Sonthal Parganas, Cuttack, Balasore, Hazaribagh, Singhbhum and Cooch Behar; moderate in North Bihar, Jessore, Bhagalpur, Darjeeling, Sambalpur, Ranchi and Manbhum; and light elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn paddy, marua and jute is still going on. Transplantation of paddy is also in progress. More rain is wanted in parts of the 24-Parganas, Shahabad, Purnea, Angul and Sambalpur. The condition and prospects of standing crops are fair. Some injury has been done by excessive rain in parts of Khulna, Shahabad, Champaran and Darjeeling and by floods in Muzaffarpur. Insect-pests are reported from Sambalpur and Ranchi. The price of common rice has risen in Jessore, Darbhanga and Manbhum and has fallen in Bankura, Nadia, Champaran, the Sonthal Parganas, Balasore, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh and Ranchi. Cattle disease is reported from several districts. The fodder and water supply is sufficient throughout the Province.

United Provinces.—The rainfall was inconsiderable except in the Himalayan and south-eastern districts and a few submontane districts. More rain is now required throughout the western districts especially in the Agra division and Bundelkhand. The condition of standing crops is good except in local flooded areas. Harvesting of early autumn crops is in progress. Weeding and preparation of land for spring sowings continue. The condition of agricultural stock is generally good but cattle disease is reported from thirty-one districts. Markets are well supplied. Prices are generally stationary.

The weekly report on the famine and scarcity is as follows:—The health of the labouring and cultivating classes is good. Fever continues in Kheri and Bahraich. Gratuitous relief is being distributed in Bahraich. The numbers reported include those in receipt of valedictory doles in Mirzapur and Kheri and those who received a final dole in Bahraich. The numbers on Government relief are:—on gratuitous relief 15,127; on poor-house relief in Bahraich 20; total 15,147. Prices:—Bahraich 14½ seers per rupee.

Punjab.—Good to light rain has fallen in all districts except Ferozepore, Shahpur, Lyallpur, Jhang and Multan. The heaviest falls were in the plains, ranging from 4 inches 33 cents in Rupar to 2 inches 17 cents in Sialkot. Sowings of autumn crops still continue in some districts. Ploughings for the next spring crops have commenced in certain districts. The condition of standing crops is generally good except in Rohtak where unirrigated crops have begun to wither owing to the cessation of the rains. More rain is wanted nearly all over the Province. Crops have been damaged in several districts by grass-hoppers and by rats in Ferozepore. Prices of food grains have risen slightly in Ambala, Mianwali and Lyallpur and have fallen in Rohtak, Gujranwala and Multan. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient. The canal was closed in Delhi and complaints of a short water supply are still being received from the Lyallpur and Samandri tahsils of the Lyallpur district.

North-West Frontier Province.—The rainfall was general all over the Province, ranging from 20 cents at Ahmedzai in Bannu to 483 in Swabi. The rain was beneficial to standing crops and for cultivation of autumn crops but has damaged buildings in Swabi. The condition of standing crops is fairly good in Peshawar and average in Bannu and Dera Ismail Khan. Sowing of autumn crops is in progress in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan and is finished in Bannu. The outturn of extra spring crops is average. The health of the people is good except in Tank and its neighbourhood. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder and water are sufficient. Irrigation from canals is satisfactory. The Paharpur canal has been repaired. There were floods in Tochi and Kurram and the waters in rivers are rising. Prices have improved slightly in Peshawar and are fluctuating in Bannu and Dera Ismail Khan. Prices:—wheat 10⅜ to 11¼; maize 14⅞ to 16¼; gram 12⅜ to 14; bajra 13¼ to 14; and barley 18 13/16 seers per rupee.

Jammu.—Good rain fell during the week. Prices are fluctuating. Wheat sells from 10 to 14 and maize from 12 to 24 seers per rupee. The condition of standing crops is fair. Cattle disease of mild type prevails in two districts of the Province. Fodder is sufficient. Land is being prepared in some parts for the spring harvest.

Kashmir.—The weather was bright and warm. No rain fell during the week. The condition of crops is good. Fodder is sufficient. There is no disease among cattle. Prices are unchanged.

Rajputana.—Showers of rain fell in places. The maximum fall was 81 cents in Bundi. Standing crops and prospects are good but rain is wanted in Tonk, Kotah, Jhalawar, Alwar, Bharatpur and Dholpur. Damage by insects is reported in Mewar and Tonk. The condition of cattle is good except in parts of Mewar. Pasturage and fodder are ample. Prices have risen in Bikaner, Shahpura, Tonk, Karauli and Dholpur; have fallen in Mewar and Bundi; and are steady or fluctuating slightly elsewhere.

Central India.—The rainfall was general in Bhopawar; partial in Bhopal; and nil elsewhere. More rain is urgently needed. Weeding of autumn crops continues and land is being prepared for spring crops. Crops have been damaged slightly in parts of Indore. Agricultural stock are satisfactory except for some cattle disease in parts of Indore, Bhopal, Baghelkhand, Bundelkhand, Malwa and Bhopawar. Prices have risen slightly in Bundelkhand; they are fluctuating in Indore and are stationary but high elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—During the week light to moderate rain fell all over the Provinces. The principal falls (in inches) were:—Drug 5¼; Balaghat 4¾; Mandla and Seoni each 3¾; and Nagpur 3. Elsewhere the quantity registered ranged from 2¾ inches in Bhandara and Yeotmal to 24 cents in Nimar. The lengthy break caused some withering of crops on high ground or inferior soil in places. Til in parts of Hoshangabad, rice in Chanda and minor crops on poor soil in Nimar suffered to a certain extent but the rain at the end of the week prevented any serious damage and greatly benefited standing crops which are generally in good condition. Prospects are favourable but more rain is needed in Jubbulpore, Seoni, Nimar, Betul, Chanda, Bhandara, Raipur, Bilaspur and the Vindhyan districts. Weeding, transplantation and preparation of land for sowing of spring crops continue. Fodder and water are sufficient everywhere. Cattle are doing well. Prices:—wheat remained stationary in 17 districts, gram in 15, rice in 16 and juar in 18 districts. Wheat in Damoh and Seoni and juar in Nimar fell, and wheat in Betul rose, by ½ seer per rupee. Rice rose by ½ seer in Raipur and gram fell by 1 seer in Amraoti. Fluctuations in the price of staple food grains elsewhere were unimportant.

Feudatory States.—Rain is reported from ten States, ranging from 8 cents in Sirguja to 4 inches in Kanker, but more rain is required especially for rice crops. Transplantation, thinning and weeding and preparation of land for sowing of spring crops continue. Early sown kutki is being cut in Korea. Grass-hoppers continue to damage crops in Sakti. Otherwise, the condition of autumn crops is good. Fodder and water are adequate. Prices :—rice in Raj-Nandgaon and Raigarh fell by ½ seer per rupee and kodon rose by 1½ seers in Kawardha. There were no marked variations elsewhere.

Bombay.—The rainfall during the week was good in parts of Bijapur, Dharwar and Kathiawar; moderate in parts of Surat, Thana, Colaba, Ratnagiri, Sholapur, Belgaum and Kolhapur; and slight in other districts of the Presidency Proper and in Thar and Parkar. The rainfall was general and beneficial but more is needed for standing crops in parts of Thar and Parkar, Kaira, Thana, Colaba, Kanara, the Deccan, Belgaum, Palanpur, Cutch, Savantvadi and Kolhapur. Sowing of autumn crops has been completed in East Khandesh, Nasik and Satara; it is nearly over in Kanara and continues in Sind, Ahmedabad, the Panch Mahals, Surat, West Khandesh and the Gujarat Native States. Transplantation has been completed in Karachi; it is nearly over in Sukkur and Larkana and continues in parts of Ahmedabad, Kaira, Thana, Kanara and Belgaum. Weeding is in progress generally. Standing crops are suffering in parts of West Khandesh, Nasik, Poona and Kolhapur owing to insufficient moisture; they have been damaged slightly by floods in parts of Karachi, by rats in parts of Hyderabad, by insects in parts of Belgaum and Dharwar and by disease in parts of Poona and are generally in good condition elsewhere. Sowing of cotton continues in parts of Gujarat, West Khandesh, Baroda and Cutch and has commenced in Bijapur and Dharwar. The fodder supply is adequate. Agricultural stock are sufficient except in parts of Ahmednagar, Poona, Sholapur, Satara and Cutch and are generally in good condition. The supply of drinking water and of water for irrigation are generally adequate. Water is insufficient in canals in Larkana, Hyderabad and the Upper Sind Frontier. Prices of food grains have fallen slightly in the Panch Mahals and Sholapur and are generally stationary elsewhere. The quantity purchasable per rupee is in Sind 30 to 41 per cent; in Gujarat 17 to 40 per cent; in the Konkan 9 to 35 per cent; in the Deccan 13 to 28 per cent; and in the Karnatak 28 to 38 per cent less than the normal. Stocks of grain are adequate. Labourers get sufficient employment. The cultivating and labouring classes are generally in fair condition. There were 76 persons on gratuitous relief in Bijapur.

Hyderabad.—The rainfall during the week was 1 inch and 36 cents. Good rain fell during the week in the Warangal, Raichur, Gulbarga, Mahbubnagar and Nalgonda districts and fair to poor rain elsewhere. The highest falls were :—7 inches 35 cents in the Kodangal taluka of the Gulbarga district; 7 inches 12 cents in the Pargi taluka of the Mahbubnagar district; 6 inches 56 cents in the Deodrug taluka of the Raichur district; and 6 inches 54 cents in the Madhra taluka of the Warangal district. Kuppal in the Salar Jang Estate received 1 inch 70 cents. Prospects are much improved. Sowings of autumn crops are almost over. Standing crops are generally fair to good but are still being damaged slightly by insects in parts of the Sultanabad taluka of the Karimnagar district. Early rice sowings continue. Standing crops are in fair condition and are being weeded. Lands continue to be under preparation for sowings of spring crops and sowings have begun in parts. Water scarcity is felt at the head quarters of the Yellareddi taluka. Cattle disease and fodder scarcity are prevalent in four and two talukas respectively. Prices :—wheat 6¾; coarse rice 7; and juar 14½ seers per rupee. White juar is selling in Hyderabad City at 12½ seers per rupee. Yellow juar is not available. The highest price in districts is 9 seers each in the Kushtagi taluka of the Raichur district and the Paloncha taluka of the Adilabad district and the lowest 24 seers in the Nilanga, Rajura and Udgir talukas of the Bidar district.

Mysore.—The rainfall during the week was good in Bangalore, Kolar and Chitaldrug; and fair elsewhere. Prices of food grains are generally steady and markets are well supplied. Standing crops are in good condition. Prospects of the season are good. Cattle are generally healthy. Water and fodder are available.

Coorg.—The rainfall during the week was 4 inches 21 cents. Transplanting of rice continues. Prices of food grains are high. The public health is fair. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient. Cattle disease prevails in parts.

Madras.—The rainfall during the week was heavy in North Arcot, Cuddapah and Guntur; light in Tinnevelly, Coimbatore, Vizagapatam, the littoral, Malabar and Madura; and good elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient in Vizagapatam, Godavari, Kistna, Guntur, Chingleput, Trichinopoly, Tanjore, Malabar, South Canara and the Nilgiris and insufficient in parts of other districts. Ploughing, sowing, weeding and transplanting are in progress in parts. Standing crops are generally fair and have been benefited by the recent rains in Bellary, Anantapur, North Arcot and Salem; but some in parts of Kurnool, Coimbatore and Madura require more rain. Harvests continue in parts with outturn mostly fair to bumper. Pasture is sufficient except in parts of Guntur, Bellary, Cuddapah, Nellore, Coimbatore and Tinnevelly. Fodder is scanty in parts of Godavari, Guntur and the Deccan and sufficient elsewhere. The condition of cattle is generally good. RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Finance Department.

In the Resolution of this Department No. 6181-A., dated the 29th October 1908, certain instructions were given as to the procedure to be followed by local authorities desirous of floating sterling loans in the open market. ACTS.

No. 48.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Sections 4 and 70 of the Indian Marine Act (XIV of 1887), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following amendments in Schedule VI of the rules to regulate the procedure of Indian Marine Courts, published with the Notification of the Government of India in the Marine Department, No. 56, dated the 28th August 1896 :—

For the note on Section 23 the following shall be substituted :—

" Note on Section 23.—A charge of drunkenness should be framed in the following manner :—

Charge.—Drunkenness on boardship (or on duty)
in that, on the 19 ,
on board the Royal Indian Marine vessel , he was drunk (or, on the 19 , at , when on duty, he was drunk).

Drunkenness includes intoxication from the effects of opium or any similar drug as well as from liquor.

In cases where conflicting or indecisive evidence is given, it may sometimes be very difficult to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion. The proper meaning to be attributed to the word ' drunk ' in such cases is this, that through the intoxicating effect of liquor or a drug the prisoner was unfit to be entrusted with his duty. On the one hand it is not necessary for the prosecution to prove that the prisoner was through liquor in any extreme condition, nor is the prisoner necessarily entitled to an acquittal by showing that on the occasion in question he could, or actually did, do some particular duty without manifest failure. If, upon consideration of all the evidence, the Court comes to the conclusion that the prisoner was, through the intoxicating effect of liquor, unfit to be entrusted with his duty, they should find him guilty of the charge. If, on the other hand, in the opinion of the Court, it is not satisfactorily proved that the prisoner was, through the intoxicating effect of liquor, or a drug, unfit to be entrusted with his duty, then, notwithstanding they may infer from the evidence that he had drunk more than usual, they ought to acquit."

The following shall be inserted as a note to Section 32 :—

" Note on Section 32.—A charge of alcoholism should be framed in the following manner :—

Charge.—An act to the prejudice of good order and discipline
in that, on the
19 , on board the Royal Indian Marine vessel (or, at),
being liable to duty, rendered himself unfit for the performance of such duty by reason of indulgence in alcoholic stimulants."

R. I. SCALLON, Major-General,
Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 hrs. on Thursday, the 2nd September 1909, based on the Indian Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The past week was one of abundant rainfall over nearly the whole Indian region. The only sub-divisions in which rainfall was in defect by as much as 20 per cent. were Lower Burma, Assam, Sind, the Konkan coast, the east of the Central Provinces, the north Madras coast and the Bay Islands. It was much heavier than usual in Eastern Bengal, Bengal proper, Chota Nagpur, the Punjab, the North-West Frontier Province, Rajputana, Mysore, the Madras Deccan and the southeast of Madras. A depression formed in Eastern Bengal on the 28th August and travelled in a westnorthwesterly direction into the west of the United Provinces where it disappeared on the 1st September. It gave heavy rain in parts of northeast India and was accompanied by an increased activity of the Arabian Sea current in the central parts of the country, the United Provinces and Rajputana. As it filled up a disturbance appeared over Kashmir and rainfall extended over the Punjab and Kashmir.

A depression began to form in an area of low pressure in the south of the Bay during the latter part of the week and caused an increase of rain in the south of the peninsula.

Burma.—Rainfall occurred in all parts of the province, but on most days it was only local in character. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded. Maximum temperature was in defect in the central districts.

Northeast India, including Orissa.—Very little rain fell in Assam and Orissa: rainfall was of almost daily occurrence in other parts of the division and was heavy in the areas affected by the depression mentioned above. Cloud was moderate to heavy. Temperature was in defect in the region of heavy rainfall.

The United Provinces, Central India and the Central Provinces.—Rainfall occurred throughout the division and some heavy falls were reported from the United Provinces on the 1st September. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded except at the beginning of the week when they were only lightly clouded in the United Provinces. The maximum temperatures recorded on the 1st were in moderate to large defect in the east of the United Provinces.

Northwest India.—Nearly all the observatories in the Punjab, Kashmir and Rajputana recorded rainfall and some of those in the North-West Frontier Province and Gujarat. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded in the east of the Punjab, Rajputana and Gujarat. Temperature was in more or less marked defect, especially in the daytime, in the Punjab, the North-West Frontier Province and Rajputana.

The Peninsula.—Rain fell chiefly in the south of Madras, Mysore and Hyderabad. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded. Temperature was nearly normal until the end of the week when it was in defect in Madras.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 28th August 1909.

Burma.—The rainfall in the Arakan division has been heavy but elsewhere in Lower Burma it has slackened. In Upper Burma excellent rain has been received. Transplanting of the winter rice crop is progressing steadily in Lower Burma and cultivation is also going on well in Upper Burma. Crop prospects are generally favourable. Besides the large tract already reported as flooded in Pegu, floods which are causing damage to crops on a smaller scale are reported from Toungoo and Thaton. The floods are subsiding but it is now getting late for transplanting the damaged areas. The price of unhusked rice is stationary and normal in the principal markets but in three districts of Upper Burma prices have risen slightly.

Eastern Bengal and Assam.—The weather during the week was seasonable. The rainfall was heavy in the Dacca division; very heavy in the Chittagong division; and fairly distributed throughout the rest of the Province. Damage by floods to autumn rice on low lands is reported from Dacca, Mymensingh, Tippera and Rajshahi. Insect pests are doing injury to winter rice in Rajshahi and Sibsagar. Harvesting of autumn rice and of jute and transplantation of winter rice continue in places. Sowing of winter potato has commenced in the hills. The condition of tea has improved Prospects of standing crops are generally fair. The average price of common rice is stationary. Cattle disease is reported from several districts.

Bengal.—The rainfall during the week was general all over the Province. The fall was very heavy in South-West Bengal and also in parts of Purnea, Darjeeling, Hazaribagh and Gayá; moderate in North Bihar, the Sonthal Parganas, Cuttack, Puri, Sambalpur and Singhbhum; and light in the rest of the Province. Some damage has been done by excessive rain in Jessore, Khulna, Shahabad, Champaran, Monghyr and Darjeeling. On the other hand more rain is reported to be wanting in parts of Shahabad, Angul and Sambalpur and in the last-named district autumn paddy has suffered to some extent for want of sufficient moisture. Transplantation of winter paddy still continues. Harvesting of jute, autumn paddy and marua is going on. Sugarcane is doing well. Prospects are fair. The price of common rice has risen in Purnea, Angul and Hazaribagh and has fallen in Jessore, Saran, the Sonthal Parganas, Ranchi and Manbhum. Cattle disease is reported from several districts. The fodder and water supply is sufficient throughout the Province.

United Provinces.—Good and general rain fell during the week and standing crops have been much benefited. Some damage from heavy rain is reported in South Garhwal. Agricultural operations are well advanced. Weeding and ploughing of land for spring sowings continue. Harvesting of early autumn crops, including early rice, is in progress. The condition of agricultural stock is generally good. Cattle disease is reported from twenty-eight districts. Markets are well supplied. Prices have fallen in eleven districts and are stationary elsewhere.

The weekly report on the famine and scarcity is as follows:—The health of the labouring and cultivating classes is good. Fever continues in Bahraich. The period of doles expired in Mirzapur on the 28th August. In Bahraich gratuitous relief ended with a fortnight's final dole on the 30th August and the poor-house was closed on the same date and the inmates dismissed with a valedictory dole for a fortnight. The numbers reported include workers who received doles in Bahraich. The numbers on Government relief are:—on gratuitous relief 12,285; on poor-house relief in Bahraich 17; total on relief 12,302. Prices:—Bahraich 14¼ seers per rupee.

Punjab.—Very good rain was received during the week in the Delhi division where it was most wanted and also in Jullundur, Ludhiana, Amritsar, Sialkot and Rawalpindi and fair rain in other districts except Multan. The recent rain has terminated a somewhat lengthy break and has greatly improved crop prospects. Further sowings of autumn crops still continue in some districts and ploughings for next spring are also in progress in several districts. Seasonable sowings of rocket (Tara mira) in Rawalpindi and toria in Lyallpur are being carried on. The condition of standing crops is generally good except on unirrigated tracts in Gujranwala and Shahpur where more rain is needed. Chena is being harvested in Ambala. Standing crops have been damaged by grass-hoppers in several districts, by rats in Ferozepore, by excessive rains in parts of Rohtak and by river flood in Mianwali. Prices have fallen slightly in Hissar, Rohtak, Delhi, Ambala, Jullundur and Sialkot and have risen in Ludhiana only. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient.

North-West Frontier Province.—Rain was reported from all districts, ranging from ·05 cents at Charsadda in Peshawar to 4 inches 4 cents at Sheikhbuddin in Dera Ismail Khan. The showers were beneficial to standing crops and for cultivation of autumn crops. The condition of crops on the whole is fairly good in Peshawar and average elsewhere. The outturn of extra spring crops is average. Sowings of autumn crops are in progress in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan. The health of people is good. The condition of cattle is good but cattle disease is reported from one village of the Nowshera tahsil in Peshawar. Irrigation from canals is satisfactory. There were floods in the Tochi and Kurram rivers. Prices are improving slightly. Prices:—wheat 10⅜ to 11⅛; maize 15 5/16 to 16⅞; gram 13 11/16 to 14; bajra 13 to 13⅞; and barley 19⅜ seers per rupee.

Jammu.—Good rain fell during the week. Prices are fluctuating. Wheat sells from 10 to 16 and maize from 12 to 20 seers per rupee. The condition of standing crops is fair. Cattle disease of mild type is prevalent in one district. Fodder is sufficient.

Kashmir.—Slight rain fell during the week but was beneficial to standing crops. The condition of crops is good. There is no disease among cattle. Prices are unchanged.

Rajputana.—Rain fell throughout the Agency except in Bikaner. The maximum fall was 869 cents in Kotah and the minimum 16 cents in Jaisalmer. Standing crops and prospects are good but more rain is wanted in Jodhpur. Damage has been done by insects in Jaisalmer and in places in Merwara. The condition of cattle is good except in parts of Mewar and Merwara. Pasturage and fodder are ample. Prices are generally becoming easier.

Central India.—The rainfall during the week was partial in Baghelkhand and general elsewhere. More rain is needed in Gwalior. Weeding of autumn crops and preparation of land for spring crops continue. Crops have been damaged slightly in parts of Malwa and Bhopawar. Agricultural stock are satisfactory except for some cattle disease in parts of Indore, Bhopal, Baghelkhand, Bundelkhand and Bhopawar. Prices are stationary but high.

Central Provinces.—The rainfall was general and opportune and was shared by all the districts which were most in need of it. The principal falls in inches were:—Narsinghpur 9½; Damoh 7; Saugor 6; Hoshangabad, Bhandara, Balaghat and Jubbulpore each over 5. From 3 to 5 inches were received in Bilaspur, Mandla, Seoni, Betul, Chhindwara, Nagpur and Chanda. Slightly over 2 inches were received in Nimar and Wardha and about 1½ inches in Drug, Raipur and the Berar districts. The rain was of great benefit to standing crops which are generally in a promising condition. Light rice which had begun to wither in parts of Chanda revived, and heavy rice has also recovered somewhat from the ravages of insects. More rain is required for the rice crop in Drug and to a less extent in Raipur and Bilaspur. Weeding, transplantation and preparation of land for spring sowings continued wherever the weather permitted. Fodder and water are ample and cattle are doing well. Prices:—wheat became cheaper by 1 seer per rupee in Mandla, gram by 1½ seers in Wardha, rice by 1 seer in Seoni, Narsinghpur and Wardha and juar by a little over a seer in Wardha and Akola. Rice sold dearer by a seer and juar cheaper by ¾ seer in Saugor. Elsewhere prices were steady or exhibited a tendency to fall.

Feudatory States.—Good rain was received in the States but more is needed for rice in Khairagarh, Chhuikhadan, Raj-Nandgaon and Sarangarh. Otherwise, prospects are generally good. Wheat became dearer by 1 seer per rupee in Korea and rice sold cheaper by a seer in Raj-Nandgaon and Korea but became dearer by a seer in Sakti. Otherwise prices remained steady.

Bombay.—Good rain fell during the week in the Presidency Proper and slight rain in Karachi, Hyderabad and Thar and Parkar. The rainfall was general and beneficial but more rain is needed for standing crops in parts of Karachi, Colaba, Kanara, the Deccan, Belgaum, Cutch and Kolhapur. Sowing of autumn crops continues in parts of Karachi, Colaba, Kanara, the Deccan, Belgaum, Cutch and Kolhapur. Sowing of autumn crops continues in parts of Sind, Gujarat, West Khandesh and the Gujarat Native States. Transplantation continues in Sukkur, Ahmedabad, Kaira, Thana, Kanara and Belgaum. Weeding is progressing generally. Standing crops are suffering from insufficient moisture in Kanara, West Khandesh, Nasik and Poona. They have been damaged slightly by rats in Karachi and Hyderabad; by grass-hoppers in Nasik, Poona, Belgaum and Dharwar; and are generally in good condition elsewhere. Sowing of cotton continues in parts of Gujarat, West Khandesh, the Karnatak, Baroda and Cutch. The fodder supply is generally adequate. Agricultural stock are sufficient except in parts of the Deccan and Cutch and are generally in good condition. Drinking water and water for irrigation are generally adequate. Water is insufficient in canals in Hyderabad and the Upper Sind Frontier. Grain stocks are adequate. Prices have fallen slightly in Karachi, Broach, Ratnagiri, Nasik and Satara; have risen slightly in East Khandesh and Sholapur; and are generally stationary elsewhere. The quantity purchasable per rupee is in Sind 30 to 41 per cent; in Gujarat 17 to 40 per cent; in the Konkan 9 to 35 per cent; in the Deccan 13 to 28 per cent; and in the Karnatak 27 to 38 per cent less than the normal. There are 76 persons on gratuitous relief in Bijapur.

Hyderabad.—The rainfall during the week was 2 inches 58 cents. Rain fell throughout the Dominions. The highest fall was 9 inches 32 cents in the Gevrai taluka of the Bir district. Thirty-two talukas received 3 inches or more. No report has been received from Koppal but as the adjacent taluka of Gulburga received 5 inches 2 cents it is probable that prospects have improved considerably in Koppal also. Standing autumn crops and early rice crops are generally fair to good, the latter crop being weeded. Lands are under preparation for spring crops and sowings have begun in parts. Early rice sowings also continue in a few places. The condition of crops in the Raichur district is satisfactory owing to the recent rains. Cattle disease prevails in seven talukas and water scarcity in the head-quarters of the Yellareddi taluka. Fodder scarcity prevails in talukas Kushtagi and Lingsugur. Damage by insects to the til crop in the Sultanabad taluka of the Karimnagar district has ceased. Prices:—wheat 6¾; rice 7; and juar 14¾ seers per rupee. Juar is selling in Hyderabad City at 12½ seers per rupee. The highest price in districts is 9 seers in each of the Kushtagi, Paloncha and Adilabad talukas and the lowest 28 seers in the Nilanga taluka of the Bidar district.

Mysore.—The rainfall during the week was heavy in Bangalore, Kolar, Tumkur and Mysore; and moderate elsewhere. Prices of food grains are generally steady and markets are well supplied. Standing crops are in good condition. Prospects of the season are good. Cattle are generally healthy. Water and fodder are available.

Coorg.—The rainfall during the week was 2 inches 3 cents. Transplanting of rice continues. Prices of food grains are high. The public health is fair. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient. Cattle disease prevails in parts.

Madras.—The rainfall during the week was heavy in Anantapur, Salem and Trichinopoly; light to fair in the Vizagapatam Agency; and good elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient in the Deccan, Anantapur, Chingleput, Coimbatore, Trichinopoly, Tanjore, Malabar, South Canara and the Nilgiris and insufficient in parts of other districts. Ploughing, sowing, weeding and transplanting are in progress in parts. Standing crops are fair to good and have been benefited by the recent rains in Bellary, Anantapur, North Arcot and Salem. Harvests continue in parts with outturn mostly fair to normal. Pasture is sufficient except in parts of Cuddapah, Nellore, Coimbatore and Tinnevelly. Fodder is scanty in parts of Godavari, Guntur, Anantapur and Cuddapah. The condition of cattle is generally good. The price of rice is stationary in twelve districts; has fallen in ten; and has risen in one. The prices of millets have fluctuated as follows:—Ragi is stationary in seven districts; has fallen in twelve; and has risen in two. Cholam is stationary in three districts and has fallen in eleven. Cumbu is stationary in nine districts; has fallen in five and has risen in one. The public health is generally good. Prospects are generally good. The condition of the labouring classes is good and employment is available. Grain stocks are generally sufficient.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE IN INDIA.

Simla, the 25th August 1909.

The following Prospectus of the Pusa Agricultural College and Central Research Institute sanctioned by the Government of India, is published for general information.

THE PUSA AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE AND CENTRAL RESEARCH INSTITUTE.

PROSPECTUS.

(The prospectus is subject to such alterations as may from time to time be ordered)

1. Prefatory.

The Pusa Agricultural College and Central Research Institute owes its inception to the generosity of Mr. Henry Phipps, who in 1903 placed at the disposal of Lord Curzon, then Viceroy and Governor General of India, a donation of £20,000 (which he afterwards raised to £30,000) with the request that it might be devoted to some object of public utility in India, preferably in the direction of scientific research. Part of this donation was devoted to the construction of a Pasteur Institute at Coonoor in Southern India, and it was decided that the balance should be utilized in erecting a laboratory of agricultural research which it was hoped would form a centre of economic science in connection with that occupation on which the people of India mainly depend. This conception was subsequently enlarged, and the Government of India have now constructed a College and Research Institute to which a farm of some 1,300 acres is attached for purposes of experimentall cultivation and demonstration.

In 1903, when the Research Station was sanctioned, it was intended to combine it with a College which should give a general agricultural education and should serve as a model for the few Agricultural Colleges and Schools of very unequal merit which then existed in India. Recently, however, this conception of the functions of the Pusa College has undergone a material change. It is now recognised that the first and most essential condition of any permanent improvement in the agricultural methods of this country is the widest possible diffusion of an orgainsed knowledge of scientific and practical agriculture, and at the same time it is desired to make the country as far as possible self-supporting in the matter of development of agricultural training and research. A comprehensive scheme for the promotion of agricultural education throughout India has accordingly been drawn up, as the result of which it is hoped that every important province will soon be provided with a fully equipped College where students will for three years receive practical and scientific education in agriculture. The position which the Pusa College is intended to occupy in relation to this general scheme is that of a higher teaching institution. Its main object is to enable students who have passed with distinction through a course of a Provincial College, by means of a post-graduate course in one of the specialised branches of agricultural science to qualify for the higher branches of agricultural work.

2. The Pusa Estate.

The estate consists of 1,300 acres, of which 400 are arable, 400 are pasture; nearly all the field crops of the plains can be grown there. The farm buildings are up-to-date and herds of breeding and milch cattle are maintained. There are complete arrangements for the manufacture of indigo and the curing of tobacco. Poultry breeding is being carried on, there is a large and well laid out orchard and Botanical Garden. Every facility for the practical teaching of agriculture and agricultural subjects has been provided. The students' laboratories are extensive, well lighted and equipped; there is a library for the use of students. The students' hostel is complete, and there is ample accommodation for 70 students. Waini, on the Bengal and North-Western Railway, is the nearest railway station. It is six miles from the College by a good road. There is a telegraph and post office within the estate.

GOVERNMENT O INDIA.
FINANCE DEPARTMENT

REPORT UPON THE OPERATIONS OF THE PAPER CURRENCY DEPARTMENT DURING THE YEARS 1908-09.

No. 99, dated Calcutta, the 31st July 1909.

From—F. C. HARRISON, Esq., Offg. Head Commissioner of Paper Currency, Calcutta,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Finance Department, Simla.

SIR,

I have the honour to submit a report upon the operations of the Paper Currency Department during the year 1908-09.

2. It was a year of exceptional interest and difficulty from a monetary point of view. For the first time since the exchanges settled at our present par, there has been a considerable diminution in the monetary supplies of the country. A discussion of the whole situation and its causes would of necessity raise controversy which is out of place in an annual report. I therefore confine myself to a recital of the facts and the influence exerted by them on our statistics.

Our money consists of gold, silver and notes. On the 1st January 1908, Government held £3,100,000 of sovereigns, and the Presidency banks held £100,000. When the exchanges weakened, gold in obedience to Gresham's law began to disappear. By the 31st October 1908, practically the whole stock held by Government and the Presidency banks was gone. This disappearance is more or less final for the gold is exported, melted or hoarded. In addition to this stock there was a considerable quantity in the hands of the public which has suffered the same fate. During the last four years India has absorbed 15 millions sterling, the absorption in 1907-08 being no less than 6 millions. What amount of this circulated must always remain a matter of more or less scientific guess work. But it cannot have been less than 2 millions. The monetary loss of gold therefore is understated at 3 millions + 2 millions or say 5 millions. Turning to silver, the loss can be measured with accuracy by the amount of reverse councils sold which came to 8 millions sterling. Turning lastly to notes, it cannot, I think, be said that the drop in the circulation of high value notes is a diminution in our monetary supplies. In bad years the Government receives fewer rupees (which it converts into high value notes) and pays out more rupees (which it obtains by realizing high value notes). But the net result is merely a change in the form of currency held by Government and the people.

Summing up therefore, during the worst period of last year, the monetary stocks of British India diminished by at least 5 millions sovereigns and 8 millions sterling of rupees, whilst the circulation of high value notes dwindled owing to bad harvests.

3. A noticeable change during the year has been the passing of Act II of 1909 by which the Universal Five Rupee note has been extended to the Province of Burma. The alteration is too recent for us to judge of its effect.

4. Statement No. I in the Appendix gives a general view of the circulation of Currency notes. It shows what it has been usual to call the gross, the net, and the active circulation on the last day of each month of those years, and also the average of each year. By gross circulation is meant the value of all notes that have been issued and not yet paid off: the net circulation is this sum less the value of notes held by Government in its treasuries: and the active circulation is the net reduced by the value of notes held by the Presidency Banks at their head offices, which is subject to large variations dependent upon the condition of trade.

5. A variety of causes has affected our note issues. It is satisfactory to note that the circulation of notes of low denominations which are used as money has continued to thrive in the presence of famine and bad trade. The five-rupee note in particular is growing in public favour. On the other hand the circulation of high value notes has declined for the reason given in paragraph 2. The net result is a fall in the average gross circulation from 47,32 lakhs to 44,52 lakhs and in the average active circulation from 34,43 lakhs to 33,10 lakhs.

6. The following statement shows the distribution among the various

1908-09 . .	25,62,80	56	19,85,99	44	45,48,79

The increase in the percentage of notes of the lower values is due to the more general use of the paper money by the ordinary public and to the falling off in the circulation of high value notes which has been already explained.

9. The varying proportions in which notes of each denomination have circulated in the various Circles during the last two years are shown below:—

10. The variations in the percentages of the two years do not call for remark except in the case of the 10 rupee-notes in Burma the use of which is growing rapidly. As usual each Circle shows the same preference for particular denominations of notes. The average value during the last four years of the notes in circulation in each Circle on the last day of the year is given in the margin, notes of R10,000 being excluded as their high value and irregular use only tend to mislead. The fall in average value is due to the causes already cited.

The active circulation according to Circles.

11. It is not possible to bring out by the method employed in Statement No. I of the Appendix, the active circulation of each Circle during the year because both Treasuries and Presidency Banks hold notes issued in circles other than their own. The Reserve Treasuries, however, hold practically the whole of their balances in home-circle notes, and in the following table the gross circulation is accordingly reduced by the note balances of the Reserve Treasuries and is compared with the corresponding figures of the two previous years, in lakhs of rupees :—

12. The table in paragraph 7 shows that there has again been an increase in the circulation of the universal five-rupee note. The circulation of these notes on 31st March 1909 was about 16 per cent. and about 23 per cent. more than what it was on 31st March 1908 and 31st March 1907, respectively. As these small-value notes are not held in any large quantities in the balance of treasuries or Presidency Banks, the increase represents practically an expansion of their active circulation among the public. The growing popularity of these universal five-rupee notes is also apparent from a comparison of the average gross circulation of five-rupee notes of the several circles excepting Rangoon during the past five years. The figures are given in the margin in lakhs of rupees.

The recorded issues of these notes for remittance purposes in bundles of 2,000 and over amounted to 1½ lakhs against 9 lakhs of rupees in the previous year ; the lower issues are apparently due to a large extent to the smaller trade demands in 1908-09. On the other hand, five-rupee notes to the value of about 19 lakhs were issued in Bombay in bundles of 2,000 and over for the distribution of wages among mill, Railway and other employés ; the amount issued in 1908-09 is nearly double that issued in each of the two preceding years, a fact which indicates the increasing demand at Bombay for five-rupee notes for this purpose.

As stated in paragraph 3 above, the universal five-rupee notes were extended to Burma by Act II of 1909, and a scheme for making ten-rupee and fifty-rupee notes universal has received the sanction of the Secretary of State and will be introduced as soon as the necessary legislation is carried out.

13. The year 1908-09 opened with a stock of gold in the Currency Reserve and Treasuries in India valued at £2,922,286·5 and the closing balance was worth £86,004·5*. There were no transactions in gold in India during the year on account of the Gold Standard Reserve as there was practically no profit creditable to the Reserve, and the payments to it that were necessary, were made

* In addition to this, gold to the value of £1,500,000 was held in the Currency chest in England.

The net transactions with the public in the year under report resulted in the aggregate in an issue of nearly £2,600,000 against about £1,000,000 in the previous year and a receipt of £1,000,000 in 1906-07.

Owing to adverse trade conditions, there were practically no imports of sovereigns during the year, the receipts at the Currency Offices from imports having amounted to the negligible sum of £75,000 against £5½ millions in the previous year. The public demand for gold had therefore to be met entirely from the stock in the Currency Reserve and Treasuries, which proved inadequate to satisfy the demand. The indents from the several Provinces for supplies of gold could not be complied with in full even at the beginning of the year, and the stock of gold in the Currency Offices was almost exhausted by the middle of the year when issues to the public practically ceased.

The figures in the margin show the net absorption of sovereigns from Treasuries and Currency offices in each of the five years ending 1908-09. The absorption in the year under report would have been higher than ever, had gold been available.

The Bombay Presidency shows a return from circulation owing to a large tender of about £350,000 at the Bombay Currency Office by the Gwalior Durbar in the month of July.

The details of the gold held in India on the last day of the year are as follows :—

	Currency.	Treasury and Mint.	Total.
Current weight sovereigns and half-sovereigns	21,921·0	60,771·5	82,692·5
Light weight do. do.	1,493·0	1,819·0	3,312·0
Total	23,414·0	62,590·5	86,004·5

As light weight sovereigns and half-sovereigns and gold bullion cannot be utilised in India, a remittance of these coins and bullion to the value of £240,248·6 was sent to London in September 1908.

nd- 14. The balance of the Gold Standard Reserve at the beginning of the year stood at £18,318,054 made up as follows :—

Purchase value of sterling securities	13,186,521
Coined rupees held in India	4,000,000
Gold temporarily forming part of balances of Secretary of State	1,131,223
Outstanding debt from treasury balances	310
Total	18,318,054

The most important transaction during the year in connection with the Gold Standard Reserve was the sale in India of sterling bills on the Secretary of State for £7,988,000, the par value of the bills being paid in rupees into the silver branch of the Gold Standard Reserve in India, whilst the Secretary of State paid for the same by equivalent withdrawals from the Reserve in London—vide paras. 73 and 74 of the Financial Statement for 1909-10. To enable him to pay the bills, the Secretary of State sold gold securities having a nominal value of £8,100,497. Including some minor transactions, the sale of Gold Standard Reserve securities in 1908-09 amounted to £8,110,959 (nominal value), and resulted in a net loss of £121,109, as compared with the cost price of the securities, £7,760,747, the sale-proceeds amounting to £7,639,638.

This loss was however more than covered by additions to the Reserve to the extent of £306,220. No coinage was undertaken from purchased silver, during the year, but a small profit amounting to £102 accrued in connection with the conversion of Chitori coins for the Shahpura chiefship, of which one-half, viz., £51 was creditable to the account of the Gold Standard Reserve. The income in England arising from dividends on investments, the discounts obtained in the purchase of treasury bills and interest on temporary loans of uninvested balances amounted to £285,966. A sum of £20,203 was also received as interest on a temporary loan of £3,000,000 granted from the Reserve to the Government of India. This loan was taken during the months November 1908 to February 1909 in aid of the treasury balances which, owing to agricultural and trade depression and a consequent decline in railway earnings, had fallen below the workable minimum before the end of November. It was fully repaid before the 31st March 1909 with interest at 3½ % per annum. Taking these details together, viz., £51 + £285,966 + £20,203, we get £306,220. Deducting the loss on sale of securities, amounting to £121,109, we get a net addition of £306,220 — £121,109 = £185,111, raising the closing assets of the Fund from £18,318,054 to £18,503,165.

The table given below contrasts the composition of the Reserve on the last day of the year as compared with that at the end of the previous year:—

	18,318,054	18,503,165

A large variation will be noticed under each of the first three heads. The causes that led to the variations are stated below:—

(i) Sterling securities £7,446,269.

Owing to the call upon the Gold Standard Reserve consequent on the transactions already described, investments to the value of £7,639,638 (but standing in our books at £7,760,747) were sold. A revival in trade at a later period enabled the Secretary of State to re-invest £2,020,495, leaving a net decrease under securities of £5,740,252. The details of the total holding under securities are given below:—

(ii) Gold £469,818.

A sum of £1,131,223 was held by the Secretary of State in liquid gold on the 1st April 1908. In the course of the year, he received (i) £7,639,638, from the sale-proceeds of securities, (ii) £285,966 from dividends and interest on uninvested balances and from discount on Treasury bills purchased and (iii) £1,491,486 by a remittance from India by means of Council Bills. On the other hand, a sum of £8,058,000* was paid on account of Sterling bills sold in India and £2,020,495 expended on the purchase of securities. The balance of £469,818 remained uninvested at the end of the year.

(iii) Coined rupees £10,586,734 and Book credit £344.

The balance of the Reserve held in India at the beginning of the year amounted to £4,000,310, made up of £4,000,000 held in silver and £310, the outstanding debt due from treasury balances. The receipts during the year consisted of (i) £8,058,000 from the sale-proceeds of Sterling bills (ii) £51, profit on new coinage, and (iii) £20,203 being the interest on the temporary loan to the Government of India. Of the total of £12,078,564, a sum of £1,491,486 was remitted to England by Council Bills as stated above, and the balance of £10,587,078 remained to the credit of the Reserve in India, £10,586,734 in silver and £344 as an outstanding debt from treasury balances.

The balance of the Reserve in India and in England at the end of the year stood therefore at £18,503,165, made up as follows:—

Purchase value of sterling securities	7,446,269
Gold temporarily forming part of balances of Secretary of State	469,818
Coined rupees held in India	10,586,734
Outstanding debt from treasury balance	344

There has therefore been an increase of 5,86 lakhs in the balance of silver coin and a decrease of 7,34 lakhs in the balance of gold coin and bullion, the balance under the head silver bullion under coinage remaining unchanged.

21. The following table gives the circulation of the six larger circles, and the mean value of their receipts and issues during the year, with the percentage of the former to the latter during the last three years. Burma does not show the usual high rate of mean receipts and issues owing apparently to smaller operations in connection with the export of rice :—

Calcutta and Bombay show a falling off from the preceding year, but all the other circles show some increase in the average circulation. The mean value of receipts and issues shows a decrease in all circles except Lahore, but it is most marked in Calcutta, Bombay and Rangoon.

The decrease in the balance was the net result of decreases at Calcutta and Bombay against an excess at Cawnpore where a number of notes received remained undisposed of at the close of the year.

The total encashments of Foreign Circle Notes were more than those of the last year by about 9,35 lakhs, the increase being the net result of increases of 6,42 lakhs at Calcutta, 1,09 lakhs at Cawnpore, 2,52 lakhs at Bombay, 29 lakhs at Madras, and 1 lakh at Rangoon against a decrease of 68 lakhs at Lahore, 29 lakhs at Karachi and 1 lakh at Calicut.

The most important variations from the preceding years occurred in the Foreign encashment of Cawnpore, Lahore and Karachi Notes. During the year the encashment of Cawnpore and Lahore notes increased at Calcutta by 2,46 and 3,71 lakhs, respectively, and that of Karachi notes at Bombay increased by 1,91 lakhs. Elsewhere the variations were not so marked. The cause is to be found in the varying trade demand which leads to the transfer of funds from those provinces in which trade is comparatively dull to those in which it is brisk and the large remittances from the Cawnpore, Lahore and Karachi Circles were no doubt connected with bad trade conditions and the remittance of funds for which there was no local employment. The following statement shows, in lakhs of rupees, the net transfers by means of Foreign Circle Notes between each of the circles during the last two years. The plus figures indicate that transfers to the circle exceeded those from it, and the minus figures represent an opposite movement :—

The net result was a decrease in the coin and bullion reserve of 1,48 lakhs. This decrease after deducting nine lakhs and fifty thousands paid at Bombay and Calicut, respectively, in the year under report (but received in 1907-08) and adding one lakh and fifty thousands received at Calcutta but not paid at Lahore until after the 31st March 1909, exactly corresponds with the decrease in the circulation as shown in paragraph 7, there having been no addition to the investment of the Reserve during the year. Both the receipts and issues were less than those of the previous year by 45,42 lakhs and 43,93 lakhs, respectively, the decreases being made up as follows:—

Column 3 includes defective and defaced coin besides light weight coin which is separately dealt with in the next table. The total amount of 1835 coins withdrawn to the end of the year is about 3,22 lakhs, and that of 1840 coins 25,73 lakhs.

This is the first year in which statistics of the number of small silver coins cut and broken under the new rules are available for a complete year; the figures for the United Provinces are very high and are under investigation. Reverting to light-weight rupees and half-rupees, I give below an excerpt showing the quantity of these coins cut and broken during the last four years :—

The increase is very remarkable. It is no doubt true that the return of rupees from circulation this year has been unusually large. But I do not think this fact adequately accounts for the growth in these figures. We have already recalled the greater portion of our oldest rupees. We are daily eliminating our worn coin, and to-day no less than 75 per cent. of the rupees in circulation are under 30 years of age. In the circumstances it appears probable that the practice of sweating is on the increase.

As usual the work done at the six large Currency Offices as regards the examination of coins presented was tested by fresh examination at the Mints. In accordance with the decision embodied in the Government of India letter No. 5565-A., dated 3rd October 1906, the coins sent to the Mints for re-examination were selected by the Currency officers at random from the ordinary receipts across the counter. The result of the re-examination at the Mints is shown in the following table :—

28. The tables in the margin give the numbers or counterfeit silver coins cut and broken in the different provinces during the calendar year 1908 and the usual comparative statistics for the past ten years. They show that the number of counterfeit rupees discovered in 1908 in the Treasuries, Currency offices and Railway Cash offices in the course of examination of coin received by them is much higher than the number similarly discovered in 1907.

Out of the total number of 98,492, 39,314 were detected in Railway Cash offices, 12,873 being found on the North Western Railway alone. After making allowance for the handling of a larger volume of currency, these statistics point to an increase in the crime of counterfeiting.

There is a remarkable increase in the number of counterfeit small silver coins reported as cut in the year under report. The number of counterfeit rupees received at the Mints for examination during the year was 8,440 of which 557 were struck from dies and the rest were castings. Most of the former were well executed, but the majority of the latter consisted of palpable counterfeits made of base metal. The Bombay Mint received from the Bombay, Baroda and Central India and the Rajputana-Malwa Railways 2,121 exceptionally well-executed coins, of which 521 were struck from dies and the rest were castings.

29. Statement II of the Appendix gives by calendar years the number of whole rupees coined in the Indian Mints from 1835 to 31st March 1909. Annual coinage.

The rupee coinage of the year amounted to 251 lakhs, 148 lakhs at Calcutta and 103 lakhs at Bombay. No coinage was undertaken during the year from newly purchased silver, and the entire amount coined was from withdrawn and uncurrent coin.

30. The usual examination of the rupee circulation was made in May 1909 when 256 Government treasuries each sorted 10,000 rupees according to the dates borne by each. The result is given below with those of the previous fifteen years. Details by Provinces appear in Statement IX of the Appendix. The Rupee census.

The smaller net issues are attributable chiefly to the prevailing depression of trade.

32. The Currency Agencies in all provinces, except the Punjab and the Frontier Province and at Mandalay in Burma, are strictly Currency chests opened for resource purposes, whereas at the Agencies proper exchanges with the public take place. Similar exchanges are also allowed at an office opened for the purpose at Allahabad. The chests on the other hand merely permit of the transfer of Treasury funds from one place to another without actual movements of coin, and thus supply a very speedy means of withdrawing Treasury surpluses to head-quarters. On 31st March 1909 the number of Currency chests was 221, and they contained balances amounting to 16,36 lakhs or 5,11 lakhs more than on the corresponding date in the previous year. The increase occurred in all the circles except Lahore and was due to the local surplus collections having been kept at the chests in the absence of demands for coin at Currency centres.

The following table distributes the total balance in Agencies on 31st March 1909 in details of circles :—

34. The increase as compared with last year occurs chiefly under whole notes destroyed, and half notes lost accidentally. Payment of stopped notes, that is, whole notes lost cannot be refused, but if the presenter is not known, he is pointed out to the Police who enquire into the circumstances connected with his possession of the note. There were 1,218 stopped notes on the Calcutta list at the close of the year. During the year 342 such notes were presented and almost all the presenters were pointed out to the Police, four only being prosecuted out of whom two were convicted. Notes proved to have been wholly destroyed are paid after 20 years, when their value, which has been invested, is paid together with the accrued interest. The following is a statement showing the number and value of half-notes and wholly destroyed or mutilated notes in respect of which claims have been admitted during the year under report.

There were eight new forgeries during the year,—the $\frac{R.A.}{72}$, $\frac{R.A.}{90}$ and $\frac{R.A.}{91}$ series of the R 10 denomination and $\frac{A.A.}{8}$ series of the R 1,000 denomination in the Calcutta Circle, the $\frac{S.A.}{4}$ series of the R 10 denomination, the $\frac{M.S.}{13}$ series of the R 100 and R 10 denominations and the $\frac{C.A.}{77}$ series of the R 100 denomination in the Bombay Circle, and the $\frac{B.B.}{3}$ series of the R 100 denomination in the Madras Circle.

The forgeries of the Calcutta Circle notes are very probably the variants of old forgeries, the series alone having been changed to baffle enquiries and throw the police off the scent. The forgery of the $\frac{R.A.}{72}$ series is apparently a variant of the $\frac{P.A.}{63}$ series noticed in the annual report for 1906-07 and was evidently made from the same block and the same papers. The notes appear to have been printed and on the whole well-executed, although the shading of the green colouring is not quite uniform. Like the $\frac{P.A.}{63}$ series, the peculiar feature of this series is that all the notes received bear the same number. The forgeries of the $\frac{R.A.}{90}$ and $\frac{R.A.}{91}$ series are hand made ones, while the forgery of the $\frac{A.A.}{8}$ series is probably a variant of the $\frac{A.A.}{83}$ series noticed in the Report for 1903-04. Of the three forgeries of the Bombay Circle, that in connection with the $\frac{S.A.}{4}$ series is, on the whole, a good workmanship. The signature "F. C. Harrison" is a good imitation and the note appears to have been lithographed or die-stamped on paper similar to that used for genuine notes. The forgery of the $\frac{M.S.}{13}$ series is evidently the work of a new hand in the game, the notes being extremely clumsily manufactured, ill-spelt and lacking in many details. In the case of the forgery of the $\frac{C.A.}{77}$ series, the note was apparently lithographed on ordinary paper without any water-mark, but it is a fairly good intimation and likely to deceive the ordinary public. The forgery of the Madras Circle note of the $\frac{B.B.}{3}$ series is a clumsy pen and ink sketch.

Prosecutions in respect of the forgeries of the Bombay $\frac{M.S.}{13}$, $\frac{C.A.}{77}$ and $\frac{S.A.}{4}$ series were undertaken in Fatehpur, Delhi and Bombay respectively, and the accused were convicted and imprisoned in all the cases. The case in connection with the forgery of the Madras Circle note of the $\frac{B.B.}{3}$ series was tried by the Additional Sessions Judge, Madura, who acquitted the accused. There was no prosecution elsewhere during the year under report. The prosecution in respect of the forgeries of the Madras Circle note of the $\frac{T.A.}{54}$ series mentioned in the Annual Report for 1906-07 ended in the conviction and imprisonment of two of the accused, while the third accused was acquitted.

laims. 36. Cases of fraudulent claims occurred in the Calcutta, Bombay and Rangoon Circles. Some of the prosecutions failed, but one prosecution in Calcutta and seven in Rangoon resulted in the conviction of the accused. One case in Calcutta and two cases in Bombay were pending at the close of the year. Of the pending cases at the close of the last year, the two cases in Calcutta and one in Madras ended in acquittal of the accused, the Bombay case resulted in conviction and imprisonment of the accused, while the Karachi case was still pending at the close of the year.

About 18 cases were reported during the year in which an attempt was made to pass into circulation R10 Notes of the Rangoon Circle with English and Burmese numerals altered from ten to fifty and one hundred. Some of these cases are still under investigation.

The total volume of the year's remittances in current coin amounted only to 5⅛ crores against 15½ in the preceding year. With the exception of the remittance of 1 crore from Bombay to Rangoon which was sent in December in view of the demands in the rice season, no large movements of coin were necessary to supply trade demands. Almost the whole of the other remittances shown in the above table were undertaken owing to difficulties experienced in accommodating locally the large amounts that were returned by the public in Northern India.

The chief feature of the year was the return of coin from circulation to the extent of 15 crores owing to abnormal trade depression, against an absorption of 4 crores in the preceding year and 18 crores in 1906-07. Every Province and Currency circle contributed to this return, the largest receipts having been in Bengal, the United Provinces and the Punjab, while it occurred in every quarter of the year except that from October to December.

In the first quarter, the only absorption was in Madras to the extent of 1 crore in connection with the trade in cereals. Heavy receipts in almost all the other Provinces resulted in a net receipt of 8 crores in this quarter.

The usual feature of the second quarter is the demand for financing the jute trade in Bengal. The absorption in the two Bengals amounted to only 2 crores against 10½ and 5 crores in 1906-07 and 1907-08, respectively; the receipt of coin moreover continued in the other Provinces and the transactions of the quarter resulted in a net receipt of 7 crores.

The demand for the jute trade continued as usual into the third quarter. In addition to an issue of 1 crore in Bengal on this account, Bombay absorbed a crore in connection with the cotton trade.

In the last quarter, there was an issue of 2 crores each in Bombay and Burma for the cotton and rice trades, but the usual receipts in payment of Government revenue resulted in a net receipt in this quarter also.

The effect of the large general accumulation of rupees is to lower the percentages representing the amounts held at Bombay and Calcutta.

tistics. 41. The transactions in notes, at the several Government Treasuries during the past three years, have been as follows :—

	1906-07.	1907-08.	1908-09.

TOTAL ISSUES	18,59,89,745	18,95,85,170	21,56,43,635

The receipts in payment of Government dues have decreased in the year under report while the issues have increased largely. In the case of transactions in exchange for silver, receipts have somewhat declined, while issues have risen The receipts and issues in connection with other notes have been going up steadily.

42. The total Treasury transactions in notes during the three years are shown below in lakhs of rupees :—

	1906-07.	1907-08.	1908-09.
Government of India	3,95	3,02	2,90
Central Provinces and Berar	1,18	1,32	81

43. The following statement gives information as to the ability of Treasuries to cash notes during the past three years :—

	1906-07.	1907-08.	1908-09.
	Number of Treasuries.
Where encashment of notes was not refused on any day in the year	167	164	167
Where encashment was rarely refused	39	48	43
Where encashment was generally refused	26	20	22
TOTAL	232	232	232

Treasuries at branches of the Presidency Banks are excluded from this statement. It is not to be understood from the above figures that a majority of Treasuries could have cashed large values of notes, but merely that they did so in the case of small quantities presented by the ordinary non-trading public. Traders, knowing that it would be useless to ask for large sums in silver in exchange for notes, do not make the attempt.

44. Statement VIII in the Appendix shows the proportions of Treasury and Bank balances which, in each Province, were held in the form of Currency notes. Excluding Reserve Treasuries, the percentage of balances held in notes was :—

	1907 Balance in		1908 Balance in		Percentage of notes.
	Notes.	Cash.	Notes	Cash.	1907.	1908.
	In thousands of rupees.				Per cent.
Calcutta Circle . . .	40,31	1,09,31	38,82	1,20,91	26	24
Bombay „ . . .	28,74	98,23	27,45	74,33	22	26
Madras „ . . .	15,78	68,89	15,24	69,75	18	18

45. The figures of receipts and expenditure in Statement VI of the Appendix are only approximate, as the accounts of 1908-09 are yet not closed. The charges of the year were less than those of 1907-08 by R64,000. This decrease is the net result of smaller charges for note forms due to a reduced supply from England counterbalanced by an increase in the establishment and other charges including larger outlay for the repairs of the Currency Buildings at Calcutta.

* This Code consists, not only of rules made under ss. 26 and 27 of the Cantonments Act, 1889 (XIII of 1889), but also of certain enactments applied in exercise of the powers conferred by s 25. Thus the provisions contained in, for example, s 174 of the Code could scarcely be made the subject of a rule under the Act, and would probably be held to be ultra vires if the rule-making power were relied upon to give them validity, but they are taken, mutatis mutandis, from s. 143 of the Punjab Municipal Act, 1891 (XX of 1891), and their validity rests on the power of the Governor General in Council to "extend to any cantonment any enactment for the time being in force in any municipality in British India, and declare its extension subject to such restrictions and modifications, if any, as he thinks fit." See ante, p. 19. In the case of each section of the Code which appears to be, in whole or in part, an "applied enactment," a reference to the original has been added on the margin

† In addition to these definitions, the definitions in the Cantonments Act, 1889 (XIII of 1889), apply and should be borne in mind—see s 20 of the General Clauses Act, 1897 (X of 1897). Further, the provisions of the latter Act are applicable—see s 3 (2) of the Cantonments Act, 1889 (XIII of 1889), and foot-note thereto ante, p. 8.

The Cantonment Code, 1909.

(p) "private market" means a market not maintained by the cantonment authority:

(q) "private slaughter-house" means a slaughter-house not maintained by the cantonment authority:

(r) "public market" means a market maintained by the cantonment authority:

Bills introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to give legal sanction to a marriage ceremony common among the Sikhs called Anand was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 10th September 1909:

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to give legal sanction to a marriage ceremony common among the Sikhs called Anand was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the appendix, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

2 We have altered the form of the preamble which, as it stood in the Bill as introduced, might have been interpreted as implying that legislation was necessary in order to make Anand marriages legal.

3. Clause 2 has been recast by us so as to make it cover Anand marriages already solemnized as well as those which may be solemnized hereafter, in order to prevent any doubts being raised as to the validity of such marriages in the past. We have also omitted the reference to remarriages which seemed to us unnecessary, as the word "marriage" includes remarriage also.

4. Sub-clause (a) of clause 3 has been inserted by us in order to meet a criticism passed on the Bill as introduced that it might be read as validating the Anand form of marriage in the case of persons who were not Sikhs.

5. Clause 4 is new and has been added, in accordance with a suggestion of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, in order to make it clear that there is no intention to make the form of marriage which the Bill proposes to validate an obligatory one.

6. Clause 5 provides for the point dealt with in sub-clause (b) of clause 3 of the Bill as introduced in a more convenient form.

7. The publication ordered by the Council has been made as follows:—

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. The principal object of this Bill is to alter the constitution of the Board of Trustees of the Indian Museum in order to assign to the chief executive officers of the Museum a position on the Trust. There are also various other amendments in the existing law as contained in the Indian Museum Acts, 1876 and 1887, which appear to be desirable, and in these circumstances it has been thought most convenient to repeal these two enactments and substitute a new Act consolidating their provisions with the necessary amendments. With this object the present Bill has been prepared.

2. The more important amendments of the existing law are explained in the subjoined Notes on Clauses.

The 4th September 1909. W. L. HARVEY.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 2.—It is proposed, after due consideration of the interests affected, to reduce the number of Trustees, which was fixed by the Indian Museum Act, 1887, at 21, to 17. Of these six are to be appointed ex officio, five by virtue of their position as Superintendents of departments of the Museum. The sixth is the Accountant General of Bengal. The remaining Trustees are to be nominated by the various bodies interested in the proper management of the Museum. It is further proposed [sub-clause (3)] that nominated Trustees shall hold office for a period of three years only, but that the nominating authority be given the option of extending the period.

Clause 3.—To lessen the possibility of the combined votes of the official members out-numbering those of the unofficial members, the quorum necessary for the transaction of business has been raised from three to six.

Clause 6.—The opportunity has been taken to define more accurately the position and powers of the Trustees in respect of all the property, whether moveable or immoveable, now held or hereafter to be acquired by them for the purposes of the Trust.

Clause 7.—In order to promote efficiency, it is intended that the officers in charge of certain sections of the Museum should have more voice than at present in the management of their own sections. This will be effected by means of bye-laws for the management of the Museum to be made by the Trustees with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council.

Clause 9.—Power has been conferred on the Trustees to present duplicates to other Museums in British India as well as to exchange or sell them.

The Schedule.—A revised Schedule, specifying the lands and buildings of which the Trustees are now to have the exclusive possession, occupation and control for the purposes of their trust, has been substituted for the old one appended to the Indian Museum Act, 1887.

INDIAN MUSEUM BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. HARVEY said:—"My Lord, in asking permission to introduce the Bill to amend and consolidate the law relating to the Indian Museum, I think that a brief explanation of the proposals embodied therein and of the reasons why this legislation is being undertaken may be of interest to the Council. In 1904 the Government of India made a grant of five lakhs of rupees in furtherance of a scheme for the structural improvement of the Museum and for the re-arrangement of its exhibits. Simultaneously with the scheme for the enlargement of the Museum, the Trustees had naturally to take into consideration the question of the organisation necessary for its administration. The defects of the existing system had, indeed, come more than once under the notice of the Trustees. The organisation, as it then stood, and as it now stands, is the result of compromises and expedients. The Museum includes Geological, Zoological, Archæological, Anthropological, Industrial and Art collections. The Geological collections, almost all of which are the property of the Geological Survey, are controlled by the Director of the Survey and not by the Trustees. Of the remainder, some are held in trust on behalf of the Asiatic Society, others belong to the Government of India or to the Government of Bengal: all are, however, administered directly by the Trustees through the Superintendents in charge of the Natural History section and of the Industrial section, each of whom is also a Secretary to the Trustees for his respective section. Moreover, the scientific grouping of the collections is defective; part of the Anthropological collections are, for instance, in the Natural History section, and part in the Industrial section. Finally, though the Director, Geological Survey, has in practice been a Trustee, the Superintendent of the Natural History section has no seat on the Board. The result of the defects in the existing system, the most prominent of which only I have noticed, was that the machinery of administration did not work without considerable friction.

"The Bill now before Council presents a scheme which has been drawn up by Government in consultation with the Trustees, and as its main features have been summarised in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, I need not detain Hon'ble Members with a lengthy explanation of its details. I will however point out that it has received the unanimous support of the Trustees, and is intended to secure that the Museum shall be in a position thoroughly to carry out its work of research without losing its character as an educative institution for the benefit of the general public. With this object in view it is an integral part of the scheme to group the sections representing the different sciences under experts, each of whom is to be given a free hand in the development of the particular subject with which his section is concerned. At the same time uniformity of management throughout the institution will be secured by the powers of inspection and general control vested in the Trustees.

"This scheme appears to give every prospect of improvement in the general work of administration whilst maintaining the scientific efficiency of each section of the Museum. Legislative action is necessary to carry it into effect, since it involves the handing over by the Trustees to the head of each section, as an indefinite loan, of the exhibits which have been held in trust by them on behalf of the Government of India and the Asiatic Society. An amendment of the Act is also necessary to alter the constitution of the Trust since it is intended that the head of each section should have a seat on the Board, the absence from the present law of such a provision having, as I have already pointed out, resulted in not inconsiderable friction. At the same time, in view of the difficulties experienced in the past as a result of the unwieldy character of the Board, we have reduced the number of Trustees to 17, and we provide in the new constitution of the Board for the representation of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the British Indian Association and the Calcutta University as well as of the Asiatic Society. The representation of the Government of Bengal, which has a large interest in the Museum, is effected by giving that Government the nomination of three Trustees, in addition to the Principal, School of Art, and the Accountant-General, Bengal; and finally the Trustees will have the power to co-opt three members.

"My Lord, I move for leave to introduce the Bill."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. HARVEY introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. HARVEY moved that the Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, be published in English in the Gazette of India and the Calcutta Gazette.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 hrs. on Thursday, the 9th September 1909, based on the Indian Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The rainfall of the past week was associated chiefly with a depression which formed in the Bay and crossing the central Madras coast moved in a north-westerly direction across the peninsula, ultimately coalescing with an area of low pressure lying over Gujarat. The combined disturbance then travelled in a northeasterly direction and was shown near to Jodhpur at the close of the week. Widespread and moderately heavy rain fell in the peninsula, Gujarat and Rajputana; and, owing in part to the existence of disturbed conditions in Kashmir, the northeastward advance of the depression was accompanied by an extension of rainfall over the whole of the Punjab. The concentration of rainfall along the track of the depression was prejudicial to other parts of the country; and, while the week's rain was in marked excess in the peninsula and the greater part of northwest India, it was in general defect in Burma, northeast India, the United Provinces, Central India and the Central Provinces.

Burma.—There was practically no rain in Upper Burma and in Lower Burma rainfall was generally only light and local. Skies were lightly to moderately clouded. Towards the end of the week day temperature was higher than usual.

Northeast India, including Orissa.—On the 3rd rainfall was reported from all parts of the division; but on the remaining days there was very little rain anywhere, and skies were clear or only lightly clouded. Temperature differed by comparatively small amounts from the normal.

The United Provinces, Central India and the Central Provinces.—Rainfall was generally light and local. Cloud was light to moderate, except while the depression from the Bay was affecting the weather and giving heavy cloud in the south of the Central Provinces and the west of Central India. Temperature was nearly normal.

Northwest India.—Rainfall was unusually heavy in Kashmir, the Punjab, Rajputana and Gujarat. Cloud was heavy in the region of rainfall. Maximum temperature was in moderate to large defect in Kashmir, the North-West Frontier Province and the Punjab, and on the last day of the week it was in marked defect over practically the whole division except Sind and Baluchistan.

The Peninsula.—Rainfall occurred over the whole of the peninsula, excepting a few places in the extreme south. Moderate to heavy cloud covered the division during the first part of the week, but there was a marked decrease of cloud on the 8th. Temperature was in defect in Madras.

The following summarises the chief rainfall amounts as reported at 8 hrs. each day :—

September 3rd. Bogra 2·07", Saugor Island 2·22", Berhampore 3·34", Hanumkonda 2·28", Cuddapah 2·13", Bellary 2·26" and Nellore 5·26".

" 4th. Hyderabad (Deccan) 2·50", Madras 2·44" and Nellore 2·33".

" 5th. Amraoti 3·62", Bijapur 2·06", Cuddapah 3·41", Kurnool 2·05" and Masulipatam 4·25".

" 6th. Tavoy 2·60", Ajmer 3·25", Karwar 3·34" and Aurangabad 2·15".

" 7th. Mergui 2·78", Bhuj 2·53" and Veraval 3·54".

" 8th. Toungoo 2·06", Bhuj 4·94" and Rajkot 2·07".

" 9th. Port Blair 2·64", Delhi 2·36", Sirsa 2·00", Ludhiana 2·01", Sialkot 2·05" and Mount Abu 3·77".

The only area in which the rainfall of the period from the 30th April to the 9th September is as much as 20 per cent in defect is Baluchistan, but Baluchistan obtains very little rainfall at this time of year and the deficiency is hence unimportant. An excess of over 20 per cent is shown in the Bay Islands, Bengal proper, Bihar, the east and north of the Punjab, the North-West Frontier Province, Rajputana, Gujarat, the south of Hyderabad, Mysore and the Madras presidency excluding Malabar.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 4th September 1909.

Burma.—Rain has been received in nearly all districts and weather conditions are seasonable except in Amherst and Prome where the rainfall is short. In Lower Burma transplanting of the winter rice crop is approaching completion. In Upper Burma cultivation of winter crops is proceeding and reaping of autumn sessamum has commenced. The standing winter rice crop promises well except in Prome; but the damage done by floods has been considerable. In Upper Burma early sessamum has suffered from excessive rain and cotton may be slightly affected by the same cause. Generally speaking, crop prospects are good. The price of unhusked rice has fallen in four districts and has risen in two. Prices of produce are generally steady and normal.

Eastern Bengal and Assam.—The weather has returned to normal conditions. Less rain was received during the week; it was heavy in the interior of Dacca, Faridpur and Bakarganj and fairly distributed throughout the rest of the Province. Harvesting of autumn rice is nearing completion. Reaping of jute and transplanting of winter rice still continue. Sowing of winter potato in the hills is in progress. The condition of tea has improved greatly. Jute promises a fair outturn. Prospects of winter rice are good. The average price of common rice is practically unchanged. Cattle disease prevails in several districts.

Bengal.—The rainfall during the week was general all over the Province. The fall was very heavy in Darjeeling. It was heavy also in parts of Lower Bengal and in Gaya, the Sonthal Parganas and Singhbhum. In the rest of the Province the rainfall was generally moderate. The heavy rain in Lower Bengal caused floods in several districts. Damage to autumn crops and winter paddy is apprehended in Burdwan, Midnapore, Hooghly, Howrah, Murshidabad and Jessore. Some injury is also reported from excessive rain in Shahabad and by cyclonic weather in Champaran. Insects have damaged gora paddy and gondli to some extent in Ranchi. The moderate rainfall received during the week in Bihar and Orissa has been beneficial and the condition of standing crops in these tracts is good. The price of common rice has risen in Patna and Champaran and has fallen in Burdwan, Gaya, Shahabad, Darbhanga, Monghyr, Purnea, Balasore, Angul, Puri, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Palamau. Cattle disease is reported from several districts. The supply of fodder and water is sufficient throughout the Province.

United Provinces.—Good rain fell in all districts. Standing crops are good everywhere. Harvesting of maize, early rice and other early autumn crops is in progress. Weeding of late autumn crops and preparation of land for spring sowings continue. Picking of cotton has commenced in places. The condition of agricultural stock is generally good but cattle disease is reported from twenty-three districts. Markets are well supplied. Prices have fallen in seventeen districts and are stationary elsewhere. The number of recipients of valedictory doles in Bahraich are:—on gratuitous relief 2,731; on poor-house relief 19; total 2,750. Fever is prevalent in Bahraich and Gonda and some other districts.

Punjab.—Heavy to good rain has fallen in the Delhi, Jullundur and Lahore divisions and fair to light rain elsewhere. The week's rainfall has been very beneficial, on the whole, to standing crops which are in good condition. Sowings of autumn crops are still in progress in Lyallpur. Ploughings for the next spring crops and sowings of toria, rocket (tara mira), gram and turnips have begun in some districts. Some damage to standing crops by grass-hoppers is reported from Ambala, Lahore, Shahpur and Multan and slight damage by continuous heavy rain in Rohtak, Ambala, Jullundur, Ferozepore, Amritsar and Sialkot. Prices are generally unchanged but there is a slight rise in prices in Hissar and a slight downward tendency in Ambala, Gujranwala and Lyallpur. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient. Complaints of a short water supply are being received from Samundri, Toba Tek Singh and Lyallpur.

North-West Frontier Province.—Rain is reported from all districts, ranging from ·08 inch at Bannu to 4 inches 6 cents at Sheikhbuddin in Dera Ismail Khan. The showers were beneficial to standing crops and for cultivation of autumn crops. The condition of crops is, on the whole, good in Peshawar and average elsewhere. Bajra crops in Bannu were damaged by insects. Oilseeds are being sown in Mardan. The outturn of vegetables and fruits in the Peshawar tahsil is average. The health of people is good but seasonal fever is prevailing in the Swabi tahsil of Peshawar. The condition of cattle is good except that disease is reported from two villages of the Nowshera tahsil in Peshawar. Irrigation from canals is satisfactory and the water in rivers is rising. Prices are almost stationary. Prices:—wheat 10¼ to 11; maize 13¼ to 15⅝; gram 13⅜ to 14; bajra 13⅞ to 14½; and barley 19⅛ seers per rupee.

Jammu.—Good rain fell during the week. Prices are fluctuating. Wheat sells from 10 to 18 and maize from 14 to 18 seers per rupee. The condition of standing crops is fair. Cattle disease of mild type prevails in one district. Fodder is sufficient. Standing crops are somewhat damaged by heavy rains.

Kashmir.—The weather was rainy which did harm to crops and caused rivers to rise in flood. The condition of crops, owing to the rains, is average. There is no disease among cattle. Fodder is sufficient. Prices of grains and shali are somewhat higher than before.

Article 7.—The Show of agricultural products, machinery, etc., will be held in special pavilions to be erected for the purpose in the exhibition grounds. The pavilion for agricultural and industrial products will be furnished with show-cases in which the collections of samples may be arranged in accordance with the classification established in the general regulations.

Article 8—Exhibitors may put up, at their own cost, special stands or fittings for a general display of different classes of products, subject to the rules established for such cases.

Article 9.—The space occupied by exhibitors in the general pavilions will be provided free of charge; but no work or fitting can be done by them in these pavilions or in the special sites assigned to them, without previous submission to the Executive Committee, of the plans, sketches or explanations regarding the work they propose to carry out.

Article 24.—Samples of seeds and grain in general, flour, earths, fertilisers, etc., should be sent in quantities of not less than three kilogrammes of each class, and it is recommended that the samples of grain and flour be packed in tin or at least in small canvas bags made up in tin-lined boxes. Samples of plants, forage, ears and cobs, pods, etc., should be sent in sufficient quantity to allow of a due appreciation of the product.

Article 25.—Samples of timber should be sent in fair sized pieces, showing longitudinal and cross-cut sections and, if possible, with bark in natural state.

In the case of private buildings, stands or fittings, exhibitors must provide their own jars, etc.

Article 33.—The management of the Exhibition will furnish upright and horizontal glass cases in the pavilions provided for the general show of agricultural products in their natural and manufactured state, not intended to be shown in special stands or fittings.

Article 35.—Exhibitors of apparatus, machinery or implements, who wish to show a collection of these in special buildings or stands, apart from the obligatory exhibition in the corresponding pavilions, may construct same, at their own cost, on the sites provided by the Executive Committee, should there be space disposable, subject to the prior intervention of the General Commissioner of the agricultural division. For this purpose the exhibitors, in their application for space, must state in detail the number and class of the machines, implements, etc., they intend to show, and also the type and power of the engines they will set up for the production of motive power.

ADMISSION AND REMOVAL OF GENERAL EXHIBITS.

Article 36.—The Executive Committee having granted the space it may have resolved to concede, a printed form will be given to the exhibitor in which the grant of space will be confirmed.

Said form will have its corresponding counterfoil in the book kept for the purpose by the Management of the Exhibition. This form will contain in addition to the number of the grant, the name of the exhibitor, the exhibits to be shown, where produced, the division, section and class to which they correspond.

Article 37.—On arrival at the Exhibition, the form, named in Article 36, must be presented; in default of same the exhibits will not be admitted. Should the form have been lost, the interested party should ask for a duplicate, at least 24 hours before sending in his exhibits.

Article 38.—The exhibits having been admitted, the exhibitor should apply to the respective Steward to be put in possession of the space allotted.

Article 39.—Machinery and other exhibits may be removed from the Exhibition after the withdrawal stamp shall have been placed on the necessary forms—checked and signed in conformity by the exhibitor or his representative.

Article 40.—The withdrawal forms will not be given until after the exhibitor or his representative shall have paid the amount he may be owing for any service or charge. With regard to exhibits on which duties have not been paid, these will not be allowed to be removed until the permit of the competent authorities shall have been presented.

Article 41.—No Live Stock or other exhibit whatsoever will be allowed to be withdrawn until after the following dates.

Live stock: On the day after the closure of the Show.

This does not apply to animals and any objects taking part in the jumping and harness competitions or any other special ones, such being allowed to come in and go out under the conditions to be expressly established hereafter.

Article 42.—The Exhibition having been closed, the Live Stock and other exhibits should be removed with the least possible delay.

ADMISSION AND REMOVAL OF LIVE STOCK.

Article 43.—The conductors of Live Stock intended for the Exhibition must present at the entrance the admission form, which should be in conformity with the counterfoil in respect to number, species, breed, sex and age.

Should there be any disconformity, the General Commissioner of Live Stock will reject the exhibits presented.

Article 44.—The above formality having been complied with, and before admission be granted, the official veterinary surgeons will examine each animal presented and will reject all suffering from contagious disease, making a written report on same to the General Commissioner of the Live Stock division.

Article 45.—A special Committee named by the Executive will be encharged with the duty of rejecting or of withdrawing any animal that in its opinion is not worthy of being shown.

Article 46.—For the removal of Live Stock, after the closure of their respective Shows, the exhibitor or consignee will present a form signed by him, in which should be stated the number of the lot, species and number of animals to be withdrawn, name of purchaser and amount of sale: said form will be exchanged for a removal order, specifying the stock being withdrawn, which should be signed and delivered up in the act of retiring the animals.

The removal of the animals should be carried out by the owner or consignee, and the cattle and horses must be provided with headstalls and halters of any kind, but of sufficient strength.

CARETAKERS, FORAGE, ETC.

Article 47.—The exhibitors of Live Stock must provide the necessary caretakers and shepherds, and also such articles as buckets, forks, curry-combs, etc., required for their use. The cost of feed will also be for their account. The care, cleansing, feed and risk of the animals, even in the case of their having been sold, will be for account of the exhibitors up to 22 days after opening of the corresponding section of the Show, if they should remain on the premises, and they must provide the necessary staff. From that date forward these charges will be for account of the purchaser.

If in the opinion of the General Commissioner of the Live Stock division, the exhibitors do not provide a sufficient number of caretakers, they will be requested to increase same. In case of non-compliance with this disposition, the Executive Committee will take on the men required, for account of said exhibitors, at the rate of ten dollars national currency per day for each man.

The caretakers must wear the uniform which the Management of the Show will provide at the price of fifteen dollars national currency; except in the case of their having a special livery approved of by the General Commissioner of the Live Stock division.

SALES.

Article 48.—Any exhibit in the show, either in the Live Stock division or in the Agricultural, may be sold privately or at auction

As regards foreign exhibits—which, though subject to import duty, have not paid same on arrival,—sales will only be allowed after the Custom House authorities shall have assumed the corresponding intervention.

Article 49.—Exhibitors who shall have made sales, private or at auction should give notice, on the day of sale, to the Management, of the exhibits sold specifying class, catalogue number, price and names of purchaser and vendor, and also—in the case of Live Stock—the species, breed and sex of same.

Article 50.—The public sales of Breeding Stock will begin, simultaneously, on the day named by the Executive Committee, with the sheep, horses and other animals exhibited; these sales having come to an end the auctions will continue with the breeding cattle.

The sales by public auction shall be commenced by the auctioneers on the second ringing of the bell as ordered by the General Commissioner of the Live Stock division and will be continued without any interval whatever during the hours and within the dates fixed by the Executive Committee.

Stock entered singly and sheep in groups will be sold according to order of breeders, beginning with the winners of prizes as follows: the CHAMPIONSHIP—the GROUP prize—and then the winners of first, second and third prizes in the order of classes. The non-prize winners will be put up for sale after the above also in order of breeders as arranged by lot.

Article 51.—All sales made shall be subject to the condition that no animal disposed of shall be removed until the day after the closure of the section of the Show to which it belongs.

JUDGING.

Article 52.—Live Stock and other exhibits entered for competition will be examined by Judges—named by the Executive Committee of the Exhibition—who will award the prizes that in their opinion they merit.

Exhibitors cannot act as Judges for classes in which they have entered animals for competition; should they accept the nomination, their stock can only be shown as not for competition.

Article 53.—In case of absence or non-attendance of any Judge, the Executive Committee may name a substitute.

Article 54.—The Judges of Breeding Stock will begin their duties three days before the opening of the Exhibition and should have made their awards at latest before noon of the day appointed for that event; said awards to be handed, under cover, to the General Commissioner of the Live Stock division, who will then proceed to put up the cards showing in the case of each animal the awards it may have received.

Article 55.—The Judges of other exhibits will act on the dates the Executive Committee may name and will hand their awards, under cover, to the Commissary General of the corresponding division.

Article 56.—The awards of the Judges are final.

Article 57.—In the case of impossibility to award a prize on account of equal merit in exhibits competing, the Judges may award the same prise to each, without altering the other prizes of the class.

Article 58.—The Judges will be guided in their appreciation of the exhibits by the rules established for each case.

Article 59.—The Judges will not take into consideration any data beyond those stated in the entry forms. In the case of Live Stock, they may have them weighed or shorn if they should think expedient to do so, and they may also request veterinary inspection.

Article 60—All Breeding Stock before being placed before the Judges, must be examined by the official veterinary surgeons and any found affected by hereditary disease or unsoundness due to ill-conformation will not be sent into the judging ring, but will be removed immediately from the Exhibition premises.

Article 61.—The Judges may, or may not, award the prizes named in the Schedule; in the case of no prize being awarded to any exhibit in a class, they will declare the fact and give in writing the reason for so acting; they may add to the prizes named in the Schedule honorary mentions, numbered in order of merit, but not exceeding five.

Article 62.—All disrespect shown towards any group of Judges or to any member of same, will be considered a grave violation of the regulations and the General Commissioner of the respective division shall insist on the withdrawal from the Exhibition of the exhibits belonging to the offender or offenders, with loss of their admission cards.

Should the offender be a member of the Argentine Rural Society, the Board of Directors of same may, by a vote of two-thirds of its members, remove his name from the list of members.

Article 63.—The Judges may not create any other classes beyond those enumerated in the Schedule, nor divide any of them; but in case of entries being received of exhibits, for competition, not included in any of the classes named in the Schedule, the Executive Committee may admit them, authorizing the Judges of the corresponding Section Class to award them the prizes they may merit.

Article 64.—Live Stock entered for competition must be presented in the ring, punctually at the hour appointed for inspection by the Judges.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. The principal object of this Bill is to alter the constitution of the Board of Trustees of the Indian Museum in order to assign to the chief executive officers of the Museum a position on the Trust. There are also various other amendments in the existing law as contained in the Indian Museum Acts, 1876 and 1887, which appear to be desirable, and in these circumstances it has been thought most convenient to repeal these two enactments and substitute a new Act consolidating their provisions with the necessary amendments. With this object the present Bill has been prepared.

2. The more important amendments of the existing law are explained in the subjoined Notes on Clauses.

W. L. HARVEY.

The 4th September 1909.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 2.—It is proposed, after due consideration of the interests affected, to reduce the number of Trustees, which was fixed by the Indian Museum Act, 1887, at 21, to 17. Of these six are to be appointed ex officio, five by virtue of their position as Superintendents of departments of the Museum. The sixth is the Accountant General of Bengal. The remaining Trustees are to be nominated by the various bodies interested in the proper management of the Museum. It is further proposed [sub-clause (3)] that nominated Trustees shall hold office for a period of three years only, but that the nominating authority be given the option of extending the period.

Clause 3.—To lessen the possibility of the combined votes of the official members outnumbering those of the unofficial members, the quorum necessary for the transaction of business has been raised from three to six.

Clause 6.—The opportunity has been taken to define more accurately the position and powers of the Trustees in respect of all the property, whether moveable or immoveable, now held or hereafter to be acquired by them for the purposes of the Trust.

Clause 7.—Power has been conferred on the Trustees to present duplicates to other Museums in British India as well as to exchange or sell them.

Clause 8.—In order to promote efficiency, it is intended that the officers in charge of certain sections of the Museum should have more voice than at present in the management of their own sections. This will be effected by means of bye-laws for the management of the Museum to be made by the Trustees with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council.

The Schedule.—A revised Schedule, specifying the lands and buildings of which the Trustees are now to have the exclusive possession, occupation and control for the purposes of their trust, has been substituted for the old one appended to the Indian Museum Act, 1887.

AGENT TO THE GOVERNOR GENERAL IN CENTRAL INDIA.

NOTIFICATION.

Central India Agency, Indore, the 23rd August 1909.

No. 1986-D.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Notification No. 1421-I.A.' dated the 15th April 1897, of the Government of India in the Foreign Department, the Agent to the Governor General in Central India issues the following revised rules under section 2, sub-section (1), of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897:—

RULES RELATING TO THE CANTONMENTS OF MHOW, NIMACH AND NOWGONG.

1. If in any house a person becomes ill or dies of a disease which is known or suspected to be plague, the owner of such house, or if the owner be non-resident, the occupier and every head of a family resident therein, shall forthwith report the occurrence of such illness or death at the nearest police station.

2. If there is, or has been, resident in any house a person who has come from any place in which plague is prevalent, the owner of such house, or if the owner be non-resident, the occupier and every head of a family resident therein, shall report at the nearest police station (1) the illness of any person in such house, or (2) the death of any person in such house, immediately such illness is apparent or death occurs.

3. Any medical practitioner who (1) attends a case of illness in a house in which there is present a person who has come from a place where plague is prevalent, or who (2) attends in any house a case in which he has reason to believe the sick person to be infected with plague, shall forthwith report such illness to the nearest police station.

4. On receiving a report under rules 1, 2, or 3 the officer in charge of the police station shall immediately report the matter to the Inspector of Police, the Cantonment Magistrate, and Health Officer of the Cantonment.

Explanation.—The Staff Surgeon shall be the Health Officer unless another Medical Officer is appointed by the Local Government to be Health Officer.

5. Compulsory corpse inspection by Medical Officer should not be resorted to, but during an outbreak of plague all deaths, the cause of which cannot be determined not to be plague should be treated as deaths from plague. It will be open to any persons to voluntarily submit a dead body to the examination of a medical officer if they wish to avoid the death from being treated as due to plague.

6. The owner and occupier of a house, and the head of any family resident therein, shall comply with any direction that may be issued by the Health Officer with regard to, the disinfection and cleaning of a house, the disinfection or destruction of clothing and personal effects, the disposal of any corpse, the improvement of the sanitary condition of the premises and other similar matters.

7. The Health Officer shall, if he considers it necessary, himself take measures for the disinfection of a house and for the other matters referred to in the preceding rule. Should the Health Officer think it necessary and practicable to burn or otherwise destroy any non-masonry and inflammable structure, he will report the case to the Cantonment Magistrate and act on his orders. The Cantonment Magistrate may order the burning or destruction of any hut or other temporary structure, if disinfection cannot be satisfactorily effected.

8. The Health Officer may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, require the owner or occupier of any house to permit him to enter his premises and examine any person whom such Health Officer has reason to believe to be infected with plague. If the person in question be a female, the examination shall, if she or her relatives so desire, be made through a female doctor, female Hospital Assistant, or other female agency.

9. If, on examination of a sick person in a house or other place within the limits of a Cantonment, the Health Officer suspects (1) that such person is infected with plague, or (2) considers that he is actually suffering from plague, the Health Officer may, if authorized on that behalf by the Local Government, arrange for the removal of such person (1) to an observation shed, or (2) to a temporary hospital established for the purpose, and for his detention, dieting, and medical treatment therein, or (3) may arrange for the treatment of the case in the infected premises by isolation from the remainder of the occupiers or by the removal of the healthy from the infected premises.

10. If in any case a person removed to a temporary hospital is accompanied by a companion or attendant, the Health Officer shall require the companion or attendant to live in the immediate neighbourhood of the temporary hospital in a segregation hut or tent provided for the purpose, and to remain in such place until he receives permission from the Health Officer to depart.

11. If a person is attacked with plague while so segregated, the Health Officer shall remove such person to the temporary hospital, and shall keep under observation in a segregation hut, tent, or suitable structure, for a period of 10 days from the date of such removal, any companion or attendant who has been with the person attacked.

12. Upon the death of a sick person from plague the Health Officer, if authorized on that behalf by the Local Government, may for 6 days detain under observation all persons who have been in attendance, in segregation huts, tents, or suitable structures established for the purpose in the neighbourhood.

13. If plague has become prevalent in a portion of a Cantonment, the Health Officer may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, direct the inhabitants of any street, mohalla, or other locality to evacuate their houses, to remove to a temporary settlement established, as a place of segregation, at a distance from the infected quarter, and to remain in such settlement for so long as he may consider necessary. After evacuation, the Health Officer shall arrange for the thorough disinfection and cleansing of the empty premises, and shall not permit the inhabitants to return until the premises are considered free from infection.

14. A person dealt with under the foregoing rules shall comply with any directions that may be given to him by the Health Officer with regard to his removal to, and his detention and treatment in, an observation shed, temporary hospital, or place of segregation, and with respect to the disinfecting or burning of his clothing and personal effects, the disposal of any corpse, or with respect to any other similar matter: he shall not depart from any such place of detention without the permission of the Health Officer.

15. All Police Officers shall give to the Health Officer such assistance as may be considered necessary in carrying out these rules.

16. Any conveyance, public or private, used for the carriage of a person infected with plague, or suspected of being infected, shall be thoroughly disinfected and exposed to air and sunlight for three days previous to being again used, articles of furniture belonging to it likely to retain infection being destroyed.

17. A chhapar hut, after occupation by a person suffering from plague, should be burnt, and this should also be done to the charpai upon which the person is carried to, or which he uses in the hut.

18. The foregoing rules shall come into force at once, and shall remain in operation until such time as they shall be withdrawn by notification by the Agent to the Governor General.

19. Notifications No. 4342, dated the 4th May 1897, No. 5455, dated the 9th June 1897, No. 2088, dated the 9th March 1901, and No. 4614, dated the 6th May 1901, are hereby cancelled.

ANNEXURE.

MEMORANDUM OF INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE GUIDANCE OF OFFICIALS.

1. Surveillance.—The actual work of surveillance can best be performed by the people themselves, and the inhabitants of towns should be encouraged and assisted to keep an organized surveillance over persons arriving from infected areas.

2. House visitation, &c.—The measure prescribed by rule 8 attacks the domestic privacy of the people, and should be employed only when it is clear that it will be effectual in saving them from disaster. It will be justifiable only when plague exists in small and well defined areas.

3. Removal of patients.—This should be compulsory only in places and under circumstances where it can be carried out so completely as to render it an effectual precaution and in the case of persons who are left without any one to look after them or who have no home. But every effort should be made to induce patients to go to hospitals and to lessen the aversion to hospitals by encouraging the establishment of private and caste hospitals, by locating hospitals near infected quarters, by limiting the size of hospitals, so that patients may receive more individual attention, and accommodation may be more readily made available for their immediate families and friends, by arranging for the provision of an adequate number of medical attendants and nurses, and of ample and comfortable accommodation for patients, and by permitting at least two friends to be in attendance on each patient, so that the patient may never be left alone. In the case of moribund cases, it would not be humane to forcibly remove from his house a person who has not a fair chance of recovery, and this should never be done except at the express wish of the friends of the patient.

4. Evacuation of infected areas.—Climatic conditions are a most important factor in determining whether evacuation can be carried out or not, and before the people are subjected to the discomforts of evacuation during the rainy season, there should be no doubt that the hardships inflicted on them will in all probability yield a balance of advantage.

5. Disinfection of houses &c.—Disinfection of houses after evacuation shall at first be limited to removing tiles in order to admit sun and air, no disinfecting or sanitary employes are to enter the houses until 3 or 4 weeks have elapsed. After this they can be prepared for occupation by scattering kerosine oil emulsion in the rooms in order to destroy fleas. This emulsion is prepared as follows :—Three parts of sunlight soap are dissolved in 15 parts of water, kerosine oil is added to the soap solution gradually up to 100 parts. The oil and soap water should be mixed together shaking or stirring all the while.

(a) Clothing, rags, and straw found in the houses should be removed into the open air by means of sticks to avoid handling and sanitary coolies must be protected from fleas by boots and putties. Useless rags, etc., must be burnt.

(b) If the regular destruction of rats is not being carried out before the advent of plague, this shall be done immediately plague threatens a Cantonment. A gang of men will be engaged to bait and place rat traps every evening collecting them next morning. Similarly others will place baits and collect those not removed next morning. Poison can be obtained from the Depôt Disinfecting Officer, Jullunder, Punjab. The rat campaign should be assiduously carried out in infected quarters and if possible in or along side evacuated houses.

RULES FOR INLAND TELEGRAMS.

GENERAL.

7. Inland telegrams are those which are sent to, or received from, places within Indian limits. Such telegrams are subject to the regulations laid down from time to time by the Government of India.

8. The accuracy of telegrams is not guaranteed, and the Sender and Receiver must accept all risks arising from non-delivery, errors, or delays.

9. Legibility and Forms.—To secure accuracy and rapidity of transmission, Senders of telegrams are advised to write them in a clear and unmistakable hand and on the proper forms, which can be obtained free of charge at all Telegraph and Post Offices (Rule 4). Telegrams written on plain paper are, however, accepted at all Offices.

Note.—Books containing 100 forms for Inland telegrams can be purchased at the principal Government Telegraph Offices; price with counterfoils two annas, and without counterfoils one anna each.

10. Offices where Inland Telegrams are accepted.—Inland telegrams are accepted at all Telegraph Offices and Post Offices in India, except at some Branch Post Offices. They are also accepted under certain conditions at Military Field Telegraph Offices.

11. Postal Combined Offices are Postal Telegraph Offices in telegraph connection with other Telegraph Offices.

12. Postal Receiving Offices are Post Offices which are not in telegraph connection with Telegraph Offices, but which receive Inland telegrams and despatch them by post to a Telegraph Office. Such telegrams are sent Registered and postage-free by first post.

13. Inland telegrams may be also posted by the Sender to the nearest Telegraph Office, together with postage stamps sufficient for their payment, and in this case a receipt for the amount will be returned post-free to the Sender. In the case of a telegram sent by post to a Telegraph Office, under the preceding or this rule, with stamps of insufficient value, the deficiency will be recovered from the Addressee (Rule 72).

14. Licensed Offices.—All paid telegrams, except Press (Rule 135), can be sent from any Government Telegraph Office to any Licensed Telegraph Office which is open for paid traffic (Section VI of the Telegraph Guide), or vice versa, without additional charge.

15. Objectionable telegrams.—Telegraph Offices are required to refuse to accept any telegram which may be of a decidedly objectionable or alarming character. Should the character of a telegram be open to doubt, the matter shall be referred to a Secretary to Government if the telegram be tendered at a seat of Government, or to the chief Civil or Military Officer if tendered at another place.

16. General Division.—Inland telegrams are divided into four classes :—

(a) State (or Government) telegrams (Rules 36 to 42).

(b) Service telegrams (Rules 43 to 46).

(c) Private telegrams.

(d) Press telegrams (Rules 129 to 136).

All these telegrams are transmitted according to their classification, Express or Ordinary (see Rules 61, 62 and 129) and in the order in which tendered.

MODE OF WRITING, etc.

17. Characters.—Inland telegrams must be legibly written in characters which have their equivalents in telegraphic signals. These characters or signals are the following :—

18. Language, etc.—The text of Private telegrams may be in plain language, in Code language, or in Figure Cipher, or partly in one and partly in the other. Letter Cipher is not admitted in Private telegrams.

(a) Plain language is that which offers an intelligible sense in English, or in any foreign language, or in any of the Vernacular languages subject to the conditions of Rule 17.

(b) By "Telegrams in Plain language" is understood those of which the text is written entirely in Plain language. Nevertheless, the presence of Code addresses, Exchange quotations, commercial marks, letters representing the signals of the International Code of Signals employed in maritime telegrams, of abbreviated expressions currently used in ordinary or commercial correspondence such as rsvp., fob, cfi, cif, caf, srp., c/o., b/l., mo., vpp., am., pm., %., or any other analogous expressions, the meaning of which is understood at the office of origin, does not alter the character of a telegram in Plain language.

(c) Code language is that which is composed of words which do not form intelligible phrases in one or more of the languages authorised for telegraphic correspondence in Plain language. The words, whether genuine or artificial must be formed of syllables capable of pronunciation according to the current usage of one of the following languages: English, French, German, Italian, Dutch, Spanish, Portuguese, or Latin. Artificial words must not contain the accented letters ä, á, a°, é, ñ, ö, ü. Genuine vernacular words are also admissible.

(d) Words in Code language must not contain more than ten characters according to the Morse alphabet (Rule 17) the combinations ae, aa, ao, oe, ue, being counted as two letters each. The combination "ch" is also counted as two letters in artificial words.

(e) Combinations which do not fulfil the conditions of clauses (c) and (d) are not admitted, neither are compounds composed of two or more words in plain language contrary to the usage of the language. (See also Rule 51, et seq.)

(f) Figure Cipher language is that which is composed either of Arabic figures or of groups or series of Arabic figures having a secret meaning.

(g) If in telegrams in which the text is written entirely in plain language, any single word or authorised compound contains more than 15 characters according to the Morse alphabet, the excess is counted separately as one word.

(h) Words in plain language inserted in the text of a mixed telegram, i.e., a telegram composed of words in Plain language and words in Code language, must not contain more than ten characters according to the Morse alphabet, and any excess is counted separately as one word in each case.

(i) If the mixed telegram contains, in addition, Cipher language, the passages in Cipher are counted according to the stipulations of Rule 55.

(j) If the mixed telegram is composed only of passages in Plain language and of passages in Cipher language, the passages in Plain language are counted according to the stipulations of clause (g), and the passages in Cipher language according to those of Rule 55.

(k) The Address or Sender's name in telegrams of which the text is written wholly or partly in Code language is charged according to the stipulations of Rule 53 and clause (g).

(l) Registered Abbreviated Addresses are treated as Plain language [clause (g)] when occurring in the Address or as the Sender's name in both Plain and Code language telegrams and also in the text of Plain language telegrams. When in the text of a Code language telegram, they are treated according to clause (h).

19. Erasures, etc.—Every interlineation or insertion, reference, erasure, or re-written word must be authenticated by the Sender or by his representative.

20. Parts of a telegram.—The different parts forming an Inland telegram should be written in the following order :—

(c) The Sender's Name (Rule 33).

21. Special Instructions.—The Sender should write upon the form, in the space provided, his instructions regarding prepayment of reply, if any. Other instructions regarding delivery at destination, acknowledgment of receipt, collation (or repetition), open delivery, or delivery only to the Addressee himself, etc., may be written in any blank space at the end of the text of the telegram (but see Rules 116, 119, and 120).

22. In the case of a Multiple telegram, the Special Instructions which concern each Addressee should be written immediately before his name; but in the case of a Collated Multiple telegram, it is sufficient if the Special Instruction for Collation precedes the first Address.

23. Special Instructions may be written in the abbreviated forms given in Rule 17 (d). In this case the counter clerk should place each of them between double dashes, thus= T. C.=. The Special Instructions are not charged for.

24. Address.—The name of the office of destination (or the office to which the telegram is to be transmitted) is counted as one word, irrespective of the actual number of words and initials which it may contain [Rule 53 (a)]. For instance, "Malia Hatina B. G. J. P." will count as one word. Care should be taken that the office to which the telegram is to be transmitted is written as given in the list of Telegraph offices published in the Telegraph Guide, but the letters, names of districts and provinces, printed in italics after the names of offices, need not be given.

25. The Address must contain all the particulars necessary to ensure the delivery of the telegram without search or enquiry.

26. For large towns the name of the street and the number of the house must be given, or in the absence of these particulars, the profession of the Addressee or any other relevant information.

27. Even for small towns the name of the Addressee must, if possible, be accompanied by additional particulars to guide the office of destination in effecting delivery.

28. When a telegram is addressed to one person care of another, the Address must contain immediately after the name of the real addressee the words "care of," "C/o." or any other equivalent.

29. Insufficient Address.—Telegrams the Addresses of which do not satisfy the conditions laid down in the preceding rules are nevertheless accepted and transmitted at the Sender's risk.

30. In all cases the Sender has to bear the consequence of an insufficient Address which, after the telegram has been despatched, can neither be completed nor altered, except by a paid Service Advice (Rule 44).

31. Abbreviated Addresses.—The Addressee's name and Address may be written in an abbreviated form. But the right of an Addressee to have a telegram thus addressed delivered to him, is subject to an arrangement made between such Addressee and the Telegraph Office which has to deliver the telegram.

32. Abbreviated Addresses may be registered under the following conditions :—

(1) Application for the registration of such addresses should be made to the officer in charge of the Telegraph Office at which it is proposed to register an address. The Telegraph Department cannot arrange for the registration of an address at any place in a foreign country.

(2) No address may consist of more than one word in addition to the name of the town where registration is effected.

(3) The word should contain not more than ten letters, and should be easy to read and easy to telegraph. Proper names can only in rare cases be accepted, and in no case can a proper name be registered for a person of a different name.

(4) The names of professions, trades, countries, states, towns, telegraph stations, well-known streets and registered newspapers may not be used as registered addresses.

(5) Numbers may not be registered.

(6) To prevent inconvenience to the public the Telegraph Department has to reject words which, either in writing or in telegraph symbols, so closely resemble other registered words as to be liable to be mistaken for them. It is desirable, therefore, that any application should not merely offer one word for acceptance, but should give several words from which a selection may be made.

(7) No address may be registered in one town for the delivery of telegrams in another town.

(8) A registered address is available for telegrams from other countries, as well as for Inland telegrams.

(9) The Telegraph Department reserves to itself the right to cancel an address. In such a case a part of the registration fee, proportionate to the unexpired period, is returned, or a new address may be substituted free of charge for the one cancelled.

(10) In the event of a change in the title of a firm for which an address is recorded, the consent, in writing, of all the partners of the firm must be produced before the records can be altered.

(11) The fee for the registration of an abbreviated address is Rs. 10 per annum, or Rs. 5 half-yearly, payable in advance. The fee for registration should be paid to the officer in charge of the Telegraph Office at which registration is effected.

(12) An additional fee of five rupees is charged for every change of the word selected, or for every transfer to another Telegraph Office, if made during the year or half year as the case may be, but not for change of residence within the delivery limits of the registering office, or for change of name or title of firm or person, so long as the identity is the same (see Condition 10,) and it is not a case of transfer from one firm to another; if it is a case of transfer, the full fees are charged.

(13) The Telegraph Department accepts no responsibility in respect of the delivery of any telegram having an Abbreviated Address if such address has not been registered, or for delay in delivering such telegram. Registration is essential in all cases of persons who frequently receive telegrams addressed to them by an abbreviated name, and Telegraph Officials can decline to deliver such telegrams if, after notice has been given, the address has not been registered.

33. Sender's name or designation.—The Sender's name or designation may be in an abbreviated form in customary use, or may be replaced by a registered address, or may be omitted altogether.

34. Text.—No Private telegram, or series of telegrams, containing more than five hundred words, can be sent at any one time by any individual or firm, and no subsequent telegram by the same individual or firm till after the lapse of three hours, unless the telegraph lines be free of all other traffic. Regarding the length of Press telegrams, see Rule 131 (8).

35. Signature.—The true Signature and Address of the Sender (which are not charged for or transmitted) must always be written at the foot of the telegram. The Sender of a Private telegram can always be called upon to prove that the signature attached to it is genuine. In the case of telegrams from a mercantile firm, if the name of the firm is written, it will be accepted, but if stamped, it must be attested by the signature, or initials, of a responsible member of the firm.

STATE TELEGRAMS.

36. Definition.—A State telegram is a telegram sent by an official of the British Government on British Government business.

Municipal Commissioners and the officials and servants of a Municipality or of a Guaranteed or Private Railway are not entitled to send State telegrams, nor are the officials and servants of Native States.

37. Language.—The text of State telegrams may in all cases be composed of Secret language (i.e., Code and Cipher). Cipher language may be formed either of groups or series of figures, or of groups or series of letters, having a secret meaning; but a combination in the same telegram of figures and of letters, having a secret meaning, is not admitted.

38. Collation.—State telegrams, when they are written in Figure or Letter cipher, are always repeated in their entirety (Rule 105) by the Receiving Office in the same manner as is done with "collated" telegrams (Rule 102). When partially written in cipher, the cipher portions only are repeated.

39. Payment, etc.—State telegrams must be marked State by the Sender, and, as a rule, paid for in Service stamps or in cash prior to despatch. The charges are the same for State as for Private telegrams. The rule regarding prepayment (Rule 64) will be relaxed in case of great emergency; but whenever an Express State telegram is tendered for transmission under this permission, the Sender must take the necessary steps to ascertain the charges on it, and pay them into the Telegraph Office within 24 hours. The rule cannot be relaxed in case of Ordinary State telegrams.

40. At Railway Offices.—State telegrams are not accepted at Railway Offices at places where there is also a Government Office, except in cases of emergency, or when the Sender's Office, or residence, is much closer to a Railway Office than to a Government Office. At Railway Offices State telegrams should be paid for in cash.

41. Abbreviated Addresses.—The conditions for the registration of abbreviated addresses laid down in Rule 32 do not apply to the abbreviated addresses of Government officials. These are registered free of charge, and without any restriction as to the number of words used. Applications for the registration of abbreviated addresses of Government officials should be made to the Director-General of Telegraphs.

42. Clear-the-Line Telegrams.—On emergent occasions of great importance, the Officers named below may "clear the line" within Indian limits, i.e., may suspend the receipt and despatch of all telegrams until the one for which the line is cleared is passed on:—

Such clear-the-line telegrams shall be accepted only if signed by one of the said officers;

The power to clear the line shall not be delegated and "clear-the line" telegrams signed "by order" shall not be accepted;

Any of the said officers may, in sending a clear-the-line telegram, authorise a "clear-the-line" reply, but no "clear-the-line" reply shall be accepted in the absence of such authority; clear-the-line telegrams shall be paid for as State (Express) telegrams. The words "clear line" should be written before the address.

SERVICE TELEGRAMS.

43. Service telegrams are divided into Service telegrams properly so called, and Service Advices. The former classification includes—

(a) those on the service of the Government Telegraph and Postal Departments, which are sent free to and from any Telegraph Office;

(b) those sent free on the service of certain foreign Governments regarding which the Government of India prescribes special instructions in each case.

Paid Service Advices are Service telegrams exchanged between Telegraph Offices under Rules 44 and 45.

PAID SERVICE ADVICES.

44. The Sender and Addressee (or the authorised representative of either of them) of any telegram already transmitted, or in course of transmission, may during the period of preservation of records (Rule 137), and after they have proved, if necessary, their right and identity, cause enquiry to be made, or instructions to be given respecting it by telegraph. They may also, in order to make or obtain corrections, cause a telegram, which they have sent or received, to be repeated, entirely or in part, by the Office of destination, or by the Office of origin, or by a transit office. In all such cases, they have to deposit the following amounts:—

(a) The cost of the telegram making the request, which may be classed Express or Ordinary at the Sender's option.

(b) The cost of a telegram for the reply, if a reply by telegraph is necessary, which may also be classed as in (a) above.

Those which are sent at the request of the Addressee in order to obtain the repetition of a passage suspected to be erroneous imply always a telegraphic reply which will be of the same class as the telegram making the request, and the insertion of the indication =Reply paid= is not necessary. In other cases in which a telegraphic reply is requested, this indication must be employed.

45. Rectifying, completing, or cancelling telegrams, and all other communications relating to a telegram already transmitted or in course of transmission, when they are addressed to a Telegraph Office, must be exchanged exclusively between the Offices under the form of paid Service Advices, at the cost of the Sender or the Addressee making the demand.

46. The charges for Service Advices necessitated through errors of the Telegraph Service are refunded under Rules 145 (h) and 148.

47. When the words to be repeated are written in a doubtful manner, the office of origin consults, in the first instance, the Sender. If he cannot be found, the office of origin adds to the repetition a note "Writing doubtful".

COUNTING OF WORDS.

48. What is counted.—All that the Sender writes upon the form to be transmitted to his correspondent is included in calculating the charge, with the exception of the Special Instructions referred to in Rule 21 and the name of the Telegraph Office of origin, which are transmitted free. No other words may be transmitted unless paid for.

49. Stops, etc—Dashes which only serve to separate upon the form the different words or groups of a telegram, are neither charged for nor transmitted. Signs of punctuation, apostrophes, and hyphens are only transmitted and, consequently, charged for, on the formal request of the Sender.

50. Preamble.—Words, numbers and signs added by Telegraph Officials for official purposes are not charged for. The hour and minute (Standard time) at which a telegram is handed in are added by the Telegraph Office and transmitted free.

51. Combinations or alterations of words contrary to the usage of the language are not admitted (except in the case of registered abbreviated addresses under Rule 32, Condition 3). The same applies to combinations or alterations sought to be concealed by reversing the order of letters or syllables. Nevertheless, the names of towns and countries, patronymics (family names) of one and the same person, the names of places, squares, boulevards, streets, and any other kinds of public places, the names of vessels, whole numbers, fractions, decimal or fractional numbers, written entirely in words, and compound words admitted as such in the English and French languages and which can, if a question arises, be justified by reference to a dictionary, may be respectively written as single words, without either apostrophe or hyphen.

The words halfpenny, twopence, threepence, etc., up to elevenpence, may be written as single words.

52. The following are examples of combinations of words admissible and inadmissible as single words :—

(b) Every Code word which fulfils the requirements of Rule 18, clauses (c) and (d).

(c) Every isolated character, letter or figure, including the initials of persons and of such abbreviations as, I.C.S. or R.A., which are treated as isolated letters, however written by the Sender, as well as every sign of punctuation, apostrophe, or hyphen, transmitted at the request of the Sender.

(d) Underline.

(e) Parentheses (the two signs which serve to form).

(f) Inverted commas, i.e., the two signs placed at the commencement and end of one and the same passage.

(g) In Telegraphic Money Orders, the name of the postal issuing office, the name of the postal paying office, and that of the locality where the payee resides.

54. Use of Apostrophes and Hyphens.—Words separated by an apostrophe and words joined by a hyphen are counted as so many separate words.

55. Figures, Letter Cipher, Commercial marks, etc.—Groups of figures or of letters, commercial marks composed of figures and letters are counted as one word for each five figures or letters which they contain, plus one word for any excess. Each of the combinations æ, aa, ao, œ, ue, and ch is counted as two letters. When Commercial marks form part of the text of a telegram, the Sender should certify them to be such at the foot of the form.

56. Signs, etc., used with figures or letters.—Decimal points or full stops, commas, colons, dashes and bars of division are each counted as a figure or a letter in the group in which they occur. This also applies to each letter added to groups of figures to form ordinal numbers, as well as to letters or figures added to the number of a house in an address, even in the case of an address in the text or in the signature (i.e. "Person From") of a telegram.

57. Abbreviations.—Common titles, which in their full form are expressed by a single word, such as Captain, Reverend and Esquire, may be written in their usual abbreviated forms, such as Capt., Rev. and Esq., each of which counts as one word. Similarly, common abbreviations of single words, such as Rs. (for Rupees), lbs. (for pounds), are admissible and count each as one word.

CHARGES.

59. Classes.—There are two classes of telegrams—Express and Ordinary. These classes apply equally to State and Private telegrams. The corresponding charges between any two Offices in India or Burma are as follows:—

60. On telegrams to or from the Pilot Vessel at the Sandheads exchanged by the Wireless Telegraph system, a special fee of Rs. 4 per telegram is levied, in addition to the rates specified in Rule 59.

PRECEDENCE.

61. Express telegrams have precedence over Ordinary telegrams in transmission and are delivered by messengers at any time during the day or night.

62. Ordinary telegrams are transmitted in their turn after Express telegrams, and delivery is effected by messengers between 6 hours and the time of closing of a telegraph office, but not later than 23 hours.

63. Ordinary telegrams are not accepted on Sundays and the four principal holidays, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday and the King's Birthday.

PAYMENT OF CHARGES.

64. Charges how paid.—With the exceptions provided for in Rules 39, 65, 70, 71, and 128, all charges on telegrams must be prepaid in Cash or Postage Stamps. If the class of the telegram is not stated by the Sender, it will be classed and charged for as Ordinary (Rule 59).

65. At Departmental Telegraph Offices, telegrams can be accepted without prepayment on the Deposit System of Accounts on the following conditions:—

(i) Any person who deposits a sum of money equivalent, approximately, to the average monthly payments on telegrams transmitted by him, may open an account with the Departmental Telegraph Office at which the deposit is made and transmit all classes of telegrams without prepayment, from that office. This deposit will be refunded when it is desired to discontinue the system of sending telegrams without prepayment.

(ii) In addition to this deposit, a sum of Rs. 10 will be levied as the minimum charge per annum, payable in advance, to cover as far as it goes a commission at the rate Re. 1 for every 25 telegrams transmitted without prepayment during the year.

(iii) At the end of each month, a bill will be presented showing the net amount due on telegrams transmitted without prepayment during the month, which should be paid into the Telegraph Office concerned within three days of the presentation of the bill.

(iv) The account for commission will be submitted quarterly, and, if within the period covered by the annual or minimum charge, the account should show a balance against the party in account with the Telegraph Office, the amount will be recovered.

66. Postage Stamps.—Postage stamps are of the following values:—

½ „	3 „	12 „	5 „
1 „	4 „	1 rupee	10 „
2 annas	6 „	2 rupees	15 „

Service Postage Stamps, i. e., Postage Stamps overprinted with "On H. M. S." should be used in payment of State telegrams.

67. Affixing Stamps.—The Stamps must be affixed by the Sender to the telegram form in the space allotted for the purpose, and he should see that the Stamps are defaced by the Counter Clerk with the Name and Date stamp of the office.

68. Spoilt or defaced Stamps.—Postage Stamps which have been obliterated, defaced, torn, cut or otherwise rendered imperfect, or which have any word, letter, figure, or design written, printed, or impressed upon them, otherwise than by the authority of Government, before being affixed, or which have been cut or otherwise separated from embossed envelopes, postcards or wrappers, cannot be recognised in payment of telegrams.

NOTE.—The perforation of Postage Stamps with initials, or other identifying marks, traced in minute holes is not prohibited.

69. Receipt.—A receipt containing particulars of the number of the telegram and the charges paid can be obtained for each telegram tendered for transmission at a Telegraph or Postal Receiving Office. Duplicate copies of receipts for telegrams are never given.

70. Telegrams from ships.—Telegrams arriving by mail steamers and other vessels for onward transmission by telegraph may be transmitted without prepayment; but no such telegram, whether prepaid or not, will be transmitted until the name of the vessel from which it is received is known at the Telegraph Office.

71. Telegrams from Field Telegraph Offices.—When at a Field Telegraph Office prepayment is impracticable, Private telegrams, addressed to any office other than a Field Telegraph Office, will be accepted "bearing," but such telegrams will not be delivered to the Addressees until they have paid the charges due on them (Rule 72).

72. Recovery of bearing and other charges from Addressee.—In every case where charges have to be collected on delivery (Rules 13, 70, 71, 84, 86 and 128), the telegram is only handed to the Addressee upon payment of the amount due.

73. Any Undercharge made in error, and charges and expenses not recovered from the Addressee in consequence of his refusal to pay them, or the impossibility of finding him, must be made good by the Sender.

74. Any Overcharge made in error is returned to the person entitled to it. No refund, however, is made of the value of the stamps in excess affixed by the Sender, unless he applies for it to the Superintendent, Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta, under Rules 145 (j) and 148.

INTERRUPTION OF TELEGRAPHIC COMMUNICATION: TRANSMISSION IN DUPLICATE.

75. When an interruption to the regular means of telegraphic communication occurs during the transmission of a telegram, the office beyond which the interruption exists, or an office situated further back and having at its disposal an alternative telegraph route, immediately sends the telegram by such a route, or failing that, by special messenger or by post (registered, if possible).

76. If a telegram is re transmitted by means other than telegraphic, it will be addressed by the retransmitting office either to the nearest telegraph office able to retransmit it, or to the office of destination, or to the addressee himself. As soon as communication is re-established, the telegram is transmitted afresh by telegraph, unless its receipt has been previously acknowledged, or unless, on account of an exceptional accumulation of traffic, this retransmission would be manifestly prejudical to the general service.

CANCELLATION.

77. If the Sender of an Inland telegram, or his authorised representative, wishes to cancel the telegram before transmission has begun, he can do so, and the charges, less a fee of two annas, will be returned: Provided that, if the telegram has been stamped and the stamps have been obliterated, the charges shall be refunded under Rule 145 (k), only on application being made to the Superintendent, Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta, within the period prescribed by Rule 148. If the telegram is in course of transmission, or has already been despatched, it can be cancelled only by a Paid Service Advice addressed under Rule 44 to the office of destination. If, in addition, the Sender wishes to be informed by telegraph in what manner his request has been acted upon, he must deposit the cost of the return telegram: otherwise he is informed by post. If the telegram has been delivered to the Addressee, the latter is informed of its cancellation unless the Service Advice contains instructions to the contrary.

DELIVERY AT DESTINATION.

78. According to Address and Order.—Telegrams are, according to their Addresses, either delivered at the residences of the Addressees, or kept at the Telegraph Office or Post Office till called for. They are, in all cases, delivered at, or sent to, their destinations in order of receipt.

79. Free Delivery Limits.—Telegrams are delivered free of charge within five miles of a Telegraph Office. Beyond this free delivery limit, telegrams are sent by post without charge, or by such other means as the Sender may arrange and pay for (Rules 115—120). For telegrams to be delivered by boat see Rule 84.

80. Persons to whom telegrams may be delivered.—A telegram taken to the Addressee's place of residence may be delivered either to the Addressee, the adult members of his family, any person in his service, to his lodgers or guests, or to the porter of the hotel or house, unless the Addressee has named in writing a special person, or the Sender has requested by writing on the form the Special Instruction Addressee only or (M.P.)—see Rule 17 (d)—, that the telegram may be delivered only into the hands of the Addressee himself. In this case the Office of destination writes the instruction "Addressee only" in full on the envelope and gives the necessary instructions to the messenger.

81. Open Delivery.—The Sender may also request that the telegram may be delivered open, by writing on the form the Special Instruction "Open"—see Rule 17 (d). This request is reproduced on the copy handed to the Addressee, which is delivered without an envelope, simply folded, with the Address written on the back.

82. Telegrams to be kept till called for.—When the telegram bears the Special Instruction to be kept at the Telegraph Office till called for or (TR), it is delivered to the Addressee or his duly authorised representative over the telegraph counter. Telegrams bearing the Special Instruction to be kept at the Post Office till called for or (GP) are handed to the Post Office by the Telegraph Office of destination. The latter are, as regards delivery and period of preservation, subject to the same rules as postal correspondence.

83. Delivery on ships.—Telegrams addressed to passengers on board a vessel arriving at a port are delivered, if possible, before disembarkation.

84. Delivery by boat.—When an Inland telegram has to be delivered on board a ship which cannot be reached without a boat (i.e., when the ship is not alongside a wharf, pier or jetty) or at a place which cannot be reached without a boat, the boat-hire must be paid by the Addressee if the Sender omits to prepay it. The indication Boat-hire paid or (BPD), or Boat hire paid double or (BPDN)—if the Sender has paid the boat hire and wishes the telegram sent on board at night—should be entered on the form. Boat-hire prepaid but not expended will be refunded [Rules 145 (g) and 148]. Information regarding fixed express charges for boat-hire for certain places in India can be obtained from the Telegraph Office.

85. Reply given to messenger—Save in the case of delivery by the ordinary post beyond the free delivery limit, the messenger who delivers a telegram may be entrusted with the Reply, provided he be not detained for this purpose more than five minutes. The fact of the Reply having been given to the messenger, and the amount paid to him should be mentioned on the Receipt signed for the original telegram.

86 Re-direction.—Telegrams can be re-directed to a second address, either by an official of the Telegraph Office, or by an agent of the Addressee. When official re-direction of telegrams is required, a notice to that effect must be given to the Telegraph Office concerned; printed forms for the purpose can be obtained from the local Telegraph Office. The person who gives notice is responsible for any charges that may be incurred. No additional charge will be levied for re-direction, if the two addresses are within the same town, but if in different towns, the full Inland rate, according to the class of the telegram, will be charged for the re-direction. If the sum due has not been paid at the office where the telegram has been re-directed, the amount will be recovered from the Addressee before delivery. State telegrams will be re-directed free. Instructions left at the Telegraph Office regarding the re-addressing or re-direction of telegrams will be considered to be in force for a month only; after that period they will be liable to the fees prescribed by Rule 92.

87. Inland telegrams may also be retransmitted to Ceylon at the request of the Addressee or some responsible resident acting on the Addressee's behalf. In that case, the full charge for the telegram from India to Ceylon will, when possible, be recovered from the Addressee. Requests for retransmission must be made in writing, and any one making such request must undertake to pay the charges which may not be collected by the Delivery Office. When no such undertaking accompanies a request to retransmit, the telegram will be posted and the Sender advised. Telegrams returned unopened with a new address in Ceylon will be similarly dealt with.

88. Undelivered telegrams.—When a telegram cannot be delivered, the office of destination, after a brief delay, sends a Service telegram to that effect to the office of origin and the Sender is informed, except in the case of—

(a) Telegrams addressed To await arrival, Télégraphe restante, Poste restante, or Care of Telegraph (or Post) Office, and

(b) telegrams to places beyond the free delivery radius which have been duly posted and are subsequently returned as undelivered by the Post Office to the Telegraph Office which posted them. In cases (a) and (b) when a charge has to be collected, the Service Advice of non delivery is sent by post at the expiration of the period for retaining such correspondence.

89. When in consequence of an inexact or insufficient Address or of the Addressee's absence or refusal, bearing charges have not been paid at destination, the amount of these charges is mentioned in the Service telegram and the Sender is bound to make them good.

90. If the messenger finds no one at the Address given who will consent to receive a telegram for the Addressee, a notice is left at the residence indicated, and the telegram is brought back to the Telegraph Office to be delivered to the Addressee, or to any person authorized by him to take delivery of it, upon application from either. When the Addressee duly advised as above of the arrival of a telegram, does not take delivery within 24 hours, non-delivery is reported in accordance with Rule 88.

91 Unclaimed telegrams.—Telegrams unclaimed, or not delivered, are not kept after two weeks by the office of destination.

92. Directions about delivery.—For the registration of standing instructions regarding the delivery of telegrams during fixed hours, the same fee as for the registration of an abbreviated address is levied (vide Rule 32). If the fee for a registered abbreviated address has already been paid, that fee will cover the registration of special delivery instructions. In the case of Government Officials, no charge is made for the registration of abbreviated addresses, but they will be required to pay the prescribed fee for the registration of standing instructions regarding the delivery of telegrams during fixed hours.

SPECIAL TELEGRAMS.

93. The Sender of a Private telegram, or of a State telegram addressed to a person other than a British Government Official, may prepay a reply, but the amount so prepaid shall be not less than six annas. The Sender of a Reply-paid telegram should write the words "Reply-paid" in the space provided on the form. [Rules 17 (d) and 21.]

94. At destination, the Telegraph Office delivers to the Addressee a Reply telegram form, which entitles him to send free of charge from any Telegraph or Receiving Office in India, and within the value of the amount prepaid, a telegram to any destination in India. Two or more Reply telegram forms may be used in payment of one Inland telegram, but one Reply telegram form cannot be used in payment of two or more telegrams. A Reply telegram form can prepay the cost of a telegram and its reply if necessary.

95. If the reply exceeds the amount notified in the Reply telegram form, the difference must be paid in cash or stamps by the Sender of the reply (Rule 67). If, on the other hand, the amount notified on the Reply telegram form exceeds that of the Reply, the difference, if it be not less than eight annas, will be refunded to the Sender of the original telegram on application to the Superintendent, Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta. No refund will be given on a Reply telegram form, which has been prepaid by another Reply telegram form and not by cash or stamps.

96. The Reply telegram form is available for only two months (date of issue included) after which it lapses.

97. When the Addressee has not made use of the Reply telegram form, or has refused it, the money deposited for the reply can be refunded to the Sender under the conditions of Rules 145 (d) and 148.

98. Should it be impossible to effect delivery of a Reply-paid telegram, the Office of destination sends a Service telegram to that effect and the Sender is informed (Rule 88). The Reply telegram form remains attached to the telegram during the period of retention fixed by Rule 91, after which it is sent to the Check Office to await any application for refund of the amount prepaid that may be preferred by the Sender according to Rule 148.

99. When a telegram to which a reply is prepaid, is addressed to a place where there is no Telegraph Office, the telegram and Reply telegram form are forwarded to destination from the nearest Telegraph Office by ordinary post free of charge.

100. It is not compulsory on the Addressee to send a reply. The duty of the Office of destination consists simply in the delivery of the Reply telegram form for the amount prepaid, and the Addressee is at liberty to do what he pleases with it.

101. The Sender of a State telegram addressed to a Government Official cannot prepay a reply. In the case of a State telegram addressed to other than a Government Official, any sum deposited by the Sender under Rule 93 must be intended for no other purpose than to cover the cost of a return telegram.

102. Collation consists in the entire telegram (including the Preamble) being repeated back immediately on its receipt by each Office concerned in its transmission.

103. The Sender of any telegram can require it to be collated, or repeated, to insure correctness. In this case he must write the Instruction T. C. [Rules 17 (d) and 23].

104. The charge for collation is equal to one-fourth the charge for the telegram. In calculating this charge, fractions of half an anna will be reckoned as half an anna.

105. State and Service telegrams written in Secret language are invariably collated free of charge (Rule 38).

(C) Acknowledgments of Receipt.

106. The Sender of a telegram can require that a notice of the date and time at which his telegram is delivered to the Addressee shall be notified to him as soon as possible after its delivery. He should write on the form the abbreviation (P C)—see Rule 17 (d). When the telegram is forwarded to its final destination by post, deposited poste restante, or delivered to any intermediate agency, this notice mentions the date and time of such forwarding, deposit, or delivery. This Acknowledgment of Receipt may be addressed to him at any place he may name.

107. The charge for an Acknowledgment of Receipt by telegraph is six annas.

108. A Telegraphic Acknowledgment of Receipt ranks for transmission as an Ordinary Private telegram.

109. In the case of non-delivery provided for in Rule 88, the Acknowledgment of Receipt is preceded by the Service Advice required by that Rule. The Acknowledgment of Receipt is detained during the period prescribed in Rule 91, or is transmitted after the delivery of the telegram, if that becomes possible. At the expiration of this period, if the telegram has not been delivered, the charge for the Acknowledgment of Receipt is refunded to the Sender of the telegram under the conditions of Rule 145 (g), if he has not already applied for such refund.

110. An Acknowledgment of Receipt when it reaches the office of origin, or the office indicated in the telegram (Rule 106), is notified to the Sender. When the Acknowledgment of Receipt has reference to a telegram which has been readdressed (Rule 86), the office of origin recovers from the Sender any charges that may be due.

(D) Multiple telegrams.

111. Addressed to one Telegraph Office.—Except as provided for in Rule 121, a telegram addressed to several persons in the same locality, or in different localities served by the same Telegraph Office, or to the same person at several Addresses in the same locality, or in different localities served by the same Telegraph Office, is charged for as a single telegram; but a copying fee of four annas per 100 chargeable words, plus four annas for the excess, is charged for each destination after the first.

Copies of a multiple telegram will only be delivered by post from the Terminal Telegraph Office when addressed to places beyond the telegraph lines. Such copies cannot be posted to places where there are Telegraph Offices.

112.—Addressed to more than one Telegraph Office.—A telegram addressed to several persons, or to the same person, in localities where delivery is to be effected by different offices, is charged for as so many separate telegrams, and shall be written on separate telegram forms. Telegrams addressed to stations which are local telegraph offices within the free delivery radius of the Central Office are, however, treated as laid down in Rule 111. Press telegrams addressed to more than one Telegraph Office, are invariably treated as in Rule 111 (See Rule 129).

113. In the case provided for in Rule 111, each copy of the telegram delivered will bear its own particular Address only, unless the Sender has requested the contrary. In the latter case the Sender should write the words Communicate all Addresses or=CTA [Rule 17(d)] which are not charged for.

114. Replies cannot be prepaid on multiple telegrams.

(E) Telegrams to be delivered by Post or Special Messenger.

115. Post or Special Messenger.—Telegrams addressed to places where there are no Telegraph Offices may be delivered at destination, according to the request of the Sender, either by post or by special messenger.

116. The Address of telegrams to be conveyed beyond the telegraph lines should be written as follows:—

Sherghotty, Post Gya.

(b) If the message is to be sent by special messenger—

Office of Origin and Service Instructions.

Calcutta=XP., Rs. Two

Nynan, Express Hooghly Point.

The Instructions (Post) or (X. P. Rs. two) are not charged for (Rules 28 and 48).

117. Express or porterage charges must be prepaid by the Sender. If the charges are fixed the telegram bears the Sender's Special Instruction Express paid or (X.P.) only. If not, the Sender must pay such sum as he thinks sufficient and the telegram must bear the Special Instruction Express R——or (X.P.—R). If the sum deposited is found to be insufficient at the Office of destination, the difference is recovered from the Addressee. Information regarding fixed Express or porterage charges for certain places in India can be obtained from the Telegraph Office.

118. Postage.—No charge is made for postage on a telegram addressed to a place in India where there is no Telegraph Office, or to a place out of India to which Indian Inland Postal rates, apply, e.g., Aden and Ceylon, but on telegrams to be posted to a place beyond the limits of the Indian Inland Postal Tariff, the following additional charges must be paid to cover postage and registration :—

(i) On a telegram to be posted to the United Kingdom, or any British Possession which has joined the Penny Postal Union—one anna, if the message is to be posted unregistered, and three annas if it is to be posted registered.

(ii) On a telegram to be posted to a country which has not joined the Penny Postal Union—

2½ annas, if the message is to be posted unregistered and 4½ annas, if it is to be posted registered.

119. Inland Telegrams posted from India to Ceylon.—Inland telegrams to be posted to Ceylon may be addressed to Tuticorin, from which place a daily mail boat leaves for Colombo.

EXAMPLE.

To—Young,
Oriental Hotel,
Colombo, Post Tuticorin.

Text.

Start by first Steamer.

From—W. Collins.

The charge for such a telegram is the usual Inland rate according to class, and, as stated in Rule 118, there is no charge for postage. The word Post is also not charged for (Rules 23 and 48).

120. Inland telegrams posted from Indian Ports.—An Inland telegram telegraphed to an Indian port to be posted under Rule 118 to a place beyond Indian limits must have the name of the port entered in the Address, and the Instructions Post, or Post Registered [Rules 17 (d), 21 and 23] before the name of the Telegraph Office from which to be posted.

EXAMPLE.

To—Mrs. Johnson,
20, Cambridge Terrace,
Hyde Park,
London, Post Bombay.

Text.—Afraid my letter missed mail. Am quite well.

From—Johnson.

The charge for such a telegram would be the usual Inland rate, according to the class (Express or Ordinary at Sender's choice), plus one anna for postage under Rule 118. If the Sender desires the message to be registered before being posted, he should insert the Special Instruction Post Registered (or P. R.) before the name of the Telegraph Office from which to be posted. The charge for postage and registration would then be three annas under Rule 118.

Telegrams as in this Rule may also be multiple (Rule 111), but in such case the Sender must pay the copying fee for each additional Address, and also an additional fee for each for postage, or for postage and registration, as the case may be, according to the charges laid down in Rule 118. But such telegrams cannot be addressed partly to persons beyond the sea, and partly to persons at the port itself. If the Sender wants the telegram also delivered to a person at the port itself, he must send it as a separate telegram.

121. Mixed Postal and Telegraph Service between India and the United Kingdom.—Communications intended for places in the United Kingdom may be telegraphed to Bombay for despatch by registered post to London and telegraphed thence to destination. The charges for such communications will be :—

(1) The charge for the telegram in India at Express or Ordinary rates according to the wishes of the sender.

(2) One anna for postage, and

(3) The British Inland telegram rate of ½*d*, or half an anna, per word with a minimum of six pence, or six annas.

The communications should be addressed as shown below :—

The words "c/o Telegraphs Bombay" will be charged for on the Indian section. On arrival at Bombay, the Central Telegraph Office will score out the words "c/o Telegraphs Bombay" and arrange to forward the telegram by post in a registered packet to the Central Telegraph Office, London, from whence it will be telegraphed to its destination. The charges for the above telegram will be :—

	Express.		Ordinary.
	Rs.	A.	Rs.	A.

(3) On British Section.—15 words (excluding the instruction "c/o Telegraphs Bombay").	0	7½	0	7½

(d) Multiple telegrams (Rule 111).

(e) Telegrams for delivery by Special Messenger (Rule 115).

(f) Semaphoric telegrams (Rule 123).

122. Employment of post.—In case of telegrams for places over five miles distant from the Telegraph Office of destination, that Office is entitled to post such telegrams—

(a) in the absence of directions in the telegram as to the means of delivery to be employed, or

(b) when there is an unpaid claim against the Addressee for delivery charges on a previous telegram, which he has refused to pay.

Telegrams for places over five miles distant from the Telegraph Office of destination must be posted by that Office—

(a) when such has been the request expressly made by the Sender (Rule 115) or the Addressee (Rule 86). The office of destination may, however, effect delivery by special messenger, even for telegrams bearing the instruction Post, if the Addressee has expressed a desire to receive his telegrams by special messenger ;

(b) when the Office of destination has no more rapid means of delivery at its disposal.

123. Semaphoric telegrams are telegrams exchanged with ships by means of Semaphore established on shore.

124. Semaphore Stations.—The following are the Government Telegraph Offices which are Semaphore stations :—

Achipur.	Elephant Point.
Amherst.	False Point Light-house.
Budge-Budge.	Hooghly Point.
Diamond Harbour.	Mud Point.
Diamond Island	Saugor Island.

125. Language.—Semaphoric telegrams must be written in English or by means of groups of letters of the International Code of Signals.

126. Address.—When a Semaphoric telegram is for a ship at sea, the Address must contain, in addition to the ordinary directions, the name or official number of the vessel for which it is intended, and its nationality.

127. Preamble.—The word Semaphoric should be written and signalled after the office of origin, i. e., in the space marked "Service Instructions" on every telegram received from a ship at sea. When it is addressed to a ship at sea this instruction is not inserted.

128. Charges, etc.—The charge for Semaphoric telegrams is the usual charge, plus a fixed fee of eight annas. In case of Semaphoric telegrams addressed to ships, the charges must be paid by the Sender ; in case of such telegrams received from ships, the charges must be paid by the Addressee before delivery.

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

129. Rates.—The following are the rates charged for Press telegrams :—

Class.	Unit No. of words.	Unit rate.	Each additional six words.	Address.
		R. a. p.	R. a. p.
Express	48	1 0 0	0 2 0	Free.
Ordinary	48	0 8 0	0 1 0	Do.

Multiple Press messages will be charged for as in Rule 111, whether all the Addresses are in the same town or not. The address in a Press telegram includes the name of the office to which the telegram is to be transmitted, the name of the correspondent, and the name and address (if necessary) of the Newspaper or News Agency.

130. Press telegrams at Ordinary rates are not accepted on Sundays and the four principal holidays, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday and the King's Birthday.

131. Conditions.—A Press telegram to be accepted at Press rates must fulfil the following conditions :—

(1) It must be addressed to a newspaper or news agency, the name of which has been registered by the Director-General of Telegraphs. The official Gazettes published by the Government of India, by Provincial Governments and by Native States will not be registered under this rule.

A list of such registered newspapers or news agencies, is published in the Telegraph Guide. A news agency must on registration and annually thereafter submit to the Director-General of Telegraphs a list of its bona fide subscribers to whom it issues news. Applications for the registration of newspapers or news agencies should be made on forms to be obtained at Government Telegraph Offices.

(2) It must be addressed to the newspaper or news agency in accordance with its registered title, and to the town at which the newspaper or news agency is registered.

(3) It must, except as provided hereafter in Condition (5), contain only intelligence which is clearly intended for publication in registered newspapers. The news which a news agency receives and disseminates at Press rates may only be given to duly registered newspapers or other registered news agencies.

(4) It must be written in plain English so as to be intelligible to the transmitting Offices and must contain nothing of concealed meaning either in Code language or Cipher. In Press telegrams ordinary English words may be abbreviated.

(5) It may also be a telegram sent from, or to, the newspaper or news agency by its registered title (but not in the name of the editor, publisher, manager, or any other person), to or from its correspondents or employés on the subject of a telegram published, or to be published, or to an official of the Telegraph Department on matters of Press business.

(6) If a press telegram be addressed to the editor, publisher, manager or any other person connected with the newspaper or news agency, by name or designation, it is chargeable at the full Inland rates.

(7) Whenever demanded, a copy of every newspaper in which a Press telegram is published must be furnished to the Telegraph Office from which that Press telegram was delivered.

(8) Long news messages should be broken up into pages of about 75 words each. All the pages must be numbered consecutively and each of them, except the last, should conclude with the words "More to follow" (or M. T. F). The last page should conclude with the words "End of message." These words and numbers are not charged for. The name of the sender should be written at the top of each page, and the last word of each page should be repeated at the top of the next page. The interval between the handing in of the different pages should not exceed an hour. When this interval is exceeded, the pages handed in late will be treated as a fresh message and charged accordingly. In telegrams addressed to more than one newspaper or news agency, the full list of addresses need only be furnished with the first page, and each of the consecutively numbered pages will be considered to be addressed to all the newspapers and news agencies.

NOTE.—Attention is specially directed to the necessity of writing as legibly as possible, and it is recommended that whenever practicable, the copy should be written in ink, and not in pencil.

(9) When a Press message is addressed to more than one office, a sufficient number of copies of the text should, when practicable, be supplied to allow of its being telegraphed simultaneously to each office. Information as to the number of copies required can always be obtained beforehand from the Telegraph office from which the news is to be sent.

(10) At least 8 hours' previous notice should, when possible, be given of the intention to send long news messages of a greater length than 1,000 words. This notice should be

147. In case of a partial refund on account of a multiple telegram, the total charge collected is divided by the number of copies, and the quotient represents the charge appertaining to each copy, the telegram itself counting, in this respect, as one copy.

148. (1) Every claim for refund, and every complaint respecting telegrams, shall be addressed to the Superintendent, Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta, within two months from the date of the telegram:

SECTION III.

RULES FOR FOREIGN TELEGRAMS.

FOUNDED ON THE INTERNATIONAL TELEGRAPH CONVENTION.

Note.—The Articles and Regulations quoted in the margin denote the corresponding Rules in the International Telegraph Convention. Points not specifically provided for in these Rules are dealt with in the manner prescribed in the Convention.

GENERAL.

150. Foreign Telegrams are those which are sent to, or received from, places beyond Indian limits. Such telegrams are subject to the regulations laid down by the International Telegraph Convention, to which the Government of India is a party None of the parties to the Convention accept any responsibility on account of Foreign telegrams. (For tariffs and rates, see Rules 234 to 237).

151. Legibility and Forms.—To secure accuracy and rapidity of transmission, Senders of telegrams are advised to write them in a clear and unmistakable hand, and on the proper forms, which can be obtained free of charge at all Telegraph Offices (Rule 4). Telegrams written on plain paper are, however, accepted at all Offices.

Note—Books containing 100 forms for Foreign telegrams can be purchased at the principal Government Telegraph Offices; price with counterfoils two annas, and without counterfoils one anna each.

152. Offices where Foreign Telegrams are accepted—Telegrams for Ceylon are accepted at all Telegraph Offices in India, also at a few Postal Receiving Offices. Telegrams for other countries are accepted at all Government Telegraph Offices, also at a certain number of Railway Telegraph Offices.

153. Foreign telegrams are only accepted at Field Telegraph Offices when fully prepaid in postage stamps, and then at the Sender's risk.

154. Foreign telegrams, except for Ceylon, cannot be accepted at any Railway Telegraph Office at places where there is also a Government Telegraph Office.

...nd Reg. 1 and 2. 155. Objectionable telegrams.—The parties to the Convention reserve to themselves the right of stopping the transmission of any Private telegram which may appear dangerous to the security of the State, or contrary to the laws of the country, to public order, or decency. The Terminal or any Intermediate Office may exercise this control on condition of immediately advising the Office of origin. Telegrams intended for a re-forwarding agency referred to in Rule 190, and which have been wrongly accepted, must be stopped by the office of delivery.

156. Telegraph Offices in India are required to refuse to accept any telegram which appears to be of the above character. Should the character of a telegram be open to doubt the matter will be referred to a Secretary to Government, if the telegram be tendered at a seat of Government, or to the chief Civil or Military Officer if tendered at another place.

...nd Reg. 157. Each of the Contracting Governments reserves to itself the right to suspend the International Telegraph service for an indefinite period, if it deem necessary, either generally, or only upon certain lines and for certain classes of correspondence.

158. General Division.—Telegrams are divided into four classes :—

(a) State (or Government) telegrams (Rule 193).

(b) Service telegrams (Rule 205).

(c) Private telegrams.

(d) Press telegrams (Rules 334 to 339).

In transmission, State telegrams take precedence of other telegrams, Service telegrams take precedence of Private telegrams, and Private telegrams take precedence of Press telegrams [Rule 334 (2)]. XXXII, 1.

WRITING AND ACCEPTANCE OF TELEGRAMS.

159. The text of telegrams may be in Plain or Secret language, the latter being subdivided into Code or Cipher language. Each of these languages may be employed alone or conjointly with the others in the same telegram. All the administrations admit, in all their relations, telegrams in plain language. They may decline to forward or to receive for delivery private telegrams composed either wholly or in part in secret language; but they must allow these telegrams to pass in transit, unless the service be suspended. Art. 6 and Reg. VI, 1.

160. Plain Language is that which offers an intelligible sense in one or more of the languages authorised for International telegraphic correspondence. The following are the languages authorised for Foreign telegrams in Plain language, subject to the conditions of Rule 173. Reg. VII, 1.

Annamite.	Finnish.	Japanese.	Ruthenian.
Arabic.	Flemish.	Latin.	Servian.
Armenian.	French.	Malay.	Siamese.
Bohemian.	German.	Norwegian.	Slavonic.
Bulgarian.	Greek.	Persian.	Spanish.
Croatian.	Hebrew.	Polish.	Swedish.
Danish.	Hungarian.	Portuguese.	Turkish.
Dutch.	Illyrian.	Roumanian.
English.	Italian.	Russian.

161. Telegrams from India to Ceylon and vice versa may be in the Vernacular languages of India or Ceylon, or in any of the above languages.

162. In Private telegrams in any language other than plain English or the Vernacular languages of India or Ceylon, the Sender shall certify at the foot of the form (or at the back if more convenient) that the message does not contain combinations or alterations of words contrary to the usage of the language. (See Rule 230.)

163. By "Telegrams in Plain language" is understood those of which the text is written entirely in Plain language. Nevertheless, the presence of Code addresses, Exchange quotations, commercial marks, letters representing the signals of the International Code of Signals employed in maritime telegrams, of abbreviated expressions currently used in ordinary or commercial correspondence, such as rsvp., fob, cfi, cif, caf, svp., c/o., b/l., or any other analogous expression, the meaning of which is understood in the country of origin, does not alter the character of a telegram in Plain language. Reg. VII, 2.

164. Code language is that which is composed of words which do not form intelligible phrases in one or more of the languages authorised for telegraphic correspondence in Plain language. Reg. VIII, 1.

165. The words, whether genuine or artificial, must be formed of syllables capable of pronunciation according to the current usage of one of the following languages:—English, French German, Italian, Dutch, Spanish, Portuguese or Latin. Artificial words must not contain the accented letters ä, á, a°, é, ñ, ö, ü. Reg. VIII, 2.

166. Codes intended for correspondence in Code language may be submitted to the Telegraph Administrations designated for the purpose, in order to allow those interested to obtain an assurance that the words contained in Codes fulfil the conditions of the preceding rule. In India, Code makers may submit their Codes to the Director-General of Telegraphs for submission to the Committee of Control.

167. Words in Code language must not contain more than ten characters according to the Morse alphabet (Rules 173 and 174), the combinations ae, aa, ao, oe, ue, being counted as two letters each. The combination "ch" is also counted as two letters in artificial words In Indo-Ceylon telegrams, the use of vernacular words is admissible as Code. Reg. VIII, 3.

168. Combinations which do not fulfil the conditions of Rules 165 and 167 are considered as belonging to Letter cipher language, Rule 170 (2), and charged accordingly. Compounds composed of two or more words in plain language, combined contrary to the usage of the language are on no account admitted. (See also Rule 230, et seq.) Reg. VIII, 4.

169. In Private telegrams worded in Code language, the Sender shall certify at the foot of the form (or at the back if more convenient) that the Code words are not combinations of two or more words in plain language contrary to the usage of the language.

170. Cipher language is that which is composed— Reg. IX, 1.

(1) Either of Arabic figures, of groups or series of Arabic figures having a secret meaning, or of letters (excluding the accented letters, ä, á, a°, é, ñ, ö, ü), groups or series of letters having a secret meaning.

(2) Of words, names, expressions or combinations of letters not fulfilling the conditions of Plain language (Rules 160 to 163) or of Code language (Rules 164 to 167).

Reg. IX, 2. 171. The employment in one group of figures and letters having a secret meaning is not admitted. It is desirable to avoid the use of Letter cipher, as far as possible, as it is less easy to transmit than pronounceable groups of letters, and is, therefore, more liable to error. In cases where it is necessary to employ letter cipher it should be arranged in groups of five letters in order to facilitate transmission.

Reg. IX, 3. 172. The groups referred to in Rule 163 are not considered as Letter cipher, i.e., as letters having a secret meaning.

Reg. X, 1. 173. Characters.—Telegrams must be legibly written in characters which have their equivalents in the official table of telegraph signals, and which are in use in the country where the telegram is presented.

Reg. X, 2. 174. The following are the characters in use in India :—

A, B, C, D, E, É, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z.

Reg. XXXI. Except in Code and Cipher language, the combination "ch" counts as one character of the Morse alphabet; so also do the twin vowels "aa" "æ", "ao," "œ", and "ue", commonly used to represent the continental modified vowels á, ä, a°, ö, and ü.

1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 0.

178. In the case of a Multiple telegram, the Special Instructions which concern each Addressee should be written immediately before his name; but in the case of a collated Multiple telegram it is sufficient if the Special Instruction for Collation (Rule 284) precedes the first Address. Reg. XII, 2.

179. Special Instructions may be written in the abbreviated forms allowed in Rule 174 (d). In this case the counter clerk should place each of them between double dashes, thus :— "=RPx=T. C.,=" and so written they are counted each as one word only [Rule 218 (8)]. When they are written in plain language, they should be in French. Reg. XII, 3.

180. Address—Every Address must contain at least two words, the first designating the Addressee, the second indicating the name of the Telegraph Office of destination. The latter should be spelt as in the Official List of Offices (Nomenclature des bureaux telegraphiques—see Rule 218). Reg. XIII, 1.

181. The Address must contain all the particulars necessary to ensure the delivery of the telegram to the Addressee. These particulars, with the exception of names of persons, should be written in French or in the language of the country of destination. Reg. XIII, 2.

185. When a telegram is addressed to one person care of another, the Address must contain, immediately after the name of the real addressee, one of the indications "chez," "aux soins de," "c/o," "with," "care of," or any other equivalent. Reg. XIII, 4.

186. The name of the telegraph office of destination must be placed after the words in the address which serve to designate the addressee and, when given, his place of residence. It must be written as it appears in the first column of the official Nomenclature of offices. This name can only be followed by that of the country or of the territorial sub-division, or by both of these. In the latter case it is the name of the territorial sub-division which must immediately follow that of the Telegraph Office of destination. Reg. XIII, 5.

187. When the name of the Office of destination has not yet been published in the Official Nomenclature the sender must complete the address by the name of the country or of the territorial sub-division, or by any other information which he considers sufficient for the forwarding of his telegram which, however, is only accepted at the sender's risk. This rule applies to the Office of origin also. Reg. XIII, 6.

188. Telegraph offices in the neighbourhood of London.—In telegrams addressed to telegraph offices in the neighbourhood of London, the names of which appear in the Official List of Offices (Rule 180), it is not necessary to add the word London in the Address. Telegrams for places in London itself, the names of which do not appear in the Official List of Offices (Rule 180), cannot be accepted unless addressed London as the name of the Terminal Office.

Reg. XIV, 2. 198. The Sender of a Private telegram is bound to prove his identity, if requested to do so by the office of origin.

STATE TELEGRAMS.

Art. 5. 199. 200. From British Officials.—The only British Government Officials in India who are allowed to send Foreign State telegrams are those who have been specially authorised to do so by the Government of India. A complete list of these Officials is published in the Telegraph Guide. Foreign telegrams classed State, tendered by Officials not named in that list, will be treated as Private telegrams. State Telegrams to Ceylon will, however, be accepted from all British Government Officials.

Reg. XV, 2. 201. Replies to State telegrams.—The right to send a reply as a State telegram is established by the production of the original State telegram.

Reg. XV, 3. 202. From Consular Agents.—Telegrams from Consular Agents engaged in commerce are only considered as State telegrams, when they are addressed to State Officials, and are connected with the business of the State. Nevertheless, telegrams which do not fulfil the last named conditions are accepted by the offices and transmitted as State telegrams, but these offices immediately report them to their own Administration.

Reg. XV, 4 and 5. 203. Language.—The text of State telegrams may in all circumstances be composed of Secret language. State telegrams which do not fulfil the conditions of Rules 160 to 172 are not refused, but are notified by the office which discovers the irregularities to its own Administration.

SERVICE TELEGRAMS.

Art. 5. Reg. XVI, 1. 205. Service telegrams are those which emanate from the Telegraph Administrations of the Contracting States and which relate, either to the International Telegraph service, or to objects of public interest agreed upon between the said Administrations. Service telegrams are divided into Service telegrams properly so called, and Service Advices. All Service telegrams are transmitted free, except in the cases specified in Rules 206 to 208. (Reg. XVI, 2.)

PAID SERVICE ADVICES.

Reg. XVII, 1. 206. The Sender and Addressee (or the authorised representative of either of them) of any telegram already transmitted, or in course of transmission, may during the period of preservation of records (see Rule 340) and after they have proved, if necessary, their light and identity, cause enquiry to be made, or instructions to be given, respecting such telegram by telegraph. They may also, in order to make or obtain corrections, cause a telegram which they have sent or received to be repeated, entirely or in part, by the Office of destination or by the Office of origin or by a transit office. In all such cases, they have to deposit the following amounts:—

(a) the cost of the telegram making the request;

(b) the cost of a telegram for the reply, if a reply by telegraph is necessary.

Reg. XVII, 1. 207. In case of a repetition asked for by the Addressee, he must pay the full charge for each word repeated.

Those which are sent at the request of the Addressee in order to obtain the repetition of a passage suspected to be erroneous imply always a telegraphic reply, and the insertion of the indication =RP*x*= is not necessary. In other cases in which a telegraphic reply is requested this indication must be employed. Reg. XVII, 3.

208. Rectifying, completing, or cancelling telegrams, and all other communications relating to telegrams already transmitted, or in course of transmission, when they are addressed to a Telegraph Office, must be exchanged exclusively between the Offices under the form of Paid Service Advices, at the cost of the Sender or the Addressee making the demand. Reg. XVII, 3.

209. The charges for the above-mentioned Service Advices are refunded under the conditions fixed by Rule 348, when the Advices are necessitated by errors of the telegraph service. Reg. XVII, 6.

210. When the words of which the repetition is requested are written in a doubtful manner, the Office of origin consults, in the first instance, the Sender. If he cannot be found, the office of origin adds to the repetition a note: "Writing doubtful". Reg. XVII, 7.

211. When the repetition concerns a telegram which has reached the Office of origin from the Sender by telephone, or by a private telegraph wire, that office requests at once from the Sender, a repetition of the words in question. In this latter case, if one or more of the words thus repeated differ from those in the telegram, the office gives the repetition requested in accordance with the corrections made, but inserts after the text of the Service Advice, the indication CTP (conserver taxe payée, or retain charge paid) accompanied by an indication of the number of words rectified by the Sender, the charge for which must not be refunded, thus:—CTP one, CTP two, etc. Reg. XVII, 7.

212. The various communications mentioned above may be made by post through the agency of the Telegraph Offices of origin or destination. They are sent under registered cover at the cost of the person who makes the request, and who should, in addition, pay the cost of a reply by post when he demands one. Reg. XVII, 8.

COUNTING OF WORDS.

213. What is counted.—All that the Sender writes upon the form to be transmitted to his correspondent, is charged for, and consequently included in the number of words. Nevertheless, dashes which only serve to separate upon the form the different words or groups of a telegram are neither charged for nor transmitted. Signs of punctuation, apostrophes, and hyphens are only transmitted and, consequently, charged for on the formal request of the Sender. Reg. XVIII, 1.

214. When signs of punctuation, instead of being used singly, are repeated one after the other, they are charged for as groups of figures. (Rule 195.) Reg. XVIII, 1.

215. Preamble.—The name of the Office of origin, the date and time of handing in, the instructions as to the Route, and the words, numbers or signs, which constitute the preamble, and are added by the Telegraph Office for official purposes, are not charged for; such of these particulars as reach the Office of delivery appear on the copy delivered to the addressee. Reg. XVIII, 2.

216. All telegrams are timed by Standard time which, in India is 5½ hours, and in Burma 6½ hours, in advance of Greenwich time.

217. The Sender may insert the particulars referred to in Rule 215, wholly or in part in the text of his telegram, but in that case they will be charged for. Reg. XVIII, 3.

218. In all languages the following are each counted as one word:— Reg. XIX, 1.

   (a) The name of the Telegraph Office of destination when written as given in the first column of the Official Nomenclature of offices or Nomenclature des bureaux telegraphiques (Rule 160) and completed, if necessary, by the particulars also given in that column.

   (b) The names of territorial sub-divisions, or countries respectively, if they are written as given in the said Nomenclature, or of their alternative names as given in its preface.

2. In Telegraphic Money Orders, the name of the postal issuing office, the name of the postal paying office, and that of the locality where the payee resides.

3. Every Code word which fulfils the requirements of Rules 164 to 167.

4. Every isolated character, letter or figure as well as each sign of punctuation, apostrophe or hyphen, transmitted at the request of the Sender (Rule 213).

5. Underline.

6. Parenthesis (the two signs which serve to form).

7. Inverted commas, i.e., the two signs placed at the commencement and end of one and the same passage.

8. Special Instructions written in the abridged form authorised in Rule 174 (d).

Reg. XIX, 3. 219. Plain language—If in telegrams in which the text is written entirely in plain language, any single word or authorised compound contains more than 15 characters according to the Morse alphabet, the excess is counted separately as one word.

220. In Private telegrams in any language other than plain English, or the Vernacular languages of India or Ceylon, the Sender shall certify at the foot of the form (or at the back, if more convenient) that the message does not contain combinations or alterations of words contrary to the usage of the language. (See Rule 230.)

221. In Plain language telegrams, Registered Abbreviated Addresses (Rule 194), whether used as the Address (Rule 226), or in the place of the Sender's name, or occurring in the text, are always treated as words in Plain language and counted at the rate of 15 characters to the word.

Reg. XIX, 4. 222. Code language—In Code language the maximum length of a word is fixed at ten characters, counted in accordance with the provisions of Rule 167.

Reg. XIX, 4. 223. Mixed telegrams.—Words in Plain language inserted in the text of a mixed telegram, i.e., a telegram composed of words in Plain language and words in Code language, must not contain more than ten characters according to the Morse alphabet and any excess is counted separately as one word in each case.

This rule applies also to proper Names, including Registered Addresses (Rule 194).

Reg. XIX, 4. 224. If the mixed telegram contains, in addition, Cipher language, the passages in Cipher are counted according to the stipulations of Rule 228.

Reg. XIX, 4. 225. If the mixed telegram is composed only of passages in Plain language and of passages in Cipher language, the passages in Plain language are counted according to the stipulations of Rule 219, and the passages in Cipher language according to those of Rule 228.

Reg. XIX, 5. 226. The Address or Sender's name in telegrams of which the text is written wholly or partly in Code language is charged according to the stipulations of Rules 218 and 219.

Reg. XIX, 6. 227. Use of apostrophes and hyphens.—Words separated by an apostrophe or joined by a hyphen are counted as so many separate words.

Reg. XIX, 7. 228. Figures, Letter-Cipher and Commercial marks.—Groups of figures or of letters, commercial marks composed of figures and letters, are counted as one word for each five figures or letters which they contain, plus one word for any excess. Each of the combinations ae, aa, ao, œ, ue and ch is counted as two letters.
When Commercial marks form part of the text of a telegram the Sender should certify them to be such at the foot of the form.

Reg. XIX, 7. 229. Signs used with figures or letters.—Decimal points or full stops, commas, colons, dashes and bars of division, are each counted as a figure or a letter in the group in which they occur. This also applies to each letter added to groups of figures to form ordinal numbers, as well as to letters or figures added to the number of a house in an address, even in the case of an address in the text or in the signature (i.e. "Person From") of a telegram.

Reg. XIX, 8. 230. Combinations or alterations of words contrary to the usage of the language are not admitted (Rule 168). The same applies to combinations or alterations sought to be concealed by reversing the order of letters or syllables. Nevertheless, the names of towns and countries, patronymics (family names) of one and the same person, the names of places, squares, boulevards, streets and other kinds of public places; the names of vessels, whole numbers, fractions, decimal or fractional numbers, written entirely in words and compound words admitted as such in the English and French languages and which can, if a question arises, be justified by reference to a dictionary, may be respectively written as single words without either apostrophe or hyphen (Rule 227).

Reg. XIX, 9. 231. Counting by Office of Origin decisive—The counting of words by the Office of origin is decisive both for purposes of transmission and of the international accounts. When, however, a telegram contains combinations or alterations of one of the languages of the country of destination, or of a language other than those of the country of origin contrary to the usage of such language, the Office of destination is empowered to recover from the Addressee the amount of the under-charge. In this case the telegram is not delivered to the Addressee until he has paid the under-charge. If the Addressee should decline to pay, a Service Advice is sent to the Office of origin, explaining the cause of non-delivery and mentioning the amount of the under-charge due. Should the Sender, duly notified of the reason for non-delivery, agree to pay the under-charge, a Service Advice is sent to the Office of destination, which then delivers the telegram.

In applying this Rule in India the language of the country is considered to be English, French or Portuguese, and in the case of telegrams addressed to certain offices in Persia, Persian. The Rule applies also to the Vernaculars in case of telegrams from Ceylon (Rules 161 and 167).

232. Inadmissible groups or words.—When the Office of origin discovers, after the charge has been collected, that a telegram contains either inadmissible combinations or alterations of words, or expressions or words which, although not fulfilling the conditions of Plain or Code language, have been charged for as belonging to those languages, it applies to these expressions or words, for the calculation of the undercharge to be recovered from the Sender, the rules to which they should have been respectively subjected. The combinations or alterations are counted in accordance with the number of words which they would contain if they were written in the usual manner. The Office of origin acts in the same manner when the irregularities are brought to its notice by a transit office or by the Office of destination. Nevertheless, neither of these two latter offices may delay the forwarding or delivery of the telegram, except in the case provided for in Rule 231. Reg. XII

233. Examples of counting.—The following examples show how the rules for counting words are to be interpreted :— Reg. XX.

TARIFFS AND CHARGES.

234. Tariffs.—The franc is the monetary unit employed in Foreign Tariffs, and all accounts with Foreign Administrations are settled in gold. Charges in India are collected at the standard rate of R 15 = 1£ = 25 Francs. The Tariffs for telegrams are made up of the shares of the different Administrations concerned, which may alter them from time to time. The Tariffs vary also according to the Route employed (Rules 246 to 250). Art. 10 and Reg. XXII. Reg. XXVII, 5, 6.

235. Charge by the word.—The charge for a telegram is by the word pure and simple, and the minimum charge is for a telegram of two words (Rules 180, 195, and 196). Tables showing the rates per word to Foreign countries are published in the Telegraph Guide. Reg. XXIII, 1.

236. On telegrams to or from the Pilot Vessel at the Sandheads exchanged by the Wireless Telegraph system, a special fee of Rs. 4 per telegram is levied, in addition to the usual rates per word shown in the tables referred to in Rule 235.

237. Tariff Areas—For Tariff purposes India is divided into two areas, namely, India Proper and Burma. When in the course of transmission, a Foreign telegram has to traverse both of these areas, the charge per word is always two annas higher than when it has to traverse only one.

238. Frontier Offices.—The Frontier Offices, or Offices which directly exchange telegrams with Foreign Administrations, are as follows:—

(a) Bombay, Karachi, and Madras in the Indian area, which exchange telegrams with the Eastern Telegraph Company, the Indo-European Telegraph Department, and the Eastern Extension, Australasia and China Telegraph Company, respectively. Madras and Bombay which work Colombo direct are considered the Frontier Offices for Ceylon;

(b) Moulmein and Rangoon in the Burma area, which exchange telegrams with the Siamese Administration; and

(c) Bhamo in the Burma area, which exchanges telegrams with the Chinese Administration.

All Foreign telegrams originating in India or Burma have to pass through one or other of these Frontier Offices.

239. Prepayment of charges.—The charges for telegrams must be prepaid with the exception of the additional charges on telegrams to follow (Rule 298), the charge for delivery by special messenger (Rule 310), Semaphoric telegrams received from ships (Rule 328) and extra charges for alterations or illegal combinations of words discovered by the Office of destination (Rule 2·1), all of which are recovered from the Addressee. Reg. XXIX, 1.

240. Receipts.—The Sender of a telegram can claim a receipt showing the amount paid. Senders of telegrams should examine their receipts to see if they are correct. Duplicate copies of receipts for telegrams are never given. Reg. XXIX, 2.

241. Recovery of bearing and other charges from Addressee.—In every case where charges have to be collected on delivery, the telegram is only handed to the Addressee upon payment of the amount due. Reg. XXIX, 4.

242. State telegrams.—The Rule about prepayment (Rule 239) is relaxed in case of State telegrams of great emergency from British Government Officials who have been duly authorised (Rule 200) to send Foreign State telegrams. Whenever a telegram is sent without prepayment under this Rule, the Sender must take the necessary steps to ascertain the charges on it, and pay them into the Telegraph Office within twenty-four hours.

243. Cash or stamps.—At Offices authorised to accept Foreign telegrams, the charges must be paid in cash or stamps (see Rule 64). At Departmental Telegraph Offices, telegrams can be accepted on the Deposit Account system. (For particulars—see Rule 65.)

244. Under-Charges made in error, and charges and expenses not recovered from the Addressee in consequence of his refusal to pay them, or the impossibility of finding him, must be made good by the Sender, except when the rules provide otherwise (see Rule 299). Reg. XXX, 1.

245. Over-charges made in error are returned to those entitled to them. No refund, however, is made of the value of the stamps in excess affixed by the Sender, unless he applies for it to the Superintendent, Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta, and sends with his application the Receipt granted for the telegram. Reg. XXX, 2.

ROUTE.

246. The different Routes by which telegrams may be transmitted are indicated by concise directions in the Tariff Tables published in the Telegraph Guide. Reg. XLI, 1.

247. The Sender who wishes to prescribe the Route should write the corresponding direction on the telegram. The Sender may specify the actual Route to be followed or mark the telegram Best Route or Cheapest Route. Indications as to Route are transmitted free (Rule 215). Reg. XLI, 2.

Reg. XLI, 3. 248. When the Sender has prescribed the Route to be followed, the Telegraph Offices concerned are bound to carry out his wishes, unless the Route named be interrupted, or transmission by it seems likely to involve serious delay, in which cases the Sender cannot raise any objection to the employment of another Route.

Reg. XLI, 4. 249. If, on the contrary, the Sender does not prescribe the Route, the telegram is sent by the best working route for which sufficient charges have been received. Where the charges are the same, the Offices where Routes diverge will decide by which to forward the telegram.

Reg. XLI, 5. 250. When the forwarding of a telegram can be effected by several routes belonging exclusively to the same Administration, it rests with that Administration, in the case of private correspondence, to decide, in the best interests of Senders, in which direction the telegram shall be forwarded over its lines. The Senders cannot, in this case, request specially the employment of one of the routes in question.

INTERRUPTION OF TELEGRAPHIC COMMUNICATION, TRANSMISSION IN DUPLICATE.

Reg. XLII, 1. 251. When an interruption to the regular means of telegraphic communication occurs during the transmission of a telegram, the office beyond which the interruption exists, or an office situated further back and having at its disposal an alternative telegraph route, immediately sends the telegram by such a route, or, failing that, by special messenger or by post (registered, if possible).

252. If it is found that a telegram cannot be sent to its destination owing to interruption of the specified route taking place after the telegram was accepted, the Sender will be communicated with and asked to pay the additional charge if he wishes his telegram diverted to a more expensive route.

Reg. XLII, 3. 253. An office which has recourse to means of retransmission other than telegraphic addresses the telegram according to circumstances, either to the nearest telegraph office able to retransmit it, or to the office of destination, or to the addressee himself, when this retransmission takes place within the limits of the State of destination. As soon as communication is re-established, the telegram is transmitted afresh by telegraph, unless its receipt has been previously acknowledged, or unless, on account of an exceptional accumulation of traffic, this retransmission would be manifestly prejudicial to the general service.

CANCELLATION OF A TELEGRAM AT THE REQUEST OF THE SENDER.

Reg. XLIV, 1. 254. Before transmission.—The Sender of a telegram or his authorised representative can, on proving his identity, stop its transmission, if in time.

Reg. XLIV, 2. 255. When he cancels it before transmission has begun the charges are returned, less a fee of two annas.

256. If the stamps have already been defaced, the refund can be made only by the Superintendent, Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta, to whom the Receipt should be sent with an application for refund.

Reg. XLIV, 3. 257. After transmission.—If the telegram has been transmitted by the Office of origin the Sender can only request that it be cancelled by a Paid Service Advice, forwarded in accordance with Rule 206 and addressed to the office of destination. The Sender must pay, at his option, the cost either of a telegraphic or of a postal reply to the notice of cancellation. So far as is practicable, this Service Advice is transmitted successively to the Offices through which the original telegram has transited until it overtakes the latter. Failing contrary indication in the Service Advice if the telegram has been delivered to the Addressee, he is informed of the cancellation of the telegram. The Office which cancels the telegram, or which delivers the notice of cancellation to the Addressee advises the Office of origin accordingly. The information is given by telegraph if the Sender has paid for a telegraphic reply to the notice of cancellations in the contrary case it is sent by post as a paid letter. If the telegram is cancelled before having reached the Office of destination, the charges for the original telegram, for the Service Advice of cancellation, and for any telegraphic reply prepaid to such Advice in respect of the distance not traversed, will be refunded to the Sender on application to the Superintendent, Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta.

DELIVERY AT DESTINATION.

Reg. XLVI, 1. 258. According to Address.—Telegrams are delivered according to their Address either at the residence of the Addressee or Poste restante or Télégraphe restant (Rules 262, 273, and 274).

Reg. XLVI, 2. 259. Order.—Telegrams are in all cases, delivered at, or sent to, their destinations in the order of their receipt.

Reg. XLVI, 3. 260. Free delivery limits.—Telegrams addressed to a place of residence within the delivery limits of the Telegraph Office are at once taken to their Address. Telegrams bearing the Special Instruction Jour or Day [Rule 174 (d)] are not, however, delivered during the night. Those which are received during the night are only obligatorily delivered at once when they bear the instruction "Nuit", or "Night", or when the delivery office is in a position to recognise that they appear to be really urgent. In India, Foreign telegrams are classed as "Express" and are delivered at any hour of receipt, provided the office of destination is open for traffic at the time. They are delivered free of charge within five miles of a Telegraph Office. Beyond that limit, the post is employed, without charge, unless a special means of delivery has been paid for by the Sender, or requested by the Addressee [Rule 319 (a)].

261. Reply given to messenger.—In India, the telegraph messenger who delivers a telegram may be entrusted with the Reply, provided he be not detained for this purpose more than five minutes. The fact of the reply having been given to the messenger and the amount paid to him should be mentioned on the Receipt signed for the telegram.

262. Delivery by post.—Telegrams which have to be deposited at the Post Office, i.e., Poste restante, or =GP=, (or Poste restante recommandée or=GPR=) are sent immediately to the Post Office by the Telegraph Office of destination under the conditions fixed by Rules 317 and 318. In India, all Foreign telegrams which have to be posted to destination are posted as registered letters. Reg. XLVI, 4.

263. Delivery on ships.—Telegrams addressed to passengers on board a vessel arriving at a port are delivered, if possible, before disembarkation. Reg. XLVI, 5.

264. When a telegram in India has to be delivered on board a ship which cannot be reached without a boat (i.e., when not alongside a wharf, pier or jetty), or at a place which cannot be reached without a boat, the cost of boat hire must be paid by the Addressee (Rule 310).

265. On telegrams to Ceylon addressed to persons on board ships in Ceylon ports, the Sender must prepay twelve annas for boat hire. He should write the abbreviation=XP= (which is counted and charged as one word) in the space provided on the form to indicate that boat-hire has been prepaid (Rule 315).

266. Persons to whom telegrams may be delivered.—A telegram taken to the Addressee's place of residence may be delivered either to the Addressee, the adult members of his family, any person in his service, to his lodgers or guests, or to the porter of the hotel or house, unless the Addressee has named in writing a special person, or the Sender has requested, by writing in the space provided on the form the Special Instruction Mains propers or "Addressee only" or=MP= [Rule 174 (d)], that the telegram be delivered only into the hands of the Addressee himself. In this case the Office of destination writes the instruction "Addressee only" in full on the envelope, and gives the necessary instructions to the messenger. Reg. XLVII, 1. Reg. XLVII, 2.

267. Open delivery.—The Sender may also request that the telegram be delivered open, by writing in the space provided on the form the Special Instruction Ouvert or "Open" [Rule 174 (d)]. This request is reproduced on the copy handed to the Addressee, which is delivered, in India, without an envelope, simply folded with the Address written on the back. Reg. XLVII, 1.

268. Undelivered telegrams.—When a telegram cannot be delivered, the Office of destination, after a brief delay, sends a Service Advice to the Office of origin, stating the cause of non-delivery and repeating the Address exactly as received. If necessary, this Advice is completed by stating the reason for refusal (Rule 231), or by indicating the charges to be claimed from the Sender [Rules 296, 299 and 311]. No Advice is sent under this rule where a telegram duly posted under Rule 320 is returned by the Post Office as undelivered or on telegrams addressed To await arrival, Télégraphe restant or Poste restante, except when a charge has to be collected, when the Service Advice of non-delivery is sent by ordinary paid letter at the expiration of the period for retaining such correspondence. Reg. XLVII, 3.

269. The Office of origin verifies the correctness of the Address, and, if it has been mutilated, rectifies it immediately by a Service Advice. If required this Service Advice contains instructions necessary to correct any errors committed, such as, "send on to destination," "cancel telegram," etc. Reg. XLVII, 4.

270. If the Address has not been mutilated, the Office of origin communicates the notice of non-delivery to the Sender, whenever possible. A notice of non-delivery is only retransmitted by telegraph if the Sender of the original telegram has asked that his telegrams may be redirected to him by telegraph (Rule 299). In all other cases the notice is redirected by post in the form of a letter, if the sender is known. In India, Advices of non-delivery which are to be posted are posted free of charge. The receiver of a notice of non-delivery can only complete, rectify or confirm the Address of the original telegram by a paid telegram in the form of a Paid Service Advice (Rule 206). Reg. XLVII, 5.

271. If it becomes possible to deliver a telegram after transmitting an Advice of non-delivery without having received one of the rectifying Advices referred to in Rules 269 and 270, the Office of destination sends a second Service Advice to the Office of origin, stating that the message has been delivered. This information is communicated to the Sender if he has received a notice of non-delivery. This second Advice is not sent when delivery is notified by telegraphic acknowledgment of receipt (Rule 290). Reg. XLVII, 6.

Reg. XLVII, 7.

272. If the messenger finds no person who will consent to receive the telegram for the Addressee, a notice is left at the address given and the telegram is taken back to the Telegraph Office to be delivered to the Addressee, or any person authorised by him to take delivery of it, upon application from either. When the Addressee advised as in the previous rule of the arrival of a telegram, does not take delivery within 24 hours, non-delivery is reported in accordance with Rule 268.

Reg. XLVII, 8.

Reg. XLVII, 9.

273. Télégraphe restante.—When a telegram is addressed télégraphe restante, it is delivered to the Addressee or his duly authorised representative, over the telegraph counter.

Reg. XLVII, 10.

274. Poste restante.—Telegrams addressed Poste restante, and those which are to be delivered by post are, as regards delivery and period of preservation, subject to the same rules as postal correspondence.

Reg. XLVII, 11.

275. Any telegram which cannot be delivered to the Addressee within a period of forty-two days from the date of its receipt at the delivery office is, subject to the provisions of Rules 274 and 332, not kept by the Office of destination.

276. Directions about delivery.—For the registration of standing instructions regarding the delivery of telegrams during fixed hours, the same fee as for the registration of an Abbreviated Address is levied (vide Rule 32). If the fee for a registered Abbreviated Address has already been paid, that fee will cover the registration of special delivery instructions. In the case of Government officials, no charge is usually made for the registration of abbreviated addresses, but they will be required to pay the prescribed fee for the registration of standing instructions regarding the delivery of telegrams during fixed hours.

Reg. XLIX.

277. The Sender of a telegram can prepay the reply which he requests from his correspondent, by writing on the form in the space provided, the Special Instruction Réponse payée or Reply paid or = RP =, and adding the number of words he wishes to prepay thus: Réponse payée x, or Reply paid x or = RP*x* =. The charge for the reply is calculated on the supposition that it will follow the same route as the original telegram.

278. A reply of less than two words cannot be prepaid (Rules 180, 195 and 196).

279. At the place of destination, the Delivery Office delivers to the Addressee a Reply telegram form or voucher of a value corresponding to the cost of a telegram of a number of words equal to that given in the Special Instructions, intended for the office of origin of the reply paid telegram and to be sent by the same route as the latter. This Reply telegram form carries the right of sending, within the limit of its value, a telegram to any destination whatever, from any telegraph office of the Administration whose office has issued the Reply telegram form or voucher. Two or more Foreign Reply telegram forms may be used to frank one Foreign telegram, but one Reply telegram form may not be used to frank two or more telegrams.

Reg. L, 2.

280. If the reply exceeds the amount notified in the Reply telegram form, the difference must be paid in cash or stamps by the Sender of the reply. If, on the other hand, the amount notified in the Reply telegram form exceeds that of the reply, the difference is refunded by the Superintendent, Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta, to the Sender of the original telegram, if he apply for it within three months from the date of issue of the Reply telegram form and provided that such difference is not less than ten annas. This refund is only made on the authority of the Administration which delivered the original telegram. If the telegram with deposit for reply originated in India, the refund of the unused portion is made to the Sender by the Superintendent, Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta.

Reg. L, 3.

281. The Reply telegram form may only be used in payment for a telegram during a period of forty-two days following the date of its issue.

Reg. L, 4.

282. When the Addressee has not made use of the Reply telegram form for any reason whatever, or has refused it, the money deposited for the Reply can be refunded to the Sender under the conditions of Rule 348 (h). In case of a Reply telegram form delivered in India, the Addressee should, before the expiration of three months from the date of issue, send the Reply telegram form to the Check Office, as above, accompanied by a claim for refund in favour of the Sender.

Reg. L, 5.

283. When, from any cause, a Reply paid telegram cannot be delivered, the Reply telegram form remains attached to the telegram during the period of retention fixed by Rule 275. At the end of this period, the Administration of destination will initiate the refund if the amount paid is not less than ten annas. The amount of the Reply telegram form is nevertheless refunded to the Sender if he apply for it before the expiration of this period. In this case, the delivery office cancels the Reply telegram form, and the telegram, endorsed accordingly, is preserved during the prescribed period (Rule 275).

(B) Collated (or Repeated) Telegrams.

284 The Sender of a telegram can require that it be collated (or repeated). In this case he should write in the space provided on the form the Special Instruction Collationnement or "Collation" or =TC=. Reg. LI. 1.

285. State and Service telegrams written in Secret language are invariably collated free of charge. Reg. LI. 2.

286. Collation consists in the entire telegram (including the preamble) being repeated back immediately on its receipt by each Office concerned in its transmission. Reg. LI, 3.

287. The charge for collation is equal to one-fourth of that of a telegram of the same length by the same Route, fractions of half an anna being reckoned as half an anna. Reg. LI, 4.

(C) Acknowledgments of Receipt.

288. The Sender of a telegram can require that a notice of the date and time at which his telegram is delivered to the Addressee shall be notified to him as soon as possible after its delivery. When the telegram is forwarded to its final destination by post, deposited poste restante, or delivered to some intermediate agency, this notice mentions the date and time of such forwarding, deposit, or delivery. Reg. LII, 1.

289. The notice is sent by telegraph if the Sender writes in the space provided on the form the Special Instruction Accusé réception, or "Acknowledgment receipt" or =PC=, and pays a charge equal to that of a telegram of five words for the same destination by the same Route. It is sent by post if the Sender writes in the space provided on the form the Special Instruction Accusé réception postal, or Postal Acknowledgment receipt, or= PCP =, and pays a charge of 2½ annas for postage. Reg. LII, 2.

290. In the case of non-delivery provided for in Rule 268 the Acknowledgment of Receipt is preceded by the Service Advice required by that rule. The Acknowledgment of Receipt is detained during the period prescribed in Rule 275 or is transmitted after the delivery of the telegram, if that becomes possible. At the expiration of this period, if the telegram has not been delivered, the Administration of origin officially initiates the refund of the charge for the Acknowledgment of Receipt. Reg. LIII, 2.

291. A Postal Acknowledgment of Receipt, contains the same information as a Telegraphic Acknowledgment of Receipt. It is sent by the office of delivery to that of origin in a prepaid envelope endorsed "Accusé de réception" or "Acknowledgment of Receipt." Reg. LIII, 4.

292. The Acknowledgment of Receipt, telegraphic or postal, when it reaches the Office of origin of the telegram, is notified to the Sender. When the Acknowledgment of Receipt has reference to a telegram which has been re-addressed, the Office of origin recovers from the Sender, if necessary, the difference between the amount originally collected for the Acknowledgment of Receipt and the cost of the transmission actually effected. If the latter amount is less than the former by not less tha ten aunans the difference is refunded to the Sender at his request. Reg. LIII, 5.

293. The Sender can require, by writing in the space provided on the form, the Special Instruction Faire suivre, or "To follow" or= FS=, that the Office of destination shall cause his telegram to follow the Addressee. Reg. LIV, 1.

294. If the Sender of a telegram Faire suivre or "to follow" requests a Telegraphic Acknowledgment of Receipt, he must be warned that in the event of the telegram having to follow the Addressee beyond the limits of the country of destination, he will be liable to pay any sum that may be necessary to complete the cost of the Acknowledgment of Receipt according to the distance actually traversed independently of any charges for re-addressing his telegram which may not have been collected on delivery. Reg. LIV, 2.

295. When a telegram bears the Special Instruction Faire suivre, or "To follow" or = FS=, without further instructions, the Office of destination writes the new Address, if any, supplied at the residence of the Addressee and sends the telegram forward to its new destination. The same course is followed until the telegram is delivered or until no new Address is furnished. Reg. LIV, 3.

296. If delivery cannot be effected, and if no other Address is furnished, the telegram is retained in the office and its non-delivery reported as in Rule 268. The Service Advice of non-delivery must show the amount of the charges to be recovered from the Sender. This Advice, when the non-delivery might have arisen through an error of transmission, must be sent through the last re-transmitting office in order that it may have an opportunity of making the necessary corrections. Reg. LIV, 4.

297. If the Special Instruction Faire suivre or "to follow" or = FS = is accompanied by successive Addresses, the telegram is transmitted to each of the destinations mentioned with the last, if necessary. In case of non-delivery the last office treats it in accordance with the provisions of Rule 296. Reg. LIV, 5.

Reg. LIV, 7. 298. The charge to be collected from the Sender for a telegram Faire suivre or "to follow" is simply the charge up to the first destination, all the Addresses being counted in the number of words charged for. The supplementary charges are collected from the Addressee. It is calculated by counting the number of words transmitted in each retransmission.

(E) Telegrams to be retransmitted by order of the Addressee or his Agent.

Reg. LV. 299. Telegrams re-directed in India.—Should the Addressee of a Foreign telegram received in India have left the place to which it is addressed, it may be re-directed to a second address in India either by an official of the Telegraph Office or by an agent of the Addressee. When official re-direction of telegrams is required, a notice to that effect must be given to the Telegraph Office concerned; printed forms for the purpose can be obtained from the local Telegraph Office. The person giving notice is responsible for any charges that may be incurred. No additional charge will be levied for re-direction if the two addresses are within the same town, but if in different towns, the full Inland Express rate will be charged for the re-direction. If the sum due has not been paid at the office where the telegram has been re-directed, the amount will be recovered from the Addressee before delivery. State telegrams will be re-directed free. Instructions left at the Telegraph Office regarding the re-addressing or re-direction of telegrams will be considered to be in force for a month only, after that period they will be liable to the fees prescribed by Rule 276.

300. Telegrams re-addressed to Ceylon.—Foreign telegrams arriving in India may also be re-transmitted to Ceylon at the request of the Addressee or some responsible resident acting on the Addressee's behalf. In that case the full charge for the telegram from India to Ceylon will, when possible, be recovered from the Addressee. Requests for re-transmission must be made in writing, and anyone making such request must undertake to pay the charges which may not be collected by the Delivery Office. When no such undertaking accompanies a request to re-transmit, the telegram will be posted and the Sender advised. Telegrams returned unopened with a new Address in Ceylon will be similarly dealt with.

(F) Multiple Telegrams.

Reg. LVI, 1. 301. A Multiple telegram may be addressed, either to several persons in the same locality or in different localities served by the same Telegraph Office, or to the same person at several Addresses in the same locality, or in different localities served by the same Telegraph Office, if the special Instruction x Adresses or "x Addresses" or = TMx = [Rule 174 (d)], which enters into the number of words charged for be written in the space provided on the form (Rule 178). The name of the Office of destination appears only once, namely, at the end of the Address.

Reg. LVI, 1. 302. In telegrams addressed to several addresses, the particulars concerning the place of delivery, such as Exchange, Railway station, Market, etc., must be written after each address or if they relate to several successive addresses, after the last of these addresses.

Reg. LVI, 2. 303. If the Address of a Multiple telegram contains any Supplementary Instructions, it is written in accordance with Rule 178.

Reg. LVI, 3. 304. For Multiple telegrams, in addition to the charge per word, a charge of five annas is collected for each copy not containing more than one hundred chargeable words. The number of copies is equal to the number of Addresses less one.

Reg. LVI, 3. 305. For copies containing over one hundred chargeable words the charge is five annas per hundred words or fraction of hundred words. The charge for each copy is calculated separately, taking into account the number of words which it will contain.

Reg. LVI, 4. 306. In the case provided for by Rule 301 each copy of the telegram must bear only the address which belongs to it, and except at the request of the sender the instruction "X addresses" or "X adresses" or =TM*x*= must not appear in it. This request must be included in the number of words charged for and be written before the address of each addressee whom it concerns, as follows:—Communiquer toutes adresses or "Communicate all addresses" or CTA=.

(G) Telegrams to be delivered by Post or by Express.

Reg. LVII, 1. 307. Post or Express.—Telegrams addressed to places where there are no International Telegraph Offices may be delivered at destination, according to the request of the Sender either by Post or by special messenger, but delivery by special messenger cannot be demanded, except for those States which have organised a system of delivery more rapid than the Post and have notified to the other States the arrangements provided for such service (Rule 316).

Reg. LVII, 2. 308. The sender may also request that his telegram may be sent by telegraph as far as an office which he indicates and thence by post to destination.

Reg. LVII, 3. 309. The Address of telegrams to be conveyed beyond the Telegraph lines must be preceded by the instruction denoting the method of conveyance to be employed whether Post or Special Messenger.

310. The cost of conveyance beyond the delivery limits of Telegraph Offices by quicker means than the post, in States where such a service is organised, is, as a rule, collected from the Addressee. (For exceptions—see Rules 312, 313, and 315.) Reg. LVIII, 1.

311. When a telegram which bears the Special Instruction Exprès or "Express" and has involved expense is not delivered the Office of destination enters in the Advice of Non-delivery referred to in Rule 268 the amount to be recovered from the Sender on this account thus, "PCV......" (amount due for special service). Reg. LVIII, 1.

312. When the Sender desires to prepay the cost of delivery by special messenger and if he can himself indicate the amount to be collected under this head by the Telegraph Office of origin, the telegram must bear the Special Instruction (charged for) Exprès payé x or Express paid x—(or=X P x=). If the sum deposited is found to be insufficient, the difference is claimed from the Addressee, but, if it exceeds the actual cost, the difference is not refunded. Reg. LVIII, 2.

313. A Sender who does not know the cost of delivery by special messenger can relieve the Addressee from the payment of any charge whatever, either by paying the charge of a telegram of five words to the same destination by the same route, or by paying a fee of 2½ annas for postage, and by depositing in addition, by way of security, a sum to be fixed by the Office of origin with a view to subsequent settlement. The telegram then bears the Instruction Exprès payé télégraphe or Express paid telegraph or=XPT=or Exprès payé lettre or Express paid letter or=XPP=. This instruction is written in the space provided on the form and is charged for. Reg. LVIII, 3.

314. The Telegraph Office which receives for delivery a telegram with the Instruction Exprès payé télégraphe or Express paid telegraph or=XPT=, notifies to the Office of origin by a Paid Service Advice, the charge to be collected for porterage. This information is given by a prepaid ordinary letter in cases where the Special Instruction is Exprès payé lettre, or Express paid letter or=XPP=. On receipt of this information the Office of origin settles with the Sender. Reg. LVIII, 4.

315. When the Administration of destination has previously fixed and notified, the amount of porterage charges to be paid, payment by the Sender is obligatory. In this case the telegram must bear in the space provided on the form the Instruction Exprès payé or Express paid or=XP=, which is included in the number of words charged for (Rule 179), and there is no necessity for the Office of destination to report to the Office of origin the actual cost of delivery. When the Sender has paid the charges for delivery indicated, in certain cases, in the official Nomenclature of offices, the instruction to be employed is also Exprès payé, or Express paid or=XP=. Reg. LVIII, 5.

317. Employment of Post.—Telegrams to be forwarded by post are subject to the following additional charges:— Reg. LIX, 1.

(a) Telegrams to be delivered within the limits of the country of destination: those bearing the Instruction "Poste recommandée, or "Post Registered" or =PR= are subject to a fee of two annas to cover cost of registration.

(b) Telegrams to be re-forwarded to a country other than the country of telegraphic destination: the fee to be collected is 2½ annas or 4½ annas according to whether they bear the Instruction=Poste=, or Post; or Poste recommandée or Post registered or=PR=, respectively.

318. The Telegraph Office of destination is entitled to employ the post— Reg. LIX, 2.

(a) In the absence of directions in the telegram as to the means of porterage to be employed;

(b) When the means indicated differ from the mode adopted and notified by the Terminal Administration (Rules 315 and 316); or

(c) When a charge for delivery by special messenger would have to be paid by an Addressee who has previously refused to pay such charges.

319. The employment of the post is obligatory upon the Telegraph Office of destination— Reg. LIX, 3.

(a) When a request to this effect has been expressly made by the Sender (Rule 307), or by the Addressee (Rule 299). The Office of destination may, however, employ a special messenger even for telegrams bearing the Instruction=Poste= or Post, if the Addressee has expressed a desire to receive his telegrams by special messenger.

320. Telegrams which have to be sent to their destination by post are posted by the Telegraph Office of destination without any charge being made to the Sender or Addressee, except in the cases provided for under Rule 317 (a) and (b). Reg. LIX, 4.

321. All Foreign telegrams, which have to be posted to destination in India, are sent by post registered (Rule 262).

NOTE.—Foreign telegrams delivered by His Highness the Nizam's state are delivered in duplicate. The first copy is posted unregistered by the terminal telegraph office, and then that office telegraphs the second marked duplicate, to Hyderabad (Deccan), where it is posted registered through the British Post Office.

Reg. LIX, 5. 322. Telegrams too late to be posted registered.—When a telegram, to be forwarded as a registered letter, cannot immediately be registered, it is, in order to take advantage of a postal despatch, first posted as an ordinary letter, a duplicate being sent as a registered letter as soon as possible This applies to all Foreign telegrams posted in India. The second copy will always be marked Duplicate.

(H) Semaphoric Telegrams.

Reg. LXI, 1. 323. Semaphoric telegrams are telegrams exchanged with ships at sea by means of Semaphores established on the coasts of any of the Contracting States.

324. Semaphore Stations.—The following Telegraph Offices in India are Semaphore stations :—

Achipur.	Elephant Point.
Amherst.	False Point Light-house.
Budge-Budge.	Hooghly Point.
Diamond Harbour.	Mud Point.
Diamond Island.	Saugor Island.

Reg. LXI, 2. 325. Language.—Semaphoric telegrams must be written either in the language of the country in which the Semaphore station which has to signal them is situated, or by means of groups of letters of the International Code of Signals.

Reg. LXI, 3. 326. Address.—When they are for ships at sea, the Address must contain, in addition to the ordinary directions, the name or official number of the vessel for which they are intended and its nationality.

327. Preamble.—Every Semaphoric telegram received from a ship at sea must contain in the Preamble the Service instruction Semaphorique or "Semaphoric." When it is addressed to a ship at sea, this instruction is not inserted in the Preamble.

Reg. LXI, 4. 328. The charge for telegrams exchanged with ships at sea by means of Semaphores is fixed at ten annas per telegram. This charge is added to the cost of its transmission by the electric telegraph, calculated according to the ordinary rules. The total is collected from the Sender, for telegrams addressed to ships at sea, and from the Addressee for telegrams signalled from ships at sea (Rule 239). In the latter case, the instruction "PCV" (which means Percevoir or Collect), must be inserted in the preamble.

Reg. LXI, 5. 329. Transmission.—Telegrams from a ship at sea are transmitted to their destination in signals of the International Code of Signals, when the sending ship requests it.

Reg. LXI, 6. 330. When such request has not been made they are translated into ordinary language by the Official of the Semaphore station and transmitted to destination.

Reg. LX, 4. 331. Period of retention.—The Sender of a telegram addressed to a ship at sea may specify the number of days during which the telegram is to be signalled to the ship by the Semaphore station. In this case he should write in the space provided on the form the Instruction "x ..days", (or x...jours); specifying the number of days, which will include the day on which the telegram is handed in for despatch.

Reg. LX, 8. 332. When the vessel to which a semaphoric telegram is addressed does not arrive within the period indicated by the Sender, or, in the absence of such indication, on the morning of the 29th day, the Semaphore station advises the Sender of it. The Sender has the option of requesting, by paid telegraphic or postal Service advice addressed to the Semaphore station, that the latter should continue to offer his telegram for a further period of 30 days, and so on. When no such request is received, the telegram is destroyed on the thirtieth day excluding the day of deposit.

(I) Combination of Special Telegrams.

Reg. LXIII, 1. 333. In applying Rules 277 to 332, the facilities given to the public for prepaid replies, collated telegrams, acknowledgments of receipt, telegrams "to follow," multiple address telegrams, and telegrams to be delivered by Post or by Express may be combined, the Instructions in Rules 177 to 179 and 293 to 298 being duly observed.

FOREIGN PRESS TELEGRAMS AT REDUCED RATES.

Reg. LVII, 4. 334. United Kingdom.—Telegrams containing news or intelligence for publication in newspapers are transmitted viâ Teheran or viâ Suez from the United Kingdom to India and Burma, and from Government Telegraph Offices in India and Burma to the United Kingdom, at reduced rates, subject to the following conditions, namely:

(1) The newspapers, their correspondents or agents, shall address their telegrams to a registered newspaper, which shall be prohibited from selling, distributing or communicating such telegrams to clubs, exchanges or news-rooms, or disposing of them for any purpose whatsoever, directly or indirectly, other than for publication in registered newspapers.

(2) Telegrams at the reduced rate shall not be allowed to interfere with the transmission of telegrams at full rates, and in order to ensure this, the transmission of such news telegrams may be deferred, suspended, or interrupted, until any State or Private telegram, or any Press telegram at full rates, which may be on hand, shall have been transmitted and completed. On the lines of the Indian Telegraph Department such telegrams shall take precedence with Ordinary Inland telegrams.

(3) No telegrams shall be transmitted at the reduced rate except for publication in a newspaper, and they shall be written in plain English, French or German or in the plain language in which is published the newspaper to which they are addressed, so as to be intelligible to the transmitting Offices. Telegrams containing news or information not for publication, or containing Code words or groups of letters or figures, or words of concealed meaning, shall be paid for at the full rates in force for Private telegrams. Stock Exchange and market quotations are admitted in Press telegrams at reduced rates. The Telegraph offices of origin shall, in cases of doubt, assure themselves in communication with the Sender, who is bound to give proof, that groups of figures appearing in the telegrams really represent exchange quotations.

(4) Telegrams shall be accepted only from the authorised correspondent of a newspaper, and the news sent in such telegrams shall be duly published in the newspapers, or satisfactory reasons be given for non-publication, in the absence of which full rates will be chargeable.

(5) All Press telegrams at the reduced rate shall be prepaid, except under special arrangements made by an authorised newspaper for a specially nominated correspondent.

(6) The reduced rate for Press telegrams shall apply only when all the above conditions have been satisfied, and any subsequent claim made for the difference between the reduced and full rates shall be satisfied immediately on demand.

335. Multiple Press telegrams.—Press telegrams can only bear a single supplementary instruction,—that relating to multiple address telegrams. The charge to be collected for the copies to be made by the office of destination is the same as that for ordinary Private telegrams (Rules 304 and 305).

336. How marked, etc.—Press telegrams must be marked Press by the Senders, and the benefit of Press rates must be claimed by them at the time the telegrams are tendered for despatch.

337. Other places.—On exactly the same conditions, Press telegrams can be sent to, or from, other places, in respect of which rates have been arranged and published in the Telegraph Guide.

338. Except as provided in the four last foregoing rules, Press telegrams to and from the above-named places at reduced rates come under the general rules for Private Foreign telegrams.

339. Press telegrams for Ceylon are accepted at reduced rates under the same general rules and conditions as Inland Press telegrams (Rules 131 to 136). In other respects Press telegrams for Ceylon come under the general rules for Private Foreign telegrams.

RECORDS.

340. Period of Preservation.—The originals of telegrams and documents relating to them are kept for three days only in Government Telegraph Offices, after which time they are sent to the Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta, where they are preserved for at least ten months from the month following that in which the telegram was handed in, and then destroyed. Reg. LXIX.

341. Secrecy.—The originals or copies of telegrams can only be communicated to the Sender, or to the Addressee, after proof of indentity or to the authorised representative of either of them. Reg. LXX, 1.

342. Copies.—The Sender or the Addressee of a telegram, or the authorised representative of either, has a right to be furnished with a certified copy of such telegram, or of the copy delivered at destination, if the latter has been preserved by the Administration of destination. This right lapses after the expiration of the time fixed for preserving the records. Reg. LXX, 2.

343. A fixed charge of four annas is made for every copy furnished in conformity with Rule 342, if the telegram does not exceed 100 words. Over 100 words, this charge is increased by four annas for each 100, or fraction of 100 words. Reg. LXX, 3.

344. Telegraph Administrations are not obliged to produce or give copies of the telegrams above mentioned, unless the Senders, the Addressees, or their authorised representatives, furnish the necessary information to enable the telegrams, to which their requests refer, to be found. Reg. LXX, 4.

345. Extended Preservation.—On the ground of pending or contemplated judicial proceedings, application may be made by an interested party to the Superintendent, Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta, for the preservation of specified telegrams exchanged between other persons. Such application must be made within ten months of the dates of the telegrams, and such telegrams will then be preserved for a period of four months beyond the ordinary date fixed for destruction under Rule 340; at the expiration of this further period they will, in default of a renewed application, be destroyed. It must be understood that the duty of the Telegraph Department in the matter is confined to making the search and preserving the telegrams, if found. No information as to the result of the search will be furnished, and any telegrams answering the description given which may be found, will only be produced on the order of a competent Court of law or other competent authority.

346. Fees for searching for telegrams.—Should the particulars furnished be insufficient to enable the Check Office at once to trace the telegrams applied for under either Rule 342 or 345, the cost of searching for them must be deposited by the applicant. A fee of one rupee is charged for searching through the telegrams of any Telegraph Office for one day: thus if it be required to examine the telegrams of two Telegraph Offices over a period of five days, the searching fee will be ten rupees.

347. Applications for the originals or for copies of telegrams may be addressed to the Telegraph Office within three days of the date of handing in or receipt of such telegrams or to the Superintendent, Check Office, Indian Telegraph Department, Calcutta, within ten months (Rule 340).

REFUNDS.

Reg. LXXI, 1.

348. Refunds of the following charges are made to those who have paid them, on receipt of an application for such refund, or of a complaint against the service:—

(a) The full charge paid for every telegram which, through the fault of the Telegraph service, has failed to reach its destination.

(b) The full charge paid for every telegram stopped in transmission owing to interruption of a route and of which the Sender has for this reason requested its cancellation.

(c) The full charge paid for every telegram which, through the fault of the Telegraph service, has either suffered a greater delay than it would have if sent by post, or which has not been delivered within 72 hours in the case of Private, or 36 hours in the case of State telegrams and paid Service Advices. The periods during which offices are closed, when that is the cause of the delay, and the time occupied in delivery by special messengers are not counted in calculating this delay.

(d) The full charge paid for every Collated telegram in Secret language or of any telegram in Plain language which, owing to errors made in transmission, has manifestly failed to accomplish its object, unless the errors have been rectified by Paid Service Advices under Rule 206.

(e) The supplementary charges pertaining to any special service which has not been rendered, as well as the charge for the corresponding supplementary instructions.

(f) The amounts deposited for Paid Service Advices requesting the repetition of a passage supposed to be incorrect if the repetition does not agree with the first transmission, with the reservation, however, that when some words have been correctly and some incorrectly transmitted in the original telegram, the charge for the words which relate exclusively to the words correctly transmitted in the first instance is not refunded. Nevertheless, the charge for the words correctly transmitted must be refunded, whatever may be the language in which the telegram is written, if the Administration concerned recognises that the mistakes made prevented the sense of the words which had not been mutilated from being understood.

(g) The full charge paid for every other Paid Service Advice, telegraphic or postal, sent under Rules 206 to 212, necessitated by an error of the Telegraph service.

(h) The full amount of every sum prepaid for a reply, when the Addressee has not made use of the Reply telegram form or has refused it, and when before the expiration of three months from the date of issue this Reply telegram form is in the possession of, or has been returned to, the Telegraph Administration which granted it.

(i) The charges in respect of the telegraph section not traversed when, owing to an interruption of the telegraph route, the telegram in question has been forwarded to its destination by post or by some other means. The charges incurred in replacing the original telegraphic route by any other means of transport are, however, deducted from the amount to be refunded.

(j) The full charges for every telegram with prepaid reply which has manifestly been unable to fulfil its object owing to a service irregularity which warrants the return of the charges for the reply; also the full charges for every prepaid reply which has manifestly been unable to fulfil its object owing to a service irregularity which warrants the return of the charges for the original telegram.

(k) The charge, when it amounts to ten annas or more, of every word omitted in the transmission of a telegram, unless the error has been rectified by means of a Paid Service Advice under Rule 206.

(l) The difference between the amount of a Reply telegram form and the charge for the telegram prepaid by means of such Reply telegram form, if this difference is equal to ten annas at least (Rule 270).

(m) The charge for every telegram stopped under Rules 155 to 157.

349. In the case of a partial refund on account of a multiple telegram the total charge collected is divided by the number of copies and the quotient represents the charge appertaining to each copy, the telegram itself counting, in this respect, as one copy. Reg. LXXI, 2.

350. In the cases provided for in clauses (a), (b), (c), (d), (i) and (k) of Rule 348, the refund applies only to the charge of the actual telegrams not delivered, or which have been cancelled, delayed or mutilated, including any supplementary charges not utilised, but not to telegrams necessitated or rendered useless by such non-delivery, delay or mutilation. Reg. LXXI, 3.

351. When the errors due to the Telegraph service have been rectified by means of Paid Service Advices under Rules 206 and 208 within the periods specified in Rule 348 (c) the refund applies only to the cost of these Paid Service Advices. No refund is due for the telegrams to which the Service Advices refer. Reg. LXXI, 4.

352. No refund is made for rectifying telegrams which, instead of being exchanged between Telegraph Offices in the form of Paid Service Advices, have been exchanged direct between the Sender and Addressee. Reg. LXXI, 5.

353. Rules 348 to 352 are not applicable to telegrams traversing the lines of non-adhering Administrations which refuse to accept the obligation of Refunds. At the same time, the adhering Administrations which have participated in transmission give up their proportion of the charge when the right to a refund has been established. Reg. LXXI, 6.

354. Every claim for refund must be made, under penalty of rejection, within five months from the date of handing in of the telegram. Reg. LXXII, 1.

355. (1) Every claim for refund, and every complaint respecting telegrams should be made by the Sender to the Telegraph Administration under which the telegrams originated. Provided:— Reg. LXXII, 2.

(i) that such application or complaint may also be presented by the Addressee to the Administration of destination which will then decide whether it will deal with it, or whether it should be forwarded to the Administration of origin;

(ii) that in India all such applications and complaints should be addressed, except in the case mentioned in proviso (iii) below, to the Superintendent, Check Office, Calcutta;

(iii) that claims for refunds on Paid Service Advices [Rule 348 (f) and (g)] may, if made within three days from the date of the telegram, be presented at the Telegraph Departmental Offices and Combined Post and Telegraph Offices in charge of Head and Sub-Postmasters at which such advices were handed in.

(2) Every such claim and complaint shall be accompanied by documentary evidence, namely:—

(a) in case of non-delivery or of delay, by a written statement from the Office of destination or from the Addressee;

(d) in case of telegrams sent from India, by the Receipt (Rule 240);

(e) in case of Paid Service Advices (Rule 209), by the correction memorandum granted in connection therewith by the Telegraph Office of delivery.

356. When a claim is admitted by the Administrations concerned, the refund is made to the applicant by the Administration of origin. The right to the refund lapses after a period of six months from the date of the letter by which the Sender is informed that the refund has been granted. Reg. LXXII, 4, 5.

Reg. LXXII, 6.

357. If the Sender does not reside in the country where he handed in his telegram he can have his claim forwarded to the Administration of origin through the medium of another Administration. In this case the latter is deputed to make the refund, if need be.

358. No claim is admitted when a telegram not being in accordance with the conditions prescribed for observance by the public with regard to composition, language, legible writing, address, instructions for the conveyance of telegrams beyond the telegraph lines, etc., has been accepted for transmission at the Sender's risk.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 hrs. on Thursday, the 16th September 1909, based on the Indian Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The disturbed conditions in northwest India referred to in last week's report continued to give rain in Rajputana, the east and north of the Punjab and Kashmir; but by the morning of the 12th all traces of the disturbance had disappeared. The rest of the week was practically rainless in northwest India. A depression appeared over Bengal on the 13th and the rainfall of the latter half of the week occurred chiefly in its vicinity. It moved in a northwesterly direction and on the 16th was central near Benares. Although it was throughout only a shallow depression it gave general rain over Eastern Bengal and Assam and the province of Bengal, and caused an extension of rainfall into the east of the United Provinces and the east of Central India. Moderate to heavy falls of rain were recorded in Chota Nagpur and the south of Bihar.

Burma.—Rain fell principally on the coast. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded. Temperature was nearly normal.

Northeast India, including Orissa.—Rainfall was scanty in Assam; and over the remainder of the division it was widespread only on the 13th and 14th. Cloud was heavy in the areas affected by the depression referred to above and was light to moderate elsewhere. Temperature was in defect in the western districts during the latter part of the week.

The United Provinces, Central India and the Central Provinces.—Nearly general rain was reported on the 16th from the east of the United Provinces and of Central India; during the rest of the week there were only a few scattered falls. Skies generally were clear or only lightly clouded, but the depression from northeast India gave heavy cloud in the east of Central India and the surrounding districts. Night temperature was in defect in parts, especially in the Central Provinces and Berar.

Northwest India.—Rainfall occurred at the beginning of the week in the east and north of the Punjab, Rajputana and Kashmir, but from the 12th onward practically no rain was reported and skies were clear or only lightly clouded. Temperature was in defect almost throughout the week in Kashmir, the North-West Frontier Province, the Punjab and Rajputana.

The Peninsula.—Rainfall was light and scattered. Skies were lightly to moderately clouded. Temperature was approximately normal.

September 10th. Mergui 2·36", Dhubri 2·50", Murree 2·53", Gulmarg 2·90" and Mount Abu 2·80".

„ 11th. Mergui 2·73", Tavoy 3·76", Moulmein 3·62" and Diamond Island 2·39".

„ 12th. Moulmein 6·05", Diamond Island 2·82", Kyaukpyu 3·60" and Negapatam 2·55".

„ 14th. Darjeeling 2·21", Saugor Island 2·32", Calcutta 2·18", False Point 2·42" and Gorakhpur 3·60".

„ 15th. Hazaribagh 5·13", Gaya 2·94" and Patna 2·27".

The week's rainfall was below the average over the greater part of the country: the only divisions in which it was in excess were Lower Burma, Bengal proper, Chota Nagpur, the United Provinces (east), Kashmir and Rajputana (west). The rainfall of the whole period from the 30th April to the 16th September is 20 per cent or more in defect in the Central Provinces, Central India and Baluchistan; and 20 per cent or more in excess in Bengal proper, the greater part of northwest India, Mysore and the Madras presidency (excluding Malabar).

Burma.—The rainfall has been fairly general except in the dry zone of Upper Burma. Transplanting of the winter rice crop in Lower Burma has been almost completed. In Upper Burma harvesting of autumn sessamum has been completed in some districts and cultivation of winter crops is proceeding satisfactorily. Hill side rice is ripening. Standing crops in Upper Burma are doing well. The winter rice crop of Lower Burma is looking healthy but one district reports that the crop is suffering from want of rain. The prices of unhusked rice and of other produce are steady and normal.

Eastern Bengal and Assam.—The weather was hot and cloudy. There was no rain in Malda. A very scanty fall was received in Faridpur, Bakarganj, Noakhali, Pabna, Cachar, Kamrup, the Garo Hills and Manipur. The fall was heavy in Mymensingh. Harvesting of autumn rice is almost finished and that of jute still continues. Transplanting of winter rice and plucking of tea are in progress. Ploughing of fields for mustard and pulses has commenced. Prospects of tea and jute are fair. Winter rice promises well. The average price of common rice has fallen by about 2 per cent. Cattle disease prevails in several districts.

Bengal.—Rain fell during the week in all districts excepting Gaya, Monghyr and Palamau. In Puri the fall was heavy and in other districts light. More rain is wanted in parts of Shahabad, Saran, Purnea, Angul and Palamau for winter paddy. Harvesting of autumn crops including jute is in progress. Transplantation of paddy continues in some districts Winter paddy and sugarcane are doing well. Low-land crops have been damaged considerably by floods in parts of Burdwan, Hooghly, Howrah and Murshidabad. The price of common rice has risen in Hooghly, Saran, Puri and Sambalpur and has fallen in Jessore, Shahabad, Champaran, Monghyr and Bhagalpur. The price of makai is falling owing to the full harvest already reaped in some districts. Cattle disease is reported from several districts. Fodder is dear in parts of Burdwan owing to the recent floods. The water supply is sufficient throughout the Province.

United Provinces.—The rainfall during the week was inconsiderable on the whole. Harvesting of early autumn crops is in full swing and later crops are being weeded. Land is being prepared for spring sowings. Standing crops are flourishing everywhere. Cattle are in good condition but cattle disease is reported from twenty-seven districts. Markets are well supplied. Prices have fallen in eighteen districts and are almost stationary elsewhere. The number of recipients of valedictory doles in Bahraich are:—on gratuitous relief 2,729. The period of doles ended on the 11th September. Fever is prevalent in many districts.

Punjab.—Heavy to good rain has fallen in the Delhi, Jullundur and Lahore divisions as well as in parts of the Rawalpindi, Lyallpur, Jhang and Multan districts and moderate to light rain in other districts. The heaviest fall (12·13 inches) is reported from Ferozepore. The rainfall was very beneficial on the whole to standing crops which are generally in good condition. Harvesting of certain autumn crops has commenced in some districts and canal irrigated cotton is being picked in Gurgaon. Ploughing for the next spring and sowings of gram, toria, turnips etc., continue in certain districts. Crops are being damaged by grass-hoppers and some other insects in Ambala, Gujranwala and Shahpur and by rats in Ferozepore. River floods and excessive rain have also damaged crops in Rohtak, Gurgaon, Delhi, Lahore, Sialkot, Gujranwala, Shahpur, Jhang and Multan. Prices have shown a decided downward tendency in several districts.

Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient. Complaints of a short water supply continue to be received from the Samundri tahsil of the Lyallpur district.

North-West Frontier Province.—Rain is reported from all districts, ranging from 0·09 inch at Peshawar to 1 inch 32 cents at Tank in Dera Ismail Khan. The showers were beneficial to standing crops. The outturn of fruits and vegetable in Peshawar is average. Water in canals and rivers is sufficient. The health of the people is good but seasonal fever prevails in the Swabi and Charsadda tahsils of Peshawar. The condition of cattle is good except for some cattle disease in one village of the Nowshera tahsil. Fodder is sufficient. Prices are improving slightly. Prices:—wheat 10⅝ to 11½; maize 13¼ to 15$\frac{7}{16}$; gram 13$\frac{11}{16}$ to 15; bajra 13; and barley 19$\frac{11}{16}$ seers per rupee.

Cattle disease of mild type prevails in six tahsils. Fodder is sufficient. Land is being prepared in the Maidan tahsils for the reception of seed for the next spring harvest.

Kashmir.—The weather was bright except that it was rainy for two days. About 180 square miles have been flooded on either bank of the river and crops have been much damaged in the Kandi circles. Some crops have also suffered from excessive rains. Some difficulty is experienced in procuring fodder in the riverain tracts. Prices of shali and other grains have risen temporarily. There is no disease among cattle.

Rajputana.—Rain fell throughout the Agency. The maximum fall was 485 cents in Kishangarh and the minimum 20 cents in Tonk. Standing crops and prospects are good. Harvesting has commenced in the Hilly Tracts of Mewar, Kotah and Bharatpur. Land is being ploughed for spring crops in most places. Damage by insects is reported in parts of Mewar. The condition of cattle is good except in parts of Mewar, Karauli and Merwara. Pasturage and fodder are ample. Prices are steady or falling throughout except in Partabgarh.

Re-sown til in Hoshangabad, juar in Nimar and rice in Chanda and Raipur have been damaged slightly by insects and rust. Crops in parts of the Wun tahsil in Yeotmal became yellow owing to the previous excessive rain. Standing crops are in good condition and prospects are favourable; but more rain is required in Jubbulpore, Seoni, Narsinghpur and the principal rice growing districts, especially in Chhattisgarh. Fodder and water are adequate. Cattle are doing well. The prices of all food grains remained steady or fell slightly. Juar in Nimar and Buldana, rice in Bhandara and gram in Balaghat fell by 1 to 2 seers per rupee. Juar fell by 3 seers in Betul.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 hrs. on Thursday, the 23rd September 1909, based on the Indian Daily Weather Reports of the period.

Pressure was low in Burma at the beginning of the week, and a depression appeared in the interior districts causing the Bay current to concentrate its rainfall in that province at the expense of northeast India. On the 19th the depression moved westwards into the north of the Bay and travelling in a westerly direction gave moderately heavy rain in the province of Bengal (excluding Bihar), the Central Provinces and Berar. On the 23rd it was shown as a very shallow diffused depression lying over the west of the Central Provinces. The rainfall of the week was above the average in the divisions affected by the depression and on the Konkan coast, but was in general defect over the rest of the Indian region. The Arabian Sea current strengthened on the 20th and from that date rainfall was of daily occurrence on the west coast of the peninsula.

Burma.—Fairly general rain was reported on the 19th: on the remaining days rainfall occurred chiefly in Lower Burma. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded. Mean temperature was approximately normal.

Northeast India, including Orissa.—Assam was practically rainless and in the rest of the division rain fell chiefly in the latter half of the week. Skies were moderately to heavily clouded on most days in deltaic Bengal and Orissa, and were clear or only lightly clouded in the northern districts. Maximum temperature was generally in excess in Assam and the north of Eastern Bengal.

The United Provinces, Central India and the Central Provinces.—Only scattered showers occurred in the east of the United Provinces and Central India, but at the end of the week the depression from the Bay gave nearly general rain in the Central Provinces. Skies were clear or only lightly clouded in the United Provinces and lightly to heavily clouded elsewhere. Weather was cooler than usual in the Central Provinces.

Northwest India.—Surat was the only station that reported rain, and skies were free from cloud over the greater part of the division. Temperature was normal or in defect, the deficiency occurring chiefly in Rajputana.

The Peninsula.—Rainfall was of daily occurrence on the west coast from the 19th: it also occurred at the end of the week in Hyderabad and the south of the Bombay Deccan. Skies were clear or only lightly clouded up to the 20th, when cloud increased and became moderate to heavy for the rest of the week. Temperature did not differ much from the normal.

September 17th. Benares 1·93, Trichinopoly 1·80" and Cuddalore 2·92".

" 18th. Port Blair 2·05", Mergui 5·36", Tavoy 4·82", Moulmein 2·80", Toungoo 2·83" and Lashio 2·12".

September 19th. Port Blair 4·29", Mergui 3·22" and Tavoy 2·75".

" 20th. Akyab 2·80", Monywa 1·83", Berhampore 2·57" and False Point 2·50".

" 21st. Moulmein 3·67", Minbu 3·15", Saugor Island 2·78", Calcutta 2·50", Berhampore 2·07", Balasore 2·37" and Chaibassa 3·00".

" 22nd. Bassein 2·50", Akyab 3·60", Ranchi 2·32", Sambalpur 5·62", Raipur 4·05" and Bombay 2·05".

" 23rd. Akola 2·11", Amraoti 2·61", Seoni 2·86", Nagpur 2·24" and Chanda 2·10".

The week's rainfall has had the effect of decreasing the deficiency shown last week in seasonal rainfall in the Central Provinces, but in Central India and Baluchistan rainfall continues 20 per cent or more in defect. These are however the only areas in which the deficiency amounts to as much as 20 per cent. An excess of 20 per cent or more is shown in Bengal proper, Rajputana, the east and north of the Punjab, the North-West Frontier Province, Mysore, the Madras Deccan and the southeast of Madras.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 18th September 1909.

Burma.—The rainfall during the week was practically general. It was heavy along the Arakan coast; light in the dry zone; and moderate elsewhere. Transplanting of winter rice is completed in most districts and is approaching completion in the rest. Reaping of autumn sesamum and sowing of winter sesamum continue. In Prome and parts of Thayetmyo, crops are in want of rain. In Katha, higher lands have been left fallow owing to insufficient rain. In Tharrawaddy, crops in inundated tracts have been largely destroyed by floods. In Maubin, floods have partly subsided. In Myaungmya, slight damage has been done by insects in two townships. In Thaton and Amherst, areas which were destroyed by floods are being replanted but in Pegu only partial replanting in flooded tracts has been found possible and is in progress. The probable area destroyed by floods in Kyaukse is now reported at about 34,000 acres. On the whole crop prospects continue to be good. The price of unhusked rice has fallen considerably in two districts. Variations are inconsiderable in five districts and prices are stationary elsewhere.

Eastern Bengal and Assam.—The rainfall during the week was scanty and the mean temperature has risen considerably. Prospects of tea have been greatly improved. Darrang, Nowgong, Lakhimpur and Kamrup want more rain for winter rice. Reaping of jhum rice in the hills and ploughing of fields for mustard and pulses in the plains have commenced. Harvesting of jute and transplantation of winter rice are nearly finished. Plucking of tea continues. Prospects of standing crops are, on the whole, fair. The average price of common rice has fallen by one per cent. Cattle disease prevails in several districts.

Bengal.—The rainfall during the week was general. It was heavy in Manbhum and also in Hazaribagh; moderate in the 24-Parganas, Darjeeling and Ranchi; and light elsewhere. More rain is wanted for winter paddy in Bhagalpur, Purnea, Angul and Sambalpur. (1) In the case of a firm, the ordinary designation of the firm should be entered in column 1.

(2) If the person or firm making the return has several places of residence or business they should all be mentioned in column 2, the principal place of residence or business being specified.

(3) Column 3 should show all sources and amounts of income, specifying separately those chargeable under Parts I, II, III and IV of Schedule II of the Act, and the number of shares in such income and the names of sharers. In this column should be entered in detail every separate source of income accruing and arising in British India. Salaries, pensions, annuities and gratuities are chargeable under Part I, interest on Government and other securities under Part III, and other sources of income, including the rental value of buildings occupied by owners calculated under section 24 of the Act, are chargeable under Part IV of Schedule II of the Act.

(4) In column 4 should be entered the gross income accruing and arising during the year ending on the day on which the person's accounts have been last made up or if the person's accounts have not been made up within the year ending on the 31st day of March in the year immediately preceding that for which the assessment is to be made, then during the year ending on the 31st day of March. In this column, the period during which the income from each source has been derived should be specified.

(5) Against the gross receipts, no deductions should be made on account of disbursements or expenses not wholly and exclusively incurred in respect of the profits returned; nor on account of any public or local rates, cesses or taxes, nor on account of the maintenance of the assessee himself or his family or domestic establishment.

(6) A deduction for the purpose of securing a deferred annuity or a provision for wife or children or a payment to a Life Insurance Company should not be excluded from column 4, but should be included in the column headed "Total deductions" and supported in the insurances case by a receipt for such deduction or payment.

(a) In the case of Trades or Professions.

(1) Sums actually expended in the repairs of implements, utensils or articles used solely for the purpose of the profession or trade.

(2) Sums expended in insuring or keeping insured the buildings, machinery and plant, implements and stock used for the purpose of the profession or trade. The deduction is confined to the premia (including subscriptions, etc.) paid during the year upon the income accruing in which the tax is assessed.

(3) The amount of rent paid for any premises exclusively used for such profession or trade.

N. B.—Where they are not exclusively used for such profession or trade, only a fair proportion of such rent is admissible for deduction.

(4) The amount actually expended on repairs and renewals of such premises, if the repairs and renewals are at the cost of the assessee. The assessee must be prepared to prove the amount spent by means of vouchers.

(5) The amount expended as salaries of persons employed solely and exclusively in the profession or trade. When a firm has transactions both in and out of India and realizes profit in both by means of an establishment maintained in India in common for both, only a proportionate deduction is allowed (the exact proportion of which will be determined by the assessing officer in each case).

(6) The amount of any loss in trade or of the stock in trade actually written off during the year. In cases where there is loss in one trade or profession and profit in another, the loss may be set off against the profits, and any excess loss deducted. So also loss under any one part of the schedule may be set off against income under any other part.

(7) The amount of any bad debts for the first time ascertained and written off the accounts as such during the year. (The debts should be written off in the personal ledger of each debtor by adjustment to both credit and debit sides.)

(8) Interest paid on borrowed capital. The assessee may be required to satisfy the assessing officer that only capital actually employed in his trade is taken into account in this connection.

N. B.—The nature of the charge and the amount incurred under each should be distinctly demonstrable.

(13) Such amount as may be actually set apart from the profits of the year for depreciation up to a limit of 10 per cent. on the value of the machinery and plant.

N. B.—Care should be taken to see that the deduction allowed represents the repairs and depreciation of only one year, i. e., the year the income of which is assessed.

(b) In cases of houses owned and let by the owner for rent.

(1) Sums expended in insuring or keeping insured such houses, the deduction being confined only to the premia (including subscriptions, etc.) paid during the year upon the income accruing in which the tax is assessed.

(2) Actual expenditure during the year on repairs and renewal of houses, if such repairs are at the cost of the assessee, but not depreciation in the value of such buildings.

(3) Sums expended in collecting the rent not exceeding 6 per cent. of the gross rental. The deduction applies only to direct payments.

(4) Any interest payable to a mortgagee not in possession, whether the interest has or has not been actually paid during the year.

(5) Any rent paid on account of such houses.

(c) In cases of houses occupied by the owner for dwelling purposes under section 24 of Act II of 1886.

(1) When buildings are occupied by their owners as dwelling houses, five-sixths of the estimated annual rent thereof shall be added to the net income under Part IV and the sum total assessed, provided that, where five-sixths of the annual rental value exceeds 10 per cent. of the assessee's income from all sources whether taxable or not, the excess shall be deducted from the five-sixths of the rental value and the remainder added to the net income under Part IV.

(2) Houses reserved for the use of the owner, but not occupied by him during the period which serves as the basis of the assessment.

N. B.—The term renewal as used in the return refers only to such works as are intended to put the building into the same state as it was in when it was originally constructed, while any additional accommodation provided or any material alteration to the plan of the building shall be treated as an addition.

When a portion of the house is occupied by the owner and the remainder let out on hire, the portions should be treated as if they were separate houses and deductions allowed accordingly, i. e., either a sixth of the annual rent value or actual expenditure on repairs and renewals, as the case may be.

EXAMPLES OF DEDUCTIONS FROM THE GROSS RECEIPTS WHICH ARE NOT ADMISSIBLE.

(1) Amounts expended by vakils on the purchase of law books and stationery.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE IN INDIA

Simla, the 16th September 1909.

The following Prospectus of Short Courses in Practical Agriculture and its allied subjects to be given as a temporary measure at the Pusa Agricultural College and Central Research Institute is published for general information :—

SHORT COURSES IN PRACTICAL AGRICULTURE AND IN OTHER ALLIED PRACTICAL SUBJECTS AT PUSA.

The function of the Pusa College in the general scheme of Agricultural Education in India has been defined as that of a Higher Teaching Institution and Research Station for post-graduate agricultural students and for advanced science students particularly from Indian Universities.

At the present stage of development of the Provincial Agricultural Colleges it also seems necessary for the Pusa Institute and Estate to assist Provinces and Native States by instituting short courses of instruction in special branches of agriculture or in simple industries connected with agriculture. There are new facilities at Pusa for thorough instruction in the subjects referred to. Such instruction cannot well be given in other parts of India for at least some years ; therefore I hope that a hearty response will be given to the proposals which I note below. The short courses which I propose are broadly defined in a Syllabus for each subject which is appended hereto. I attach the greatest importance to the value of these courses. There is an undoubted demand for them, but it is impossible to get at present elsewhere in India such simple technical instruction except as a part of much longer courses. The instruction will be essentially practical in character and will require no scientific training and not even a knowledge of English. It would, however, be an advantage if the men had all a fair general education.

Men who have not the instincts of the profession which they are following or propose to follow, will not be accepted. I desire to admit in particular to Pusa for these courses men who are boná-fide agriculturists or malis by caste.

The courses will be suitable for men of the subordinate staff of all the Agricultural Departments, and will be open to private individuals who are engaged or propose to engage in the special branches of agriculture and allied subjects dealt with. It is not possible at first to take more than nine students in each subject at one time, but several subjects can be simultaneously taken up by the same students.

A recommendation by a Director of Agriculture or any other authorized authority will be accepted in regard to any application for admission, if the applicant is certified to be of good character and in robust health.

Free quarters of a very simple but sufficient character will be provided.

Students will have to pay all travelling and personal expenses. The latter at Pusa need not exceed R15 per mensem and might easily be less.

No books will be required.

It is proposed to start classes as soon as possible ; so applications, should be addressed to the Director and Principal, Agricultural Research Institute, Pusa, Bengal, at as early a date as possible.

SYLLABUS OF SHORT COURSES.

Section of Agriculture.

(1) Cattle Breeding and Management.—The course will occupy three months. It will deal with the general management of breeding herds and of milch and draught cattle and will include simple instruction in the recognition, treatment and prevention of the more common diseases. The Second Imperial Entomologist will deal with the principal insect pests of cattle, the part which they play as disease carriers and methods of treatment. Courses will commence in October and January.

(2) Poultry Management.—This will be a three months' course and will include instruction from the Second Imperial Entomologist in the treatment of the insect pests of poultry. Courses will commence in October and January.

(3) Dairying.—This is intended to be a complete course extending over six months, in up-to-date dairying.

(4) Tillage Implements and Agricultural Machinery.—Training will be given in the principles of construction and in the handling of the common Indian and European tillage implements and agricultural machinery, including ploughs, drills, cultivators, waterlifts, steam engine, oil engine, etc. Arrangements have been made for a complete collection at Pusa of all useful indigenous agricultural machinery, implements and tools. The course will occupy three months and will commence in October or January.

Section of Economic Botany.

(5) Fruit growing.—The course will be an eight months' one and will deal with :—

(d) Evaporating, drying and preserving.

The course will begin each year on the 1st of October and will last till the end of May.

Section of Entomology.

(6) Eri-silk as a Cottage Industry.—The course will occupy about three months and will commence in October and January. It includes rearing and spinning. If dyeing and weaving is to be learnt, three months more would be required.

(7) Lac Cultivation as an adjunct to ordinary agriculture.—The training can be given only from May 15th to June 15th or September 20th to October 20th. These dates vary a little according to the season as lac does not always come out regularly. The training includes pruning and handling of trees, inoculation of lac, harvesting, scraping and washing. It covers the whole industry to the production of seed lac and is exclusive of the production of shellac.

(8) Mulberry Silk Culture.—The course would include rearing, selection of disease-free eggs, reeling and the utilization of waste cocoons. Instruction would also be given in the varieties of silk worm. Silk twisting (spinning) and dyeing with the simpler forms of weaving could be taught. The course would occupy six months if it ended at the reeling, nine months if it included twisting, dyeing and weaving of simpler fabrics. The training would cover only the ordinary existing methods, not improved methods of reeling or the more complex forms of weaving. The course will commence on June 15th each year.
